West Shore Firemen's Union Endorses Move and Appoints Committee on Problem

Although no definite action was taken in the organization of a "Community Forum" at a meeting of the West Shore Firemen's Union, held at Midway last night, encouraging speeches were made by men interested in the work, and the matter was referred over to the executive committee for discussion and to be brought up at the next meeting.

MARSHALL MAY BE NOMINATED

Early to-day it was reported here that President Wilson had sent word to St. Louis that he regarded Indiana as one of the most important battle grounds of the coming campaign and that he would be pleased to see delegates act as a unit in renominating the Vice-President.

Aside from welcoming of the arriving delegations, much of the day was given over to the holding of caucuses for the selection of committee assignments. More than half of the state delegations planned to hold their state meetings to-day and to-night. In many cases the selections have been made and the caucuses were mere formalities.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulisud cocconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

End the Misery Of Piles With WONDEROIL

Antiseptic Wonderoil quickly stops the terrible burning and itching which generally accompanies such troubles as Piles and Hemorrhoids. Applied directly its cool, soothing and healing oils bring immediate comfort and provide relief. The purely antiseptic ingredients help keep the membranes clean and free from the formation of pus matter.

GOVERNOR SENDS LETTER TO HUGHES

office was to write the letter to the candidate. The sentiments of the Governor were echoed all over the Capitol and there will be hearty interest taken in the campaign by every one on the "Hill."

The Governor's Statement
The statement by Governor Brumbaugh was in the following language: "The name of Justice Hughes ought to appeal to every sincere Republican as an admirable one. He was nominated in an open convention after full and free discussion of all available candidates, and the unanimous judgment of the convention turned to him and made him, as he declared, against his own will the standard-bearer of the party. His whole record and his statement of principles alike are so noteworthy that there can be no possible reason for a third party or any division of sentiment among protectionists and Republicans. He should have the unanimous support of all and a triumphant election."

Letter to Hughes

The letter sent to Mr. Hughes was as follows:
Harrisburg, Pa., June 13, '16.
Hon. Charles E. Hughes,
Washington,
District of Columbia.

My Dear Mr. Hughes:—It was with a feeling of profound relief and satisfaction that the convention in Chicago unanimously turned to you as the standard-bearer of the party. As a delegate-at-large from Pennsylvania I observed the free and full development of the sentiment in your behalf, and recognized from the outset that the practically unanimous feeling of the convention was that your nomination would be, under all the circumstances, the wisest and best that could be made.

You are called by your party at a great crisis in the history of our nation, and I know you will conduct the campaign in a most creditable manner, and I believe you will be triumphantly elected. I wish to assure you of my loyalty and my willingness to do all in my power to secure your election.

With sincere good wishes, believe me,
Very truly yours,
(Signed) M. G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. Stamm Praises Hughes
A. Carson Stamm, who was one of the two national delegates from the Eighteenth district to the convention which nominated Mr. Hughes, made the following statement when he returned this morning from Chicago: "There is no question in my mind but that the nomination of Justice Hughes was an expression of the clear and settled conviction of the delegates to the convention that he, par excellence, typifies the things for which present day Republicanism stands. It was wholly spontaneous in the sense that in its consummation the element of outside pressure was absolutely lacking. As a lawyer, as Governor of New York, as a member of the world's greatest court, he is known throughout the country, and known for his learning, his thoroughness, his independence and his high character; and his whole career shows him to be committed and devoted to the best traditions of Republicanism. In nominating him the convention simply reflected and interpreted the sentiments of the party as to the kind of man that should represent it in its efforts to regain control of the National Government. I think we are going to have a high-toned campaign, one in which persons as persons will cut very little figure, but in which politics and principles as represented by individuals will find the center of the stage. This is as it should be, and one of my reasons for believing this is as it will be the character of the Republican nominees and the declarations of the Republican platform. The nomination of Mr. Fairbanks as Vice-President was most happy for many reasons, not least of which is the fact that he is a big enough man himself for President."

Best For Country
Senator Franklin Martin, of the Cumberland Perry-Juniata-Mifflin district, who was at the Capitol today, praised the ticket. He said: "It is a first-class ticket in every respect and as matters stand I see no reason why the Progressives should not support it. They are welcome to help and ought to do it for the best interests of the country."

RODERICK ACTS FOR MEDIATION

Chief Roderick, of the Department of Mines, is just back from Wilkes-Barre, where he has been endeavoring to bring about an amicable and satisfactory adjustment of the differences between the anthracite miners and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company in regard to the eight-hour day. His statement of this question to the miners and operators in that region. This new rule, while satisfactory to some classes of workmen, is unpopular with the men who mine the coal, as it has been their custom in the past to liberate whatever quantity was necessary to fill their allotment of cars and then quit work, leaving the loading of the cars to their helpers. Just what will be the solution of this question and many others of importance now in dispute is a matter of considerable concern to the operators in the anthracite region.

Rockefeller Special Stops Short Times Hagerstown

Special to the Telegraph
Hagerstown, Md., June 13. — A special train of Pullmans with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., on board arrived in this city yesterday afternoon over the Western Maryland Railroad. Mr. Rockefeller was accompanied by President Carl R. Gray of the Western Maryland and other officials of the road. The special stopped here for half an hour while Mr. Rockefeller and President Gray inspected the railroad shops and yards, and then proceeded westward. The purpose of the trip was to inspect the operation of the Western Maryland system by Mr. Rockefeller has revived strong rumors that the Rockefeller interests might take over the Reading and operating it in conjunction with the Western Maryland. The rumor further links up the name of President Gray as head of the proposed consolidated lines.

