One of the outstanding features of this convention is the absence of commanding leadership by the mrs of the convention is the absence of commanding leadership by the mrs of the progressive convention has known as "fixers." There is a conspicuous lack of what every convention has known as "fixers," who came with planks for the platform all prepared and assurances that they were going in, little groups of leaders who got together in conferences and arranged things and then practically brought them before the convention for ratification. All that is absent this year. A notable example of this condition is the Pennsylvania delegation which is split four ways. Senator Penrose who always has spoken for the Republican organization in the State is silent and while be presented to the convention none is real closee.

Favorite Sons Lack Strength

Of all the favorite sons who will be presented to the convention none is sestimated to have the strength to command a stampede. The Weeks supporters are continuing their claims of 200 or more votes on the first ballot. The convention managers are continuing their claims of 200 or more votes on the first ballot. "The Progressive party must not and will not pass out of existence, no matter what the result of the coming conventions," said Mr. Murdock. He declined to predict the probable action of the Progressives.

Mr. Murdock said he was not a candidate for re-election as national committee chairman and will endeavor to be released from that position.

James R. Garfield, of Ohio, another Roosevelt leader, to-day stated that political expediency was largely the cause of the Progressives' failure to disclose any definite program regarding their support of Colonel Roosevelt.

"It is the most anomalous situation that ever confronted either party," said Mr. Pinchot.

Chicago, Ill., June 5.—The hundreds of politicians and mere delegates here for the convention had a fellow feeling for the convention had a fellow feeling story for travelers in the arid wastes of the Sahara and for Pershing's boys as they toil through the thirst-producing sand dunes of Chihuahua. Aday they awoke to-day to find a municipal election in progress, entailing more torrid hours.

George W. Perkins, of New York, recognized spokesman for the Progressive party, issued a statement to-day borrowed washstands and bathrony releterating that he was for harmony with the older party, but not for harmony at any price. He did not hamplify this statement beyond saying he will not lose sight of the fact that too high a price can be paid for anything and that harmony was no exception to the rule.

CANDIDATES' MANAGERS ON THEIR JOBS IN CHICAGO

Here you see George Von L. Meyer of Boston, former secretary of the navy, at his desk in Chicago managing the Roosevelt campaign before the Republican National Committee. The Colonel has another manager, George W. Kerkins, but he operates only before the Progressive convention. John W. Dwight, former Congressman from New York, is the custodian of the campaign of Elihu Root, and Mr. Dwight is a very smooth politician. There is also Joseph B. Kealing, of Indiana, who has the campaign of Charles Warren Fairbanks in storage. Frank H. Hitchcock, of New York, is believed to have the boom of Justice Charles E. Hughes concealed about his person.

[By a Staff Correspondent.]

Chicago, Ill., June 5.—With the arrival to-day of the uninstructed delegates and alternates and the Penrose partisans during the morning and Governor Brumbaugh and his party on a later train, question marks began to fly about the Auditorium and the Congress. The rival camps proceeded to foregather at once and the main guessing was whether Senator Penrose would find that sentiment was setting in for Roosevelt and declare for the Colonel, and in so doing beat the Governor to it.

The declaration that the Governor's name would go before the convention and stay there did not prevent a good many people from expressing the belief that the Brumbaugh forces might swing to Roosevelt anyway.

Senator Penrose was told by Alexander P. Moore, a Pittsburgh delegate and one of the Bull Moose leaders for the last four years, that Roosevelt was the biggest bet and the suggestion was made in conversation that Roosevelt was the Brumbaugh services as national chairman, would sweep the nation. Some of the Roosevelt men accused the Senator of doing some filtring with the Colonel and the gossip was that Roosevelt would not run if Penrose was against him. The Hitchcock statement emphasized that it will require 493 votes to nominate a candidate and that the combined instructed strength of the favorite son candidates falls 148 votes short of enough to nominate.

Among those opposed to Justice Hughes a report was circulated to-day that he had gained the disfavor of labor through the Supreme Court's decision in the Danbury hatters' case in January, 1915, which affirmed judgments against members of the hatters' unlon at Danbury, Conn., awarded to a manufacturer under the antitrust. The Governor immediately went into conference with Paul N. Furman in charge of his Chicago headquarters to decide whether to contest the chairmanship with Penrose.

Rumors are that he will not make a fight, but he said there had been no authority given for such talk. Penrose is claiming 55 votes of 76 for chairman. The caucus is to-morrow.

Governor Brumbaugh regarded with considerable satisfaction his presidential preference vote of 233,095 and his friends put it out among the delegates.

