MINE INSPECTORS IN PITTSBURGH

Chief Roderick of the Department of Mines has called a meeting of the bituminous inspectors at the Fort Pitt Hotel, Pittsburgh, to-day to discuss the question of the use of electricity in the mines and also the use of permissible explosives.

Electricity as a motive power and also as a method of illumination, as well as for other purposes, is becoming more popular every day and as a certain element of danger attends the use of this power, the Department of Mines is giving close attention to the installation of electrical equipment wherever it has been adopted. The use of permissible explosives is another question of prime importance in connection with the operation of the mines. These explosives, as tested by the United States Government and recommended by the State Department, are coming into pretty general use.

Many Grocers at the New Bricker Bakery

Last evening was like another opening night at the new West Shore Bakery in Lemoyne. The street in front of the building reminded one of an automobile show, as hundreds of cars of almost every make were parked in the avenue while their owners were within inspecting the new bakery.

Many of the grocers brought their wives and families, and some of them came from distant towns and cities fifty and one hundred miles away. The grocery clerks were there in great numbers, and at times it seemed as if the general public had come again. But they were all purveyors of food stuff, and it seemed as if they turned out in as great a number as when the Grocers' picnic is on. Even though it wasn't out in the green, they certainly had a picnic just the same. A cup of coffee in one hand and a chunk of Bricker's cake in the other, and some with ice cream cones or other good things to eat, they made themselves at home or were escorted about the big building by the guides in white. Two "house warmings" within a week has served to make the excellent features of the new bakery known to a great many people in this section of the State.

EARLY MORNING FATIGUE

When you awaken in the morning feeling tired out, feeling worse in fact than when you went to bed, you are confronted with one of the characteristic symptoms of neurasthenia. It is due to the run-down condition of the nerves that rest does not bring renewed strength and sleep refresh the tired brain. Over-work and worry are the most frequent causes of this condition. Neurasthenia is the name given to this common form of nervous debility; in which the power to recuperate is gone.

The blood can be built up so that it will increase the supply of needed elements to the wasted nerves and this is the only way that the nerves can be reached. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic that especially builds up the nerves because they supply to the blood the elements that the nerves need. Many nervous disorders, sometimes chronic ones, have yielded to this tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when other methods failed to give relief. They are certainly worth a trial.

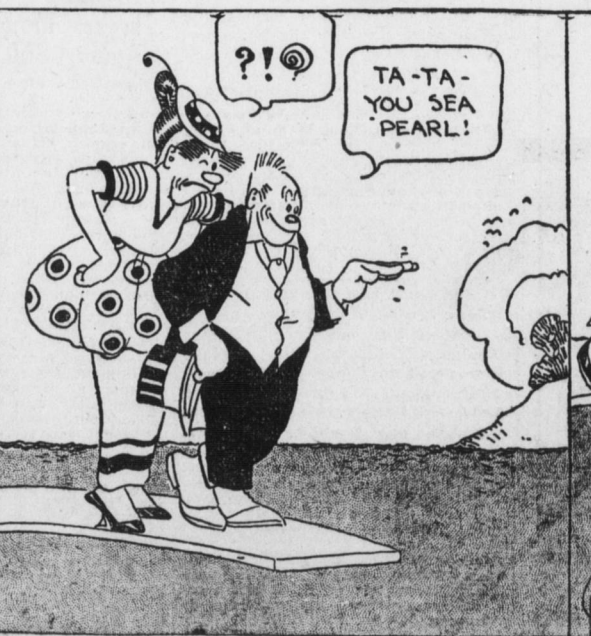

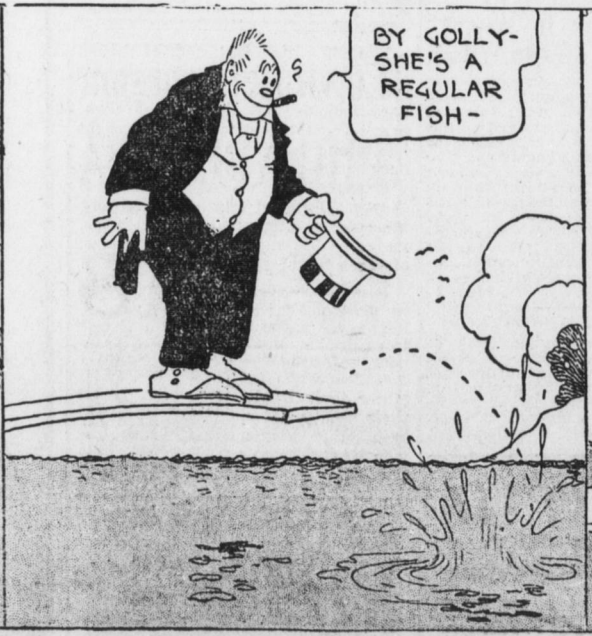

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists everywhere or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free book on the nerves.
