PLAYS AND PLAYERS

"What would you call an attack on three policemen by one man?" Stuart Holmes, the William Fox villain, asked. "An assault," his friends replied. "Why not an attack of the blues?" asked Holmes, who is neutral.

Both Courtenay Foote and Elliot Dexter will appear for the first time under the Morisco management in "An International Marriage," now being produced with Rita Jolivet in the stellar role. This photoplay is planned for release on the Paramount Program early in June, and is the initial George Broadhurst play to be adapted to the screen.

Reports from New York received at the California Vitagraph studios have it that "God's Country and the Woman" is already a great success. It is said that its beauty is one of the best boasts California has ever received through an exposition of scenery.

LOCAL THEATERS

The vaudeville bill at the Paxtang Park Theater this week is good enough to convince those who have seen it that the brand of vaudeville booked at the park playhouse this season is about the best to be had.

Wilson Franklin and company, in the unique English farce, "My Wife Won't Let Me," ranks as one of the best laughing acts in vaudeville.

Jolly and Wild, who are with this week's park show, are well known to local vaudeville fans. The balance of the show is made up of standard acts that have no dull moments in this week's bill at Paxtang.

In "The Eternal Grind" Miss Pickford is a very mature young lady—premaritally ripened by hard work in the factory—today at whose indomitable resolution, ingenuity and forceful personality compel our admiration as well as our sympathy. It is this new note of power which Miss Pickford strikes in coping with the great crisis which she faces that wins for "The Eternal Grind" the verdict of "the greatest she has ever done."

To-morrow and Saturday—Charlie Chaplin, the $670,000 comedian, will be presented in "The Floorwalker," one of his greatest farces of the screen, and should be accorded the largest attendance that the theater has ever had. "The Floorwalker" is Chaplin's first release under his new Mutual contract.

In addition to Chaplin, on Friday, Marguerite Clark will be seen in a return engagement of "Helene of the North."

A good, interesting Western drama is a thing seldom found in motion pictures to-day. William Fox, in presenting his new Western picture, "Blue Blood and Red," at the Colonial to-day, has produced one that is both interesting and amusing. The story is a delightful little love romance, with a clever vein of comedy interwoven, and is staged amid rolling mountains and placid lakes.

To-morrow and Saturday, Director Ince, of the Triangle-Kaybee Studios will present Essie Barriscale and William Desmond, two of his best stars, in a new society drama, entitled "Not My Sister." In this new play Miss Barriscale takes the part of an artist model, who, in a moment of abandon, yields to the advances of her employer. The outcome is thrilling and unexpected. A new two-reel Keystone comedy called "The Moonshiners," will complete the bill.

