HAIR GRAY? THEN APPLY Q-BAN
It Darkens Gray Hair Evenly—No Dye—Harmless

Actually does—so you can see it with your own eyes—turn every gray hair in your head beautifully dark. If your hair is gray, streaked with gray, prematurely or just turning gray, or if your hair is dry, harsh, thin or falling, simply shampoo hair and scalp a few times with Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. Every strand of hair (whether gray or not) then becomes evenly dark, soft, lustrous, fluffy, full of life and health, full and heavy and fascinating, and so beautifully and evenly darkened no one could suspect you had applied Q-Ban. It is absolutely harmless and no dye. Ready to use, nothing to be added. Give it a trial. 50c for a big bottle at Geo. A. Gorgas' Drug Store, Harrisburg, Pa. HOPELESSLY HURT MEN EXCHANGED Germans and Austrians Sent From Russia; Constant Line of Trains

Stockholm, Sweden, May 29.—Clad in great coats of West Point gray, the first of the hopelessly wounded German and Austrian prisoners of war to come out of Russia this year, passed through Sweden a few days ago in exchange for the helpless and hapless Russians who had been sent home from the German hospital camps. The Austrians and Germans were a more cheerful lot than the stolid, silent Russians and seemed to have a more definite idea of their future life. "It is nothing," said one young Austrian with his right leg gone and two fearful scars on his face; "I am a jeweler by trade and my hands are as good as ever." The exchange of wounded prisoners undertaken by the Swedish Red Cross is a gigantic affair. Effective May 15 three trains running weekly in each direction from the Finnish frontier to the southern reaches of the Baltic can handle but comparatively few of the men so hopelessly used up that the warring nations are glad to get rid of them. Some statisticians claiming to have knowledge of the situation has declared that with trains running daily all the year round it would take ten years to complete the transport of the human wastrel of war now held in Russia and Germany. "Must Be Millions" One of the wounded Austrians on the first train coming from Russia

WOMAN SO WEAK COULD NOT SLEEP Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

North Oxford, Mass.—"I had lost three children and I was all run down and so weak I could not sleep at night. My eyesight would leave me and everything I ate upset my stomach. I was very nervous and if I would start to sweep I would have to stop and lie down before I could finish. I was looking over the paper one day and read of a woman who felt as I did and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I took it too. Now I am proud to tell you I am feeling fine and have given birth to a boy baby. He is my 'Pinkham' baby. I keep a bottle of Compound in my house always."—Mrs. PETER MARCO, Box 54, North Oxford, Mass. Sleeplessness, indigestion, weakness, and nervousness are symptoms which indicate a lowered vitality of the female organism, and the tonic, strengthening properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs, contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are just what is needed by every woman who is in Mrs. Marco's condition. For free advice in regard to any annoying symptom write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

