CHARLES FORNEY WILL COMPLETE MARRIES IN N. Y. PICNIC PLANS

UPLE Will Reside in This City After Honeymoon at the Seashore

Moorhead Knitting Company's Employees Go to Hershey July 9

MR. AND MRS. J. C. FORNEY.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Frances McGee of New York city, to Charles Forney, of Harrisburg, Pa., at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Bensonhurst, Brooklyn, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Daniel Breen in the presence of the immediate relatives of the couple.

The bride wore an exquisite costume of white tulle over ivory taffetas, picture hat and corsage bouquet of red peonies and lilies of the valley. The wedding was attended by her sister, Miss McGee, who was attired in shell pink taffetas with touches of blue. The bride and groom were accompanied by a quartet of pink roses. Following a wedding breakfast at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. Forney left for a honeymoon to be spent in Atlantic City and adjoining resorts. They will return to their friends after a stay of 10 days in their newly furnished apartment at 2514 North Sixth street, this city. Mr. Forney has charge of the order department of the Witman Hardware Company, and has a wide circle of friends in Harrisburg.

ate Gives Dr. Hamilton Honorary M. A. Degree

Dr. Hugh Hamilton of 315 Walnut street, who has been attending the fiftieth reunion of his class at State College, was yesterday given the honorary degree of master of arts by the college. Dr. Hamilton graduated from State in 1866 as bachelor of science and received the degree of master of science several years later. There are but five living graduates of his class. Jonathan A. Seidle, of Marysville, who was former member of the class, was given an honorary certificate yesterday.

Arrangements for the Moorhead Knitting Company's third annual picnic to be held at Hershey Park Saturday, July 8, are almost complete, only a few minor details are yet to be looked after and all will be in readiness.

Committees have been at work for weeks in preparation for the big event, which promises to be the most successful affair of its kind ever held by the employees of this concern.

Prizes will be awarded by the company to employees who prove to be the most successful contestants. The Moorhead Knitting Co. is one of Harrisburg's live industries, promoting welfare work among its employees. It has in the past four years of occupancy in its new factory at Cameron and Walnut streets, furnished various kinds of entertainment and amusements in which the employees delight to participate.

Minstrel, theatricals, dances and basketball comprise the indoor affairs, while picnics and participation in the Mummies' parade form annual events of importance. George W. Delker, who is in charge of this work, declares that never before has there been such enthusiasm shown as indicated by the activities of the respective committees headed by the following chairmen: D. K. Ebersole, printing and badger; Russell Jones, tickets; Leon Yoder, athletics; Myrtle Sanders, prizes; Hayes Greene, baskets; Charles Schulz, music.

Big Jack Horner Pie in Center of the Table

Miss Harriet Davis Crist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Crist, 257 North street, celebrated her fourth birthday anniversary yesterday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. The dining room was decorated with pink peonies, and pink rambler roses festooned the room intermingled with little electric lights. The table was decorated with a birthday cake bearing four lighted candles and a Jack Horner pie with pink ribbons to each of the little chairs. Those who enjoyed games during the afternoon were Suzanne DeVout, Elva Fortenbaugh, Eleanor Hoover, Genevieve Bayles, Helen Snyder, Gene Pugh, Betty Ronebus, Ruel Sides, Allan G. Crist and Harriet Crist.

LEAVES FOR CALIFORNIA Mrs. Harris B. Ryan of Palo Alto, Cal., who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Fortenbaugh, 1713 North Second street, for several weeks, started yesterday for her western home. Mrs. Ryan was formerly Miss Kate Fortenbaugh, and her husband, Prof. Ryan, of Leland Stanford University, was a Halifax man.

SHOWERS DO NOT DAMPEN ARDOR

D. A. R. Flag Day Celebration Held on Porches When Rain Spoils the Lawn

JESSE E. B. CUNNINGHAM

The little showers coming up yesterday afternoon just as Harrisburg Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was ready to begin its Flag Day celebration on the lawn of the Herman Miller residence, Cottage Ridge, didn't dampen the ardor of the members and their guests, who adjourned to the broad porches where a most interesting program was carried out.

The American flag prevailed in the decorations and copies of an act to prevent and punish the desecration of the flag, passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature in 1907 was presented to each guest on arriving. The regent, Miss Cora Lee Snyder, presided, making a brief address on the day celebrating the significance of America's flag stands for universal brotherhood. Miss Snyder read a poem written by Mrs. M. W. Jacobs, a member of the chapter on "Our Flag." "Emblems thy colors are in stripes and field and star, flag that we love; Red tells of brave blood shed, blue field with stars o'er spread points to our Nation's Head—Our God above."

The chapter historian, Mrs. Charles J. Wood, Jr., who is also a member of the Story Telling Club, read the pathetic little tale of "Anna Lapinsky's Star Flag," a story of the love of an immigrant woman for the stars and stripes of her adopted country. Patriotic songs were especially enjoyed with Stuart Black at the piano and Sara Lerner playing the violin. The strains of "The Red, White and Blue," "Star Spangled Banner," "Four Flag and My Flag," and "America," rang out heartily in the open air sung by over a hundred voices. William H. Boyer, baritone, who has recently returned from his music studies at the Peabody institute, Baltimore, sang with charming effect, "The Song of the Flag," by Duncan Volke; "Love Is Mine," Gardner and "Somewhere A Voice Is Calling."

Mr. Cunningham's Address The address of the afternoon was made by Jesse E. B. Cunningham, ex-assistant Attorney General of Pennsylvania, whose fame as an orator is more than State-wide. Mr. Cunningham eloquently spoke on "The Flag," saying in part: "We cannot fail to recognize at the present time what our flag means to us, when such terrible conditions exist in other parts of the world. There are by thousands are dying and others made cripples for life, for the sake of an idea. This is what is called 'Patriotism.' Our glorious flag floated above the heads of many strong and valiant men during the history of the country, with its white stars like daisies on a soldier's grave and its broad stripes like a highway leading to right and purity. It sheltered the most wonderful and very different types of men whose valor and brains made of the young nation the world power we are to-day. Pennsylvania sitting half-way between the North and the South in the War of the Rebellion took her full share of the tragedy. When the great decisive climax of that struggle came the tide of war swept northward to break in bloody spray upon the rocks of Gettysburg and three of Pennsylvania's noble sons figured as prominent officers in that battle. Three years ago one of the most wonderful sights in the history of the world took place, when men who had hated each other with the lust of killing when fighting at Devil's Den and Round Top met there again to shake hands and shake brotherhood. Let us hope that the sword of a Nation, raised again and again in defense of this glorious flag of ours, may never know defeat, but before long shall hang in folds of memory and there shall decay into dust, because this government stands for Perpetual Peace."

ENTERTAIN IN HONOR OF TWO COLUMBIA GIRLS A party was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Bromall, 2519 Sixth street, in honor of the Misses Rosina and Olive Eicherly of Columbia who are spending the week in Harrisburg. Games and music followed by refreshments made an enjoyable evening for the guests. Those present were: Misses Rosina and Olive Eicherly, Edna Balsbaugh, Madalene Stoner, Mary Evans, Bertha Marks, Frances Gill, Florence Patterson, Annabelle Yeagley, Mrs. J. Grafius, Mrs. H. W. Hoover, Homer Balsbaugh, Penrose Hoover, Charles Bittel, Earl Shenk, Roy Shenk and John Grafius.

HICKS-BECKWITH BRIDAL The marriage of Miss Mary E. Beckwith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beckwith to Emmett W.
