PLAYS AND PLAYERS Madge Kennedy will head the company which is to present the farce, "All Night Long," which the Shuberts will soon produce.

Ralph Herz and Cecil Lean will be among the auctioneers to sell the first night Winter Garden seats for the benefit of the Permanent Blind War Relief Fund at the Winter Garden next Tuesday afternoon.

An entertainment given entirely by the blind children of the public schools took place one evening last week at the Washington Irving High School, New York City, when Sherkhan "The Rivals" was presented by eight pupils of Wadleigh and DeWitt Clinton high schools. Four of these eight children, whose ages range from 13 to 17 years, were totally blind the other four possessed from 2 to 10 per cent. vision.

LOCAL THEATERS A fantastic comedy, with music, entitled "Temptation," appearing at the Majestic the first half of this week. The story of the "Temptation" is a woman, who dwells in a lurid nook of Hades, whose work is made up of luring men there. After a time she becomes bored by her work, so she seeks a man, unless he can furnish her some excitement to vary the monotony of her work, she will quit her job. The play is a new and original type of the play and learned and rehearsed during the regular school activities.

Mae Marsh and Tully Marshall will be co-starred to-day and to-morrow at the Colonial Theater in a new production entitled, "A Child of the Paris Streets." The interesting plot is set in the underworld of Paris. Mile. Durfranc, queen of the Apaches, pleads with a judge to spare her boy, but he sentences her boy to the galleys. The old woman swears revenge. She steals the judge's daughter, Julia, and sends her as a pickpocket. But heredity tells, and she rebels against her tutors, succeeds in running away, and finds shelter in the studio of an American, who is studying art in the Latin Quarter. He finds her there and falls in love with her, and tries to protect her from the vengeance of the gang. After many thrilling adventures she succeeds in restoring her to her father, and wins her hand in marriage. Fred Mace will present a new two-reel comedy, entitled, "Bathub Perils."

Cleo Ridgley and Wallace Reid will be seen in "The Love Mask" to-day and to-morrow. The story of the "Love Mask" is a woman who has to do with the adventures of Kate Kenner, who, owing to the death of her parents, is forced to earn her living by panning gold. Through an accident Kate uncovers a lot of "virgin" gold. While having it assayed, she claims is jumped by an unscrupulous miner. Kate takes her find to Deering, the local blacksmith and sheriff. While away, Silver Spurs, notorious bandit, so-called on account of his heel adornments, enters the blacksmith shop, sees the reward for his capture, steals the sheriff's watch and disappears. This is the beginning of the story.

Wednesday and Thursday—Marguerite Clark will appear in a charming play based on the popular and enchanting story, "Molly Make-Believe," by Eleanor Hallowell Abbott.

This week's bill at the Paxtang Park Theater offers a headliner that has been a feature attraction in the most of America's leading vaudeville theaters, but is entirely new to Harrisburg. The new act is the Gallerini Four. The Gallerinis present an instrumental musical offering that the city press gives credit for being about the best thing on the variety stage in the way of musical entertainment.

Other acts that will appear on the new bill at the park playhouse this evening will be: Evelyn C. May and company in a new comedy sketch; The Youngers, European sensational equilibrist; Gordon and Posty and Frank Gabby, in a novel ventriloquist offering.

To-night will be ladies' night at the park theater. All ladies will be admitted free.

On Friday evening the park management will present the first free fireworks display of the season.

To-day the Victoria presents an original photoplay in five acts, "The Half Million Bride," featuring Hamilton Revelle and Marguerite Clark.

Accompanied by the music of Benvenuto Cellini. AMUSEMENTS REGENT "THE LOVE MASK" Added Attraction - Paramount-Burton Holmes Travelogue. Wednesday and Thursday, MARGUERITE CLARK in "MOLLY MAKE-BELIEVE."

dicto Corado's twenty-two-piece band, the tooting of horns and the raucous notes of the ballyhoos' voices, the Royal Fire Company's carnival will open at Seventeenth and Chestnut streets, on Monday, June 13, and continue one week. The Colonel Francis Ferari Shows United will provide the many midway attractions. Not only will the Bostock-Ferari Trained Wild Animal Arena be there, but the most remarkable travelling electric novelty of the age, the La Rose Electric Fountain, will delight all who see its wondrous beauty. There's the dog and pony circus, with its attractive entertainment; the Hindoo Mystic Temple, the Katzenjammer Kastle, the Whip, the merry-go-round, the snake charmer and all the other attractions, including the Ferris Wheel, which go to make up a regular carnival. In connection with the carnival five contests are being conducted by the Royal Fire Company—popular lady, popular schoolboy, popular schoolgirl, pretty baby, and homely man—the various prizes, all of which are handsome and valuable, are on exhibition in P. G. Diener's window, in Market street.