was asked how many of his comrades were left in Russia. "Oh," he replied, "there must be a million of them." This prisoner said he had been "all over Russia" and that few war prisoners, either wounded or whole of skin and limb, were permitted to remain in one camp more than a month or two. He was wounded in August last and said he must have been in every hospital camp from Vladivostok to Petrograd. There was one young soldier from Pragus, Bohemia, who had had a terrible experience. He was in a charge when a shrapnel shell burst just beneath him. The horse was killed and the rider was wounded 21 times. Seven times he was placed on the operating table. He emerged with one leg gone and the other so broken, bent and twisted that it but little resembled human form. And yet the man had pleaded with the doctors for that remnant of a limb. They wanted to cut it off, too, as well as my right hand, but I heard them talking and I said, 'Please, good Mr. Doctor, don't cut off my other leg and my hand! At last they let me go,' he said. The hand was scarred in many places but seemed otherwise to be perfectly useful. But in time of war amputation is such an effective and expeditious treatment. Maimed and Mangled Each man of the 217 on board the train from Russia had his own thrilling story to tell. Each one had tasted the utmost of the bitterness of war and some seemed so badly maimed and mangled that even death had refused to accept them. There was one poor fellow moving about the train with sheepskin pads on his knees and both feet gone. "Me no go any more," he smiled in broken English when he learned that The Associated Press correspondent on board the hospital train was an American. "And boom, boom, boom no good either," he added, mimicking the roar of battle. This man had lain wounded for days with his feet in a half frozen stream. When found he was more dead than alive. Up to the time he lost consciousness he said he must have been lying out of doors for six or seven days. At this time he heard the screech and roar of shells passing above his head and occasionally exploding about him. Anyone of them, he said, would have been a welcome relief to his agony. But now he was smiling and cheerful on his way "home." He did not know what he could do when he got there for he had been a horse-shoer by trade and a horse-shoer without feet is not of much account. Some of the prisoners complained bitterly of their treatment at the hands of the Russians, but the more intelligent of the wounded soldiers declared that while their lots had been hard they realized the Russians had done all they possibly could under the circumstances. There were the days of exposure on the battlefields which could not be helped, the poor field accommodations for the wounded, who had to be cared for in far greater numbers than anyone had ever anticipated, and the hours of neglect due to the fact that the doctors had more work than they could possibly handle. Blood Was His Bed One prisoner said he lay on the floor of a house or stable for two days and the only soft thing about him was his own blood. His uniform had been entirely shot away by the explosive which had cost him a leg. Some of the soldiers said they had been robbed by Cossacks as they lay wounded in the field, money and little trinkets of jewelry being ruthlessly snatched from them. It became a custom, the Austrians said, for the wounded to turn their pockets inside out as they lay upon the frozen ground to show they had nothing and thus escape a bayonet thrust. The Swedish doctors in charge of the hospital trains listen to these stories with indulgent smiles. They say undoubtedly there have been cases of great hardship, but the wounded soldier as a rule is very keen for sympathy and talks accordingly. There were two pitiful cases of tuberculosis on the train. The sands of life were fast running out of the class for one of these, but he seemed to grow a bit stronger as the train neared Trelleborg where the prisoners were to be transferred to a German hospital transport. "ARTISTIC TEMPERAMENT" LEADS TO $20,000 SUITS Atlantic City, May 29.—To curb the artistic temperament of Giovanni Zenatello, tenor, Emerson L. Richards, attorney for a Broadway playhouse, has filed two suits for $10,000 each against the singer. Zenatello and his wife, according to the management of the theater, refused to sing last night unless they received their pay in advance. There was no performance and the audience received its money back at the box office. "Zenatello refused to sing unless he was paid in advance," Richards declared today. "The house management refused and suggested a check. After several hours of argument Zenatello agreed to accept the check. Then he discovered the excitement had affected his throat so that he could not sing." FORD PLANS NEW PEACE TRIP Detroit, May 29.—Henry Ford, who organized the peace expedition which sailed for Europe last winter, may return to Europe to renew his efforts to bring about peace among the warring nations. This possibility was made public by Theodore Lavigne, who is in close touch with Mr. Ford. He said Mr. Ford may sail for Stockholm about June 15. Gaston Plantiff, who was left in charge of the peace party when Mr. Ford was taken ill last winter, has been here for some time. It was said he will sail for Europe on June 1. CAR KILLS GUARDSMAN Reading, Pa., May 29.—Luther W. Zellers, 21 years old, one of three National Guardsmen caught on a high trestle bridge over the Schuylkill river late last night by a trolley car, was knocked into the river and drowned. The others escaped by hanging to the ties under the track. The men were walking home to Reading after a company hike. PINNED BENEATH OVERTURNED AUTO York, Pa., May 29.—When his automobile upset yesterday on the Gettysburg Pike, Clyde Kellholtz, of this city, was pinned beneath the car and seriously injured. He lost control of the car when blinded by the dust raised by a machine in front.

FARM PRODUCE IS WORTH MILLIONS Greater in Value Than the Coal Output of the State Say Some Folks Pennsylvania, noted throughout the world for its coal and iron and steel production, annually supplies foodstuffs and other materials from its farms which are worth more than any other output. Figures compiled at the State Department of Agriculture indicate that the value of the farm products of the Keystone State for 1915 will approximate $400,000,000, which, in the opinion of people at the Capitol, is greater than the value at the mines of the coal output of a few years ago. One-tenth of this sum is spent annually in wages for male help, the latest statistics compiled showing that last year farmers paid $39,953,029 for men and boys to work on the farm. Female help on the farm is estimated to receive $3,972,000. The average amount spent by each farmer for male help is $176. The average amount spent by each farmer in the various counties varies from $59 a year in Cameron county and $60 in Armstrong and Venango counties to $538 in Philadelphia county and $400 in Delaware and $380 in Chester county. Lancaster county with its 10,000 farmers pays out annually $3,629,725, while Bucks county ranks second with an outlay of $2,197,500, and Chester third with $2,153,050. Six other counties pay out over a million dollars, as follows: Allegheny, $1,176,760; Berks, $1,877,310; Franklin, $1,096,500; Montgomery, $1,570,454; Westmoreland, $1,036,256; York, $1,497,420. Philadelphia, May 29.—Munitions are being shipped through this port in the largest volume ever known. No fewer than six vessels are in port or bound to this port to load ammunition powder and other explosives. In addition to these vessels, another British steamship is here to take 1200 horses and 3500 tons of steel billets. Cargoes of war supplies alone, it is estimated, will total more than $20,000,000.