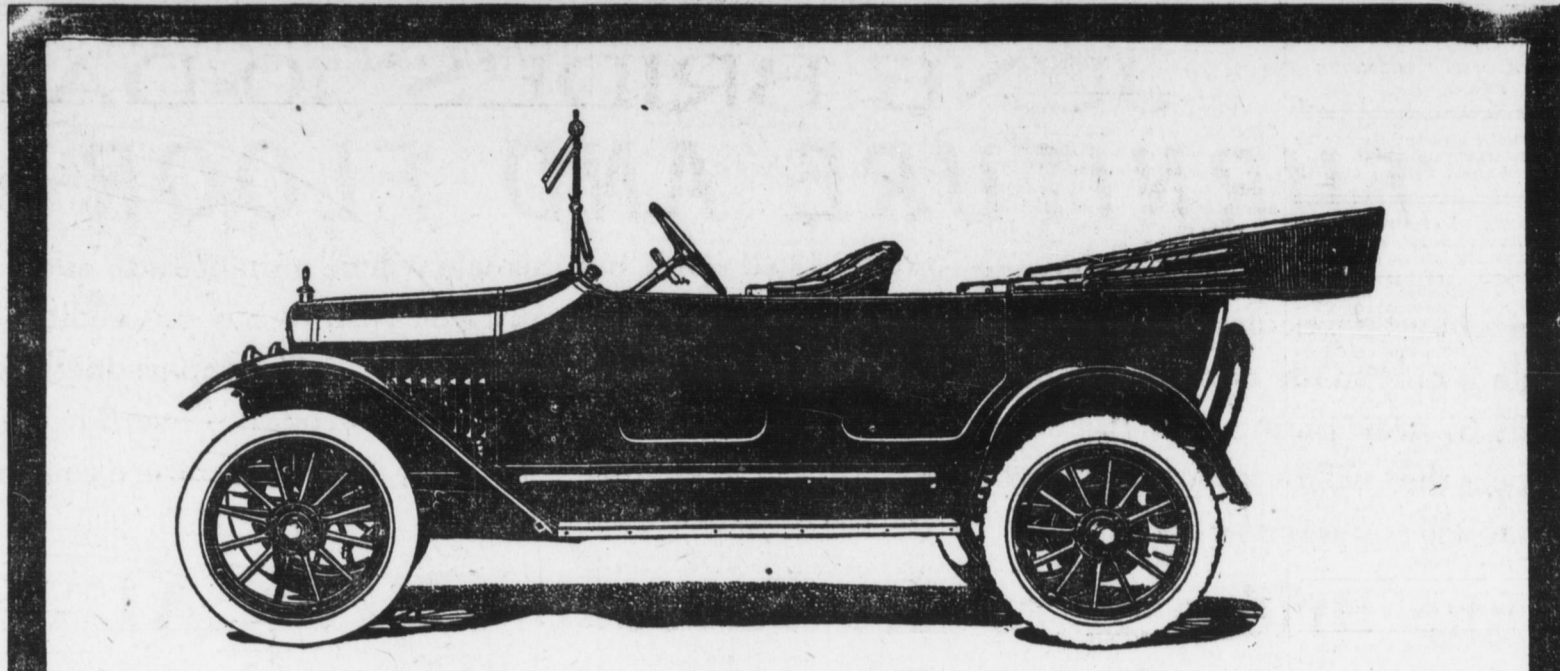

The Sixteen Navassar Girls, an array of star soloists, offer a musical novelty at the Majestic the latter half of this Navassar Girls week. They have toured this country and Europe in concert and have engaged successfully in many musical competitions which brought them success. Another act that will likely become more and more popular as the week advances, is Moore, Gardner and Rose, three men in comedy singing, talking and piano act. This is just the kind of an act that will put pep into any vaudeville bill. Martini and Sylvester, two men in a comedy acrobatic act; Josephine Lenhart, young girl in vocal imitations; and Frank and Eldiv Fisher, man and woman in a scenic comedy sketch, entitled "Perseverance," complete the roster.

One of the most remarkable photoplays that have ever been produced will be the attraction at the Victoria to-day. It presents Rex Beach's story entitled, "The Ne'er Do Well," in a forceful way. The scenes were taken in Panama, and give the picture the real settings. "The Ne'er Do Well" furnishes two hours and a half of real photoplay entertainment of the sort that always find one anxious for more. The admission for to-day and to-morrow will be fifteen cents for the lower floor and ten cents for the balcony.

FINAL EXAMS. AT TECH

Final examinations at the Technical High School will start to-morrow morning and continue throughout next week for the members of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes of the school. Following the close of school next Friday final grades will be made out and first and second honors will be awarded. The year just closed has been the most successful in the history of the school, and, according to statistics, there have been fewer failures in proportion to the size of the school than ever before.

Nothing To Be Added To The Maxwell

YOU will never want to add anything to your Maxwell. The purchase price includes everything you will ever need or desire for luxurious motoring.

You won't want to disguise the hood or buy a new body or put in another carburetor or ignition system or install electric lights or a self-starter.

You won't want a new radiator or springs or new spark plugs or shock-absorbers or a new top.

You need add nothing for comfort, reliability, beauty, economy or convenience. If it is a Maxwell, your car, your experience and your investment are complete.

That is the way that Maxwells are designed, manufactured and sold.

Question the owners of other motor cars—any other motor cars—and see if they are equally satisfied with their motoring investment.

BIG COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM PLANNED FOR STATE COLLEGE

State College, Pa., June 8.—More than 450 students will be awarded degrees at the annual commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania State College on June 14. Because of the time required to confer the degrees on this large senior class this year, the regular commencement address will be omitted, a departure unprecedented in the history of the institution. Features of Penn State's commencement program this year are the baccalaureate sermon, Sunday morning, June 11, by Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, of San Francisco; the cadet regiment will be reviewed on Saturday by Lieutenant F. K. Ross, Sixth Cavalry, United States Army, who is a graduate of State College; two baseball games with University of Pittsburgh; a track and field meet with the same institution; a performance of "Here and There" by the Thespians; alumni reunions, and house parties at each of the chapter houses of the twenty-three fraternities.
