RAILROAD MEETING OPENS

Both Sides Confident of Settlement; "No Outside Arbitration"—Men's Slogan

New York, June 1.—The first joint conference between representatives of the railroads of the United States and their conductors, trainmen, engineers and firemen, for a settlement of the differences over the employees' working hours and wages was begun here to-day in executive session. Both sides expressed confidence in an amicable adjustment but it is predicted that several weeks will elapse before an agreement satisfactory to all is reported.

"No outside arbitration," is the slogan of the employees in answer to a suggestion that the questions at issue be given over to the discussion of federal arbitrators. In case the conference fails to agree. The principal question is whether the employees are entitled to an eight-hour basic work day—ten hours pay at the present rate for eight hours of service. Overtime pay is also involved. Against these demands the railroads have presented preparations for the consideration of the arbitrators to the way compensation shall be paid to different classes of services.

Expect 800 Delegates. Elisha Lee, chairman of the committee of nineteen managers representing the roads, was appointed temporary chairman of the joint conference after which all those not officially connected with the meeting were asked to leave. About 250 railroad delegates from the employees' organizations were present but it was expected that a number could be swelled to about 800 by to-morrow. A. B. Garretson, president of the order of railroad conductors, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, W. S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Timothy Shea, assistant president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers had seats at a table with the railroad managers. The conference's first business was the arrangement of a program of procedure.

9,000 Striking Longshoremen on Pacific Coast Tie Traffic

San Francisco, Cal., June 1.—A strike of 9,000 longshoremen, employed at Pacific ports, went into effect automatically at 12 o'clock to-day. At Seattle, where strikebreakers have been hired, trouble is expected. Two thousand men are out there. Elsewhere, apparently the employers have made no preparations for active resistance. For several days at least the employees' representatives of the deep sea and coastwise shipping affected will be tied up. Owners of several fast passenger steamships have announced, however, that these vessels will be continued in operation, stopping up, if necessary, all freight traffic.

Offer to Take Striking Garment Workers Back

New York, June 1.—A crisis in the struggle between the garment makers and their employers was precipitated to-day by the action of the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Protective Association instructing its members to open their shops and give an opportunity for the return of the employees, who were locked out on April 29. The manufacturers' busy season begins the 1st of July, and the association was taken as a determined effort to get the shops running regularly by the middle of June. The employers' officials adopted a defiant attitude to-day and sent a swarm of pickets to persuade workers to return. The offer to accept the manufacturers' offer not to return.

EXPEDITION HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Continued From First Page. The men left behind were stored in a hole dug in the ice. After a journey of three weeks, which probably is unique in the annals of Antarctic expeditions, Sir Ernest Shackleton and his companions reached South Georgia. There he sought the assistance of the British Antarctic Expedition, which was on the rescue of the party on Elephant Island, but this proved to be impossible owing to the prevalence of unfavorable weather conditions. The message says that it is urgent need of help for the marooned men. In view of the information received from Lieutenant Shackleton the plans of the expedition for sending a relief expedition from England will be abandoned and a whaler will be sent from the Falkland Islands to rescue the marooned men.

Feet Remarkable

"There the lieutenant left 22 men in an ice cave and proceeded with five others in an open boat to South Georgia Island, where he hoped to meet whaling vessels and thus get in touch with civilization. His voyage from the South Shetlands to South Georgia, a distance of 900 miles, in an open 22-foot boat, amid ice, was a hazardous and remarkable feat, even for so skilled a navigator and seaman as Shackleton. "The South Shetland Islands are infested with ice at this time of the year and it will not be easy to reach the men on Elephant Island until later, though no doubt whalers will be sent from Falkland Islands. "It is understood Australia is sending a relief party to reach the men who are stranded on the great barrier on the Ross Sea side owing to the breaking away of the auxiliary Aurora, which was to have met the main party when it emerged."

Christians of Mt. Lebanon Are Threatened With Death. Washington, June 1.—A committee of Syrians from New York appealed to-day to President Wilson and Councillor Polk of the State Department to seek permission from Turkey and the entente allies to get food to Mt. Lebanon, an autonomous Turkish State, where they said 80,000 persons already had died of starvation and many more were suffering. The delegation told the President practically all of the inhabitants of Mt. Lebanon were Christians and for that reason the Turkish government had treated them with unusual severity. They said massacres had been threatened.
