PLAYS AND PLAYERS
 A ghost story is to be a Triangle-Keystone comedy. Ford Sterling will head the cast.
 "One of the disadvantages of vaudeville," observed Lillian Kingsbury, who has just completed a season on the Western circuit, "is that it entails an obligation on my part to contribute largely to the support of a large number of inconsequential persons for which I have no affection whatever, which things considered, is as good a definition of the stage grafter as could be given."
 Ormi Hawley was going home in a street car the other day. It was the rush hour and the car was crowded. Every time the car started or stopped she lurched back into the arms of a big man, who, also, was standing.
 "Excuse me, Miss, but hadn't you better stay here," the man said quietly on the last lurch.

Former star of the stage, who will be seen in the Morosco-Paramount production of "The Tangle."

Opens at Paxtang
 The Colonial Montrose Troup as the feature attraction, has been engaged for the opening week. The Montrose Troup, with seven people in the cast, is an European acrobatic and musical creation, presenting a combination that is a rare novelty.
 Beltrah and Beltrah, in a musical offering entitled "The Musical Diary," have been seen in the Harrisburg play-houses before, and their excellent production of Francois Millet, the Angelus, is one of the good bits of vaudeville.
 A classy comedy sketch, entitled "On the Rocks," played by Anderson and Evans, Harold West, monologist, and Bob Warren, in "Sister Jen's Brother," will complete the bill.
 Following the custom of previous seasons, ladies will be admitted to the theater free on Monday evenings, and more than 500 seats have been reserved for their benefit.
 With the exception of holidays, children under 12 will be admitted free to all matinees.
 Local theatergoers have another opportunity of witnessing a big musical comedy tabloid at popular prices. The Majestic is presenting "The Sunny Side of Broadway" as the first half of this week, with the well-known comedian, Max Bloom, and Alice Sher, a Parisienne soubrette, together with a surrounding company of twenty-two people. It is claimed to be a real musical comedy, beautifully staged, gorgeously costumed and with wonderful electrical effects, and pretty girls of the most refined types. Much attention has been paid even to the smallest detail, hence, every little thing is just as perfect as it can be. The gowns that Miss Sher wears during the act are said to cause much complimentary talk among the feminine portion of the audience, for this artist not only designed her own costumes, but also the chorus costumes.
 To-day's presentation is the Metro-Bushman production, "The Wall Between." Beverly Bayne is the leading woman. The third Victoria number of that remarkable theater series, "Who's Guilty" will also be shown, together with the Hearst-Vitagraph News Pictorial. To-morrow "Sealed Lips," featuring William Courtney.

Douglas Fairbanks is going to appear at the Colonial Theater to-day and to-morrow in "The Good Bad Man" a comedy drama in five reels, and feature in which he has ever appeared. The new vehicle is a comedy drama in five reels, entitled "The Good Bad Man." Now, to proposition, but Fairbanks is said to know just how to get away with it in a manner both entertaining and amusing. In this photoplay he is called "Passin' Thru," a highwayman, said to be so bad that he will actually hold up an express train, just to rob the conductor of his ticket-punch, and during the picture he takes great delight in punching the coat-tails of all other bad men he meets, to show them how bad he really is. Interwoven in this clever comedy drama is a delightful love romance, which starts trouble for "Passin' Thru." Charles Murray will add another half hour of laughter to the performance, by presenting a new Keystone comedy that is said to be thrilling and laughs in every foot of film. The new comedy is called "Her Marble Heart." A typical Keystone cast will support Mr. Murray in this comedy.
 Blanche Sweet will be seen at the Regent to-day and to-morrow in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Sowers," a drama of Russian political intrigue founded upon Henry Seton Merriman's novel of the same name.

What Do You Know About The Maxwell Car?

THIS is the time of the year when more people are considering the question of "what car to buy" than at any other time of the year.

This community has its full share of people who will soon be driving their first car or a new car to replace the old one.

Now, we know that we are going to sell Maxwell Cars to a great many of these people—depending upon how many we are able to acquaint with the merits of the Maxwell.

The generous value offered in the car is so evident—its past record is so full of good performance—owners speak so well of it—that when the buyer knows these things, he is eager to buy a Maxwell.

In order to tell as many people as possible about the merits of the Maxwell Car we are going to spend a lot of money in the next few weeks in this paper advertising Maxwell merits to those who do not know them.

The reason—we want to sell as many Maxwells as possible this season. Our future allotments will depend upon how many Maxwells we sell now.

You may know that the Maxwell market is a buyer's market, not a seller's market—broadly speaking. The demand for Maxwells the country over is greater than the supply.

For this reason cars are allotted to dealers by the factory according to the size of the dealer's business.

We want to make a showing and be in a position to get a generous allotment of Maxwells hereafter. Because the more Maxwells are sold in any community, the greater is the future demand. We realize the opportunity to do an ever-increasing Maxwell business.

This is only the first of the several messages we are going to print—a few days apart—concerning the Maxwell Car. But we don't expect to be able to adequately present Maxwell merits in printed words alone.

If you are one who is going to buy a new car you will find it decidedly to your advantage to find out all you can about the Maxwell before you place your order.

Come in and talk it over with us and let us demonstrate the car to you. Then, don't take our word alone, but ask those who now own Maxwells.

Get "posted" about the Maxwell and you will realize more satisfaction and get more "value received" for your motor car money than ever before.

And we are just as willing to have you investigate other cars just as fully as you do ours. The Maxwell will not suffer by the comparison.

Why not start your Maxwell investigation today?

 Ben Greet Performers Enact Shakespeare Comedy, Baccalaureate
 Playing under difficulties offered by an intermittent rainstorm, the Ben Greet performers on Saturday evening gave "The Taming of the Shrew" before a small audience on the campus of the Harrisburg Academy. This was the only public performance which has occurred in this city to link Harrisburg up with the Shakespeare tercentenary celebration marking the anniversary of the three hundredth year since the death of the world's greatest playwright.
 An attractive background of green provided the woodland setting in which each of the acts was played and the fact that the stage was built upon the incline just beyond the tennis courts gave every one in the audience a splendid view of the players. The entire cast interpreted their parts with skill and a proper appreciation of values. In spite of the rainfall few of the spectators sought permanent shelter and the action of the play was not held up.
 The graduating class of the Academy, twenty-seven in number, occupied special seats in Pine Street Presbyterian Church last evening to hear the baccalaureate address. Dr. Mudge chose as his subject "The Battle for the Best" and dwelt on their future work in college and after, offering helpful advice and making many valuable suggestions.

UNIFORMITY IN REPORTS CERTAIN

Public Service Commission to Unite With Other Branches of Government

Only enactment of a law to enable the State Bureau of Railways, a branch of the Department of Internal Affairs, to require railroads to make reports for twelve months ending December 31 is now needed to make practically all State reports from corporations for calendar year periods. This information is contained in a letter just sent to the Inter-State Commerce Commission by Chairman W. D. B. Ainey, of the Public Service Commission, who has been

In consultation with the departments of Internal Affairs and Auditor General, and who states that the State government is in accord with the proposition of the Association of American Railway Accounting officers to change the reporting year for common carriers to the calendar year throughout the country.
 For years railroads have been required to make reports according to official years differing in various States and Pennsylvania, which is one of the big railroad States, last year enacted a law which made the calendar year the period for reporting on capital stock and other matters for taxation and the Public Service Commission adopted the same plan for its reports.
 Chief F. C. Gerberich of the Bureau of Railways, which operates under an old law, is in accord with the movement for a uniform year and heartily commends it.
 Under the plan all Pennsylvania reports will be required for calendar years commencing with 1917.
