MOTORS HEAD SPECIAL LIST

Strength of Reading and Lehigh Valley Form Basis of Improvement

By Associated Press
 New York, May 29. — Prices hardened late, the strength of Reading and Lehigh Valley especially through the latter, forming the basis of general improvement. Motors continued to move in the special list although the movement in that group was most conflicting.

Willis-Overland gained six points with almost five for Chandler Motors to the new record of 10 1/2 on its increased dividend while General Motors slumped 57 points to 462. Among inactive issues Loose-Viles first, pfd., was prominent for its rise of seven points. Business fell away noticeably on the better tendency and at midday the market was almost motionless. Bonds were firm.
