"THE PLAYS THE THING" Theatrical Attractions Present and Future

THEATRICAL DIRECTORY
MAJESTIC—Vaudeville and Moving Pictures.
COLONIAL—"The Bondman."
REGENT—"Audrey."
VICTORIA—"The Writing on the Wall."
HARRISBURG ACADEMY—Saturday, May 27, "The Taming of the Shrew."

PLAYS AND PLAYERS
Charlie Chaplin is evidently not the all-powerful demigod that he imagined himself, judging from the unfavorable decision just handed down by Justice Hutchins, of the Supreme Court of New York, with reference to the Esplanade company, "Charlie Chaplin's Esplanade or 'Carmen'."
The Justice denied Chaplin's application for an injunction to restrain the V. L. S. E. from distributing the comedy in question and moreover declared that Chaplin will have to answer to an action brought by the Esplanade people to recover $500,000 damages which they claim to have lost through his breach of contract.

Money may "make the mare go," but it doesn't allow a motion picture actor to do entirely "as he goes-dam-pleases."
Doing two things at the same time is an accomplishment any person can be justly proud of.
That's probably the reason Ann Pennington, the famous Players' Paramount star, feels so well pleased with herself, as she has been granted the opportunity of remaining on the stage and playing in pictures at the same time.
"Charming Ann, of diminutive size, is making 'Susie Snowflake' for the Paramount Program at the Famous Players Studio. Her contract calls for her to play one of the leading parts in Ziegfeld's next production, despite the fact that Famous Players exclusively control her screen services.

LOCAL THEATERS
Pauline Frederick, in the title role of "Audrey," is the attraction at the Regent.
Miss Frederick is, of course, the wife, backward and left by him in keep of the child, attractive as a grown-up, meets with her benefactor at the May Day frolics, but it would have been better for her to have been left to die than to bear the stammer and insults which the gossip soon associate with her because of her acquaintance with the nobleman.
But true love, in novels, as in photographs, always comes to its own, and in the end Audrey is made happy in the love of Howard.
To-morrow the special attraction will be the return engagement of "The Typhoon," in which Susue Hayakawa is featured. In this production Mr. Hayakawa is even better than in "The Cheat."

To-day's presentation, Joseph Kilgore and Virginia Pearson in the five-part Blue Ribbon feature entitled "The Writing on the Wall," is said to be a sort of motion picture play and one that tells a story that is a delightful musical comedy that is appealing at the Majestic the last half of this week. Miss Mable Lee Leture, who is featured with Mr. Foley, will be seen in the role of "Cynthia Jayson." The "Dairy Maids" is one of those refreshing musical shows that will please all classes of theatergoers. Deiro, the celebrated piano accordionist, also occupies an important place on the bill. Completing the bill are Archer and Belford in a comedy sketch entitled, "The New Jargon." Harry and Anna Seymour, man and woman, in a comedy singing and talking comedy act, and Kramer and Morton, two men in a blackface singing and talking comedy act.

The summer theatrical season at the Paxtang Park Theater will open to-morrow evening with a home-talent minstrel performance by the Capital City Minstrels. This organization is composed of all the best local talent and includes such performers as George Martin, The Brownie Trio, William Boyer, Ed. Winn, John Bessing, and many others who have achieved distinction on both the amateur and professional stage.
Special features will be introduced by George Martin and Fred Milligan and the Brownie Trio, while two negro comedy sketches, entitled "Uncle Eben's Return" and "Auntie Skinner's Chicken Dinner," will contribute much fun to an elaborate olio program. Ed King, novelty gymnast, formerly with the Barnum and Bailey Show, will also be featured in the olio.
All the park amusement places will be open for business on Friday evening. Many improvements have been made by the concessionists in their various places of business, and a great season is looked for by the man who has swum with the park. The new swimming pool will be completed and open to the public on May 30.

In presenting "The Bondman," William Fox claims it to be one of his best photoplays.
"The Bondman" is from the famous novel by Hal Caine, author of "The Christian" and "The Eternal City." William Farnum will appear in the leading role as Jason, a man who has sworn to kill his father for deserting his mother, but in the end he gives his life for the man he has sworn to kill. Henry B. Warner is billed to appear Friday and Saturday in a new piece production, "The Beggar of Cawnpore," a society drama which tells of a young officer in the British Army Medical Corps, deserted by his native assistants, who believe the place infested with cholera, and is left alone far out on the desert. The horror of it gets on his nerves so that he seeks relief of morphine in his cabinet. Later he becomes the victim of the terrible drug, and in a short while he loses everything, and becomes the associate of beggars and thieves of Cawnpore, and himself the most disreputable of all. Here he is found by his sweetheart, and the terrible drug makes it impossible to come the drug makes one of the most powerful and thrilling pictures shown at the popular playhouse in some time. An all-star Keystone cast in "His Last Laugh," is the comedy feature for the week-end.

This Skin Peeler All the Rage in Society

There is a growing tendency among women of culture and fashion to pay more attention to hygienic means of preserving their charms. The advent of mercerized wax doubtless has been largely responsible for this. This remarkable substance produces complexion so natural in appearance, so magnetically beautiful, artificial complexions are no longer desired. Instead of "doctoring" an offensive skin, the skin is peeled off. The wax peels the skin so gradually, in such fine particles, no discomfort is experienced. The fresher, younger skin beneath, wholly in evidence within a week or two, is like white, satiny soft and smooth. It's not a patched-over complexion, but a brand new one. That's why mercerized wax has become such a rage among social folk. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off morning. All druggists have it; one ounce will do.
Another hygienic treatment now much in favor is one to remove wrinkles, made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1/2 pint witch hazel. Used as a wash lotion it "acts like magic."—Advertisement.

BISURATED MAGNESIA
Neutralizes excess acid; instantly relieves indigestion; heartburn, belching, sour stomach, etc. One teaspoonful in a little water after eating. Pleasant; wholesome; inexpensive; at all druggists everywhere, in either powder or tablet form.
