

SURVIVORS TELL STORY OF TREACHEROUS ATTACK

SECOND BRIGADE FIRST AT GRETNA

Will Leave Pittsburgh at Mid-night; Other Two Will Follow Closely

The Second Brigade, composed of the Tenth, Sixteenth and Eighteenth regiments of infantry, will be the first organizations of the Pennsylvania National Guard to mobilize at Mt. Gretna to-morrow. The Second will begin to move from Pittsburgh at midnight to-night and will reach the mobilization field during the morning hours. The First Brigade will move from Philadelphia to the mobilization field at Mt. Gretna between noon and 2 o'clock and the Fourth Brigade, composed of the Fourth, Sixth and Eighth regiments, will go in later in the afternoon. The auxiliary organizations will follow on Sunday.

General A. J. Logan, of Pittsburgh, commanding the Second Brigade, stopped here to-day to call upon Adjutant General Stewart and was met here by Major E. Lowry Humes, United States District Attorney for Western Pennsylvania, who came up from Washington. The arrangement for moving the Second Brigade will enable the men to sleep on the trains and the other brigades to spend to-night at home stations.

Recruits Stream In
Governor Brumbaugh to-day transmitted to General Stewart a telegram from Secretary of the Navy Daniels stating that the United States naval men to the land forces be kept at the minimum. The secretary pointed out that the militia had been trained at great expense and that it was desired to keep the force intact.

Second Takes Oath
Brigadier General A. J. Logan, commanding the Second brigade, and members of his staff took the oath as "United States Guardsmen" at the office of the Adjutant General to-day. Major Frank D. Beary, the deputy adjutant general, administering it. Captain George C. Jack, of the Governor's Troop, also took the oath at the Capitol.

State Attaches Enlist
Several attaches of departments of the State government enlisted to-day in local companies and were given assurances that their places would be held for them, although there is some uncertainty regarding pay for the services.

Telegrams were received by the Governor to-day from Governor's Island that the department quarter-master at Front Royal, Va., had been directed to advertise for horses for troops from Pennsylvania and that he should direct all prospective bidders to communicate with that officer. Bids will be opened at noon on June 26.

DR. STINE IS MADE MARSHAL OF PARADE

will march away to Camp Brumbaugh at the call of President Wilson. The Chamber of Commerce has hired the Commonwealth band and the Rotary Club has engaged the Municipal band to provide music for the occasion. They jointly selected Captain H. M. Stine, a Spanish-American War veteran, to be chief marshal, and he accepted the invitation.

Members of the Chamber and of the Rotary Club has engaged the Municipal band to provide music for the occasion. They jointly selected Captain H. M. Stine, a Spanish-American War veteran, to be chief marshal, and he accepted the invitation.

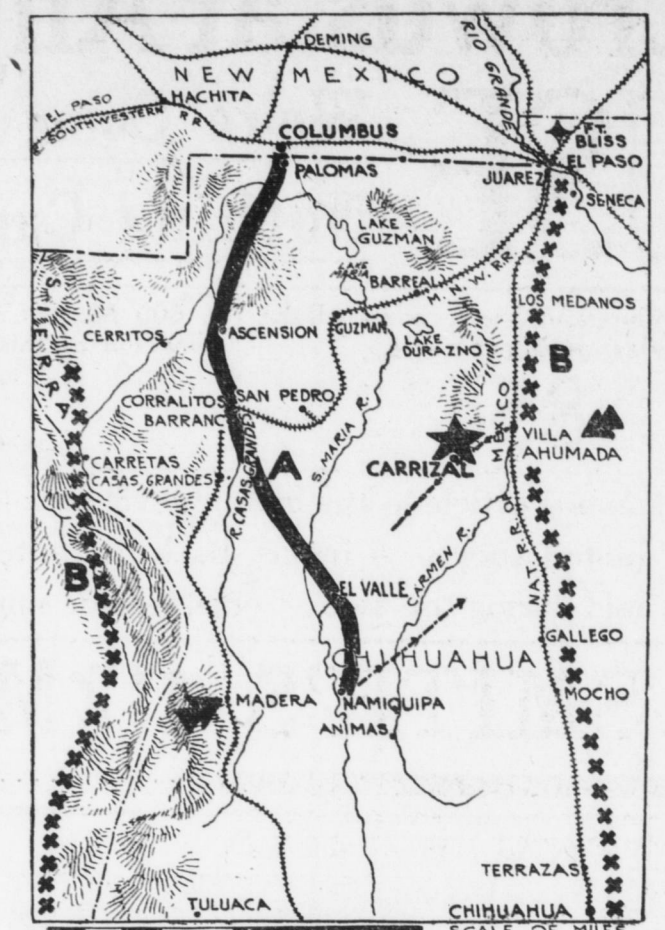

President Fry and Secretary William Robinson, of the Rotary Club, and President Bowman and Secretary McColeen, of the Chamber, will sit with Chief Marshal Stine at his office this evening to complete preparations for the demonstration.