PREPAREDNESS IS IMPERATIVE DUTY

however, that true Americans should set a good example. The President declared the present war did not come by accident but that it had to come. The United States wants no part of Europe, he said, and there is nothing she wants except she must get by war. He sounded a warning that no man can tell what the next day will bring forth in the world's events. The word "Americanism" was used to-day by the President for the first time in recent addresses. He constantly referred to the West Point graduates to whom he was speaking, but referred more to national and international problems. He warned the graduates against militarism.

National Salute Fired
President Wilson arrived here at 9:30 a. m. to attend the graduation exercises at the Military Academy. When the yacht Mayflower, carrying the President and Mrs. Wilson, anchored in the Hudson off the Academy grounds a national salute of 21 guns was fired and answered from the yacht. A troop of cavalrymen escorted Mr. and Mrs. Wilson to the parade grounds.

The President, with Mrs. Wilson and Major-General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, were enthusiastically applauded as they rode to their seats past the corps of cadets. The weather was perfect. Colonel Goethals to Retire
General George W. Goethals, Governor of the Panama Canal zone, was one of the visitors here and expected to confer with the President during the day regarding his desire to retire. He considers the canal finished. Following the parade the President walked to the battle monument where a canopy of American flags had been erected over the seat. As the President spoke he faced up the historic Hudson river. With him on the stand were General Scott, Major General T. A. Bliss, assistant Chief of Staff Col. C. F. Townsley, superintendent of the Academy, and Col. W. W. Harts, the President's aid. Mrs. Wilson, dressed entirely in white and wearing a bouquet of purple orchids, sat facing the President. The graduates in full dress uniform occupied the front rows of seats. Following his address the President ate luncheon with a group of officers at the superintendent's residence and then motored around the grounds. He planned to leave at 3 o'clock by train for Washington.

SIXTEEN YEARS IS LIMIT ON BENEFIT

Although a child may be dependent upon a parent who is killed, he is not entitled to compensation under the State workmen's compensation act if he has passed the age of sixteen, according to a ruling of Compensation Referee George C. Klauder in a decision handed down yesterday in the case of Mrs. Kate S. Kephart, of Evers-town, against the Glasgow Iron Company. In the decision Mr. Klauder maintained that the heirs of an employee who dies as a result of gas poisoning contracted during the course of his regular employment are entitled to benefits under the act. The claimant's husband, George C. Kephart, died on April 9 as a result of gas poisoning. Besides his wife Kephart left a son, 37 years old, who now is in the State Hospital for the insane. This heir was dependent upon the father, but Mr. Klauder ruled that he was over the age limit of sixteen years and entitled to no compensation. Mrs. Kephart was awarded $3 per week for 300 weeks.

MRS MARY KAUFMAN

YOUR HAIR NEEDS PARISIAN SAGE

It Quickly Removes All Dandruff and Stops Falling Hair

If your hair is full of dandruff, thin, streaky, dull, and never will do up to look pretty, do not think it must be so. Beautiful hair, thick, fluffy, lustrous and absolutely free from dandruff is only a matter of care. Hair is like a plant—it needs attention to make it grow strong and beautiful. Parisian Sage is one of the most helpful and invigorating hair treatments known. Just one application stops itching head and removes every trace of dandruff. It goes right to the hair roots, stimulating them and furnishing the nourishment that is needed—the hair becomes soft and fluffy and appears twice as abundant. Parisian Sage not only saves the hair and stimulates it to grow long and heavy, but gives it an incomparable gloss and beauty. Get a bottle from H. C. Kennedy, or any drug or toilet counter. It's not expensive and you cannot be disappointed with this delicately perfumed and helpful tonic, for even the first application will give the hair beauty and charm.—Advertisement.

If Stomach Hurts Drink Hot Water

A Physician's Advice
"If dyspeptics, sufferers from gas, wind or flatulence, stomach acidity or sourness, gastric catarrh, heartburn, etc., would take a teaspoonful of pure hot water immediately after eating, they would soon forget they were ever afflicted with stomach trouble, and doctors would have to look elsewhere for words a well-known New York physician stated that most forms of stomach trouble are due to stomach acidity and fermentation of the food contents of the stomach combined with an insufficient blood supply to the stomach. Hot water increases the blood supply and neutralizes the excessive stomach acid and stops food fermentation, the combination of the two, therefore, being most successfully and decidedly preferable to the use of artificial digestants, stimulants or medicines for indigestion.—Advertisement.

TWO MILLIONS IN AUTO LICENSES

More than $2,000,000 has been taken in by the State from automobilists during 1916 in registration and licensing fees. The exact amount at the close of business June 12 received by the Automobile Division of the State Highway Department was $2,022,462. The total amount received from this source during 1915 was $1,665,276.50, which figures were passed this year on April 25. It was said at the State Highway Department to-day that the amount received this year would probably exceed $2,225,000. From June 12 to December 31, 1915, the department received $210,205.50. Even granting that these figures be not exceeded this year, it would make the total sum $2,212,667.50, but at the State Highway Department it is considered likely that the figures from now on to the end of the year will be nearer $500,000 than $210,000.
