256 GRADUATED

FROM PRINCETON

Honorary Degrees Conferred on Gen. Wood, Samuel Rea and Many Others

Princeton, N. J., June 13.—Two hundred and fifty-six men presented themselves to President John Grier Hibben this morning and the class of 1916 was duly graduated in the one hundred and sixty-ninth annual commencement of Princeton University.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge received the same honorary degree as a statesman of probity, dignity and power, for a generation in the halls of Congress, and Judge Joseph Buffington, presiding judge in the United States Court of Appeals of the Third Circuit, Philadelphia, received the degree for his services, especially in the important corporation cases that have come before him.

Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was made doctor of science for his services in extending and bettering the country's transportation facilities. Julian Aden Weaver, president of the National Academy of Design, and Rella Wells, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis and twice mayor of that city, were made honorary masters of art.

The promise of a new chemical laboratory, filling a long-felt need of the university, was given in President Hibben's announcement of gifts during the exercises. The name of the donor was not made public, but it is announced that he has already purchased a lot adjoining the campus for this purpose.

Among the bequests announced was that of John A. McGinley, of Reading, Pa., supplemented by the subscription of Reading alumni, making up the new 'Reading' scholarship.

SHALL Y. M. C. A. BE SOCIAL CENTER?

Social Workers' Club Puts Matter Up to Directors Who Oppose It

Shall the Young Men's Christian Association be turned into a social center? Shall the old association idea be cast aside to make room for the adoption of a community center in which the religious atmosphere would be subordinated to the social side?

That was the problem which was discussed by the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. at the regular monthly meeting last evening. A letter from the Social Workers' Club of Dauphin county to the president of the board recommending that the Y. M. C. A., together with the Y. W. C. A. and a number of the better equipped schools of the city including Technical High School, be turned into social centers, the matter was thoroughly discussed by the board and it was voted to refer the communication, which was signed by John P. Guyer, to the trustees of the Association for their investigation as to the feasibility and legality of the proposition.

In view of the fact that Edward Roth, who, with his brother, Frank Roth, have been conducting the gymnasium classes in the Y. M. C. A., will leave the city for Andover in the Fall, a committee was appointed to obtain the services of a paid instructor who will assume his duties in September.