Chamber of Commerce Statement
After the joint meeting President Bowman, of the Chamber of Commerce, issued the following statement to the newspapers:

"President J. William Bowman and Secretary E. L. McColeen, of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, called on Dr. Stine this morning and asked him to act as marshal of to-morrow's demonstration, stating that it was uniformly agreed that he was unusually qualified to take care of the proposition. Dr. Stine readily agreed to assume the office. He will be in his office from 7 to 10 to-morrow morning. Tell phone, 4212."

"It is requested that all civic and business associations, veteran associations, representatives from business and manufacturing houses, etc., get in touch with Dr. Stine immediately and have a complete understanding as to their assignment in the parade. Dr. Stine is giving attention to the meeting, appointing aids, etc., to assist him in the management of the parade. The Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce has employed the Commonwealth band of thirty pieces and placed the band at the disposal of Dr. Stine to assist in furnishing music for the parade."

Scene of Operations by Carranza and American Forces

According to General Funston's belief, the scouting party ambushed at Carrizal had been sent out by General Pershing to learn the strength of Mexican forces reported moving from Villa Ahumada toward El Valle (indicated on map by dotted line and arrows).

Another detachment of General Pershing's force is reported moving east from Namiquipa. The approximate position of this column is shown by dotted line.

The Carranzista garrison, after deserting Casas Grandes, is believed to have moved toward Madera (shown on map with arrow) for the purpose of being in position to attack the southern base of the United States expeditionary force.

vehicles on notice from the army that the procession is ready to move. Chief of Police Thomas J. Zell requests that pedestrians remain on the sidewalks and not crowd the streets.

The Pennsylvania Railroad officials announced to-day that the Harrisburg soldiers would be admitted to the train platform through the entrance at the west end of the train shed, and that in order to prevent congestion, no one will be admitted to the station platform except intending passengers, who must show tickets.

Fourteen Little Girls to Carry Stars and Stripes

Fourteen of the city's prettiest small girls, garbed in the white gown, cap and armband of the Red Cross nurse, will carry a great flag at the head of Harrisburg's departing guardsmen to-morrow.

The plan was formulated by Captain E. Laubenstein and Phillip German, ex-color sergeant of the State guard materialize.

Roosevelt League Swings Around to Hughes

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 23.—Colonel Roosevelt returned to Sagamore Hill last night after holding several important political conferences at the Hotel Langdon in New York. Coinciding with Roosevelt's arrival in Oyster Bay came the announcement that the Roosevelt Nonpartisan League had climbed on the Hughes bandwagon.

Guy Emerson, secretary, and T. C. Desmond, treasurer, who organized the league to get Roosevelt elected, immediately after a long interview with the colonel. They issued the following official statement.

"The 75,000 members of the Roosevelt Nonpartisan League joined the league because they believed in the principles of Americanism as personified by Theodore Roosevelt, and inasmuch as Colonel Roosevelt was not nominated by the Republican National convention the members of the league are, of course, under no obligations and they are free to follow their own individual preferences in regard to the present candidates for the presidency."

"As the two national officers of the league, however, we would state that we personally intend to support Charles E. Hughes. We believe that Mr. Hughes stands for the same great principles of nonpartisan Americanism which inspired the formation of the Roosevelt Nonpartisan League, and we intend to use our influence to enlist all the members of the league for the election of Mr. Hughes as President."

This announcement is regarded here as the opening of the campaign to swing the colonel's supporters of every affiliation into line to support Hughes next Fall.

Some of the most prominent members of the league are Thomas A. Edison, Charles J. Bonaparte, Luke E. Wright, Truman Newberry, William Hamlin Childs, George Ade, Booth Tarkington, Hamlin Garland, Hugh Chalmers, Lawrence Abbott and Owen Wister.

The measure will direct the Secretary of the Interior, co-operating with the Commissioner of Penitentiaries, to make inquiry into the conditions of persons dependent upon enlisted guardsmen now in service, or upon volunteers if they should be called for, and to pay to such dependents not to exceed $50 a month, except in extraordinary cases.

Chairman Hay, of the House Military Committee, has announced that he would introduce a similar measure. His plan contemplates an initial appropriation of $500,000.

Militia Will Be Sent to Border Without Delay

By Associated Press
New York, June 23.—The Department of the East was notified by the War Department to-day that as soon as militia organizations under its control are ready they will be dispatched to the border "without a moment's unreasonable delay." Colonel Charles R. Noyes, chief mustering officer at Governor's Island, received from the War Department this telegram:

"When a mustering officer reports that an organization which has been mustered into the service is reasonably equipped for field service, he will communicate with General Funston at the border, ascertain where that organization shall be sent and arrange for its departure without a moment's unreasonable delay."

Grant Amnesty to All Political Exiles Excepting Villa, Angeles and Diaz

By Associated Press
El Paso, June 23.—Announcement has been made at military headquarters in Juarez that practically all Mexicans, who have been exiled for political reasons during the Carranza regime, may return to Mexico in safety, according to reports to be published in local Spanish papers to-day. Only a few leaders who have been politically obnoxious to the de facto government are said to have been excepted in the order.

