

HARRISBURG'S NEED IS MORE ATTRACTIVE HOMES AT MODERATE PRICES

BUYS IN WOODBINE STREET
William H. Moyle has sold the three-story brick dwelling at 612

Woodbine street to Mrs. Elizabeth M. Young. The deal was handled through Miller Bros. & Co.

REALTY REALMS

Wet weather of the last week or so has materially interfered with the excavation and other outdoor work on various building operations in the city, although some of the contractors have pushed the work ahead in the rain. Excavations on the Messiah Lutheran Church and the new C. E. Orth laundry at Sixth and Boas streets are nearing completion.

be devoted to this purpose instead of residential development. It is understood however, that no permanent arrangement would be agreed to by the owner.

AN ATTRACTIVE WYNNEWOOD RESIDENCE

One of Harrisburg's crying needs, say real estate men, is the need of more homes of an attractive design. While this city has many pretty homes in its suburban sections yet there is still great room for improvement. As a suggestion of a pretty house, one that could be termed a moderate-priced residence is printed above. It is a snapshot of a residence at Wynnewood, Pa., a suburb of beautiful homes. The dwelling is built of natural limestone and is set off by a large Colonial porch and door. The photograph was made by Herman P. Miller, Jr., son of Herman P. Miller, president of Miller Bros. & Co.

Police Chief Says Downtown Stores Should Have Sleuths

That downtown store owners and managers should employ house detectives in addition to their corps of floorwalkers, or have some of the floorwalkers act as officers, is the advice given by Chief of Police J. Thomas Zeil, this morning.

The police official said that if this policy were adopted, the petty thieving which he believes is going on in the larger stores could be stopped. Chief of Police Zeil stated that the floorwalkers were efficient but that the addition of house detectives would be a big improvement.

The executive went on to say that in other cities the size of Harrisburg with the power to make arrests should have an emergency make this the only resort for the store employe.

and E. W. Hess. Their aim is to double the membership by the end of June, and as the Society already has over 700 members, this is considerable of an undertaking.

ENGINEERS ADMIT 20

The campaign which the Engineers' Society in South Front street instituted several weeks ago, to double their membership, continues to bear fruit, twenty applicants being admitted to membership on Thursday last.

The committee in charge of this matter has been boosting the Society all over the State, and are very much gratified with results thus far obtained. A great many applications are being received from out-of-town people who have occasion to frequent the city in connection with State Government matters, and as the Society's home offers all the conveniences of a first-class hotel, no trouble is experienced in caring for visitors. The membership committee comprises Messrs. W. B. McCaleb, Edwin J. Bevan, F. Herbert Snow, W. R. Denehey, Paul Vorhees, J. D. Bogar,