Chicago, Ill., June 5.—"Stop murder in Mexico" to-day loomed up as the possible big slogan for the Republican fight for the presidency next Fall. The Mexican plank of the Republican national platform became the center of the fight over parly declaquition of faith, and Senator Albert B. Fall, of New Mexico, took charge of the campaign for a "virile, vigorous Republican Mexican policy."
The platform carpenters got down to real work to-day and tentative drafts floated around among the delegates by the score. The leaders decided on Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, for chairman of the resolutions committee and the Senator was bombarded with suggestions. Senators Borah, of Idaho, Sutherland, from Utah, and Kenyon, of Iowa, and Representative Martin Madden, of Illinois, were among those agreed upon to-day as members of the committee, and they found themselves with a fight on their hands.

A serious campaign to revolutionize platform methods gained considerable momentum to-day. A group of delegates declared for cutting down the platform to an "irreducible minimum" in words. They asserted that the party could best put itself on record by concentrating on five or six planks, expressed briefly and concisely. They suggested limiting the declaration to "Americanism, preparedness, the tariff, Mexico and peace, with a possible general plank attacking the administration for its unbusinesslike conduct of the affairs of the government. Philadelphia, June 5.—Twenty delegates representing the Woman Suffrage party of Pennsylvania left this city for Chicago to-day to attend the convention and demand the insertion of a plank in the Republican platform favoring woman suffrage. Prior to their departure a rally was held on the City Hall plaza here, a feature of which was the sending skyward of 100 small balloons bearing a message for equal suffrage. The delegation left on a special train gally decorated with suffrage banners and pennants. Stops will be made on the journey across the state to pick up sixty other delegates. CHICAGO CONVENTION ACTIVITY CENTERS ALONG LAKE FRONT

Men From All Over Country Are Interested in the Attitude of Pennsylvania as to Candidate

[By a Staff Correspondent.]
Chicago, Ill., June 5.—In order to get an idea of how closely all the preconvention activities are concentrated just imagine that Harrisburg's river front is the Chicago lake front. the Harrisburg Club represent the Congress Hotel, the center of things doing, where Pennsylvania, New York and other big delegations hold forth and where the crowds are always on the move. cross Market street the building that is now being remodeled be the Auditorium Hotel, another hive of activity, and a little further down, possibly where the Engleneers' Club stands, there is the Stratford, where some Pennsylvanians and Southerners will be domiciled.

Then, keeping the same idea of location in mind, about where the Public Library stands would be the Blackstone, where George W. Perkins and other big Bull Moosers have their flags out. Back as far as Market Square is the Kalserhof, and about where the Pennsylvania stands you could locate the La Salle.

The Collseum, where the Republican convention will meet, is ten blocks further along the lake, about as far as Reily street from Market. The Collseum, which is pronounced as differently as it is spelled, is where the national committee is sitting. Wednesday it will be the pulsating center.

A great deal of difference has arisen, however, over the course to be followed in the event that the Republicans choose Hughes. The majority of the Progressives—and that is known to include E. A. Van Valken- lilinois leader, and William Flynn, the Progressives should take no action until Justice Hughes has made an acceptance statement. They would have Colonel Roosevelt pass on the statement himself. If the former president decided that Hughes showed by his statement shat he was a strong enough advocate of real preparedess, in the Colonel's name would be withdrawn and Hughes put up and educkly nominated by the Progressives. In this connection Gifford Pinchot, ardent Progressive, made it plain that Justice Hughes would not be acceptance. The believe, Mr. Pinchot said, "that the welfare of the country requires that Theodore Roosevelt be nominated by the Progressive to many man I must know where he stands."

"Would any other candidate named by the Republican convention be acceptable?" he was asked.

"Will Colonel Roosevelt be nominated by the Progressive party regardless of what is done by the Republicans?" he then was asked.
"That is a matter that rests on the knees of the gods," was his answer.
The Progressives plainly show that they do not believe that Justice Highes will make a statement that will admit of their naming him as the standard bearer.

"On the face of the present situation," his statement said, "Justice Hughes is plainly impossible of consideration for the Progressive nomination and there seems no reasonable expectation of any change in the situation before the Progressive convention makes its choice."

The belief prevails strongly in Progressive circles to-day that Colonel Roosevelt will come here himself. His secretary, John McGrath, said that as far as he knew at the present time, the Colonel would not come. by that he did not know what developments might be expected.

Chicago, Ill., June 5.—Emerson Collins, Deputy Attorney General and one of the most gifted orators in the State, will make the speech presenting Governor Brumbaugh's name to the convention. Mr. Collins, who is a close personal friend of the Governor, is known to many of those who will sit in the delegation and his speech is expected to surpass even those which has made in recent political gatherings. He got here early to-day and assisted in welcoming people at the Governor's headquarters.

The seconding speech will come from either Ohio or Michigan, where the Governor has some friends among the delegates and where he is best known. This matter was arranged by Attorney General Brown some time to-day.

Congressman Vare will not make any speeches at the convention. However, he will probably be put forward by the Brumbaugh people as one of their candidates for committee honors.