Among these are Francisco Villa, Felipe Angeles and Felix Diaz, the latter, according to last reports being in the state of Oaxaca. Considerable significance was attached to the announcement which Mexican officials declined to discuss to-night. It was taken generally as an indication that the de facto government feels the need in the present crisis, of the support of all the Mexican people, and especially of the former military leaders and is offering amnesty in turn.

Agen of the United States Department of Justice learned that General Marcelino Caraveo, formerly one of Orozco's chief lieutenants, who has been a refugee in El Paso, with his family, crossed to Juarez last night.

Brazil Closely Follows Crisis With Mexico

By Associated Press
Rio Janeiro, June 23.—The crisis between Mexico and the United States is being followed with keen interest in Brazil and occupies a large space in the newspapers. The general tone of the editorial comment is that President Wilson, actuated by the best motives, has run afoul of preponderant elements in Mexico which are under German influence.

In official circles hope is expressed that some end must be put to the present intolerable situation so that the pacific development of the peoples of America be assured.

American Refugees Are Getting From Interior of Mexico in Box Cars

By Associated Press
Vera Cruz, June 23.—Five first-class coaches full of Americans arrived here to-night. They will go aboard the battleship Nebraska to-day and afterward be transferred to a transport. A special coach also arrived with the American employees of the Aquila Oil Company. The refugees report that their trip down was uneventful.

James Rodgers, the United States diplomatic representative at Mexico City will arrive here to-morrow with special trains bringing refugees from Real del Monte and Pachuca in 12 boxcars. According to the arrivals from the capital the general belief in Mexico City is that the trouble between the United States and Mexico will finally be settled by arbitration.

GOVERNOR BIDS LAST GOOD-BY

outside the Governor went through the armory, had a look at the kitchens, the mess hall and the sleeping quarters. In the mess hall the men were ready for luncheon and the long tables were piled high with bread, etc. The Governor stopped at one plate, picked up a slice of bread and ate a portion of it. He placed the rest in his vest pocket.

"Just for good luck, sir," he said smilingly to Captain George C. Jack, Governor Brumbaugh made the rounds of the armories in his car and only William Ball, his private secretary accompanied him.

The Big Event
The visit of the Governor was the big event at both the cavalry and the infantry armories to-day—the last day before the men entrain for Mt. Gretna and, who knows—perhaps Mexico and beyond.

Late this afternoon First Sergeant Charles Kline distributed the equipment, including saddles, etc. The men put in the remainder of the day packing. The troopers have been ordered to entrain about 6 or 6:30 o'clock Sunday and when the command leaves the armory it will be filled to its full complement. A waiting list of enough desirable recruits to fill another troop will be sent on to Gretna later.

The Whistling Chorus
The first night in the armory last evening was a memorable one. The men had cots on the drill floor but there was little sleep for anybody until about an hour or so before dawn this morning. Second Lieutenant Roberts, who remained on duty until the early hours heard pretty good evidence of the joyous wakefulness of the troopers sometime 'round 2 o'clock.

The troop to a man joined in a whistling chorus that lasted for several hours. Over and over again the words of the popular song "On My Way to Mandalay" echoed through the deserted Eighth ward—and there was whistling in every possible key. "On My Way to Mandalay," was the favorite and "Good-by, Little Girl, Good-by," was a good second choice.

Some Who "Want to Go"
Sometime before 3 o'clock whistling lost its charm and the troopers let loose what was left of their enthusiasm in long cheers—for each man.

Recruiting is going on a pace at the Troop armory. Telegrams arrive from time to time from ex-members of the command who are willing and eager to come from out-of-town to join the "Troop." The ranks of the State police, all ex-members wrote Captain Jack that they'll enlist if they can arrange to have their positions kept open for them. Another busy recruit added to the "Troop's" ranks to-day was David McConnell, famous throughout this section of the State as a basketball player. Several ex-regular cavalrymen have joined including one man who only a few weeks ago saw active service in Mexico with "G" troop of the Twelfth Cavalry.

Col. Telt a Visitor
Ex-troop officers have been frequent visitors to the armory. Among those who spent a good part of the day there was Lieutenant Colonel F. M. Ott, former commander of the Troop. Grant Koons, ex-first sergeant, and a host of others. Mothers, sisters and wives are frequent visitors at the Troop armory, and proud troopers are having the time of their lives "showing" 'em about."

For an hour or so to-day the troopers got a taste of rifle and pistol drill. Saber drills have been discarded although the men when mounted will carry this weapon along. No drilling with horses even for the recruits will be possible before the men get to Mt. Gretna at least, and possibly not even then. The raw recruit may not get a chance to straddle a mount before he gets to the border.

The "Chief" of the Body Guard
Shortly before 12 o'clock to-day Trumpeter Paul E. Kurzenknebe sounded "assembly" and a few minutes later the entire troop lined up in the street. Then the long gray car of the State's chief executive magistrate slipped out to the curb.

Captain Jack met Governor Brumbaugh and his staff and at the Governor's request escorted him to the right of the line. As the Governor stopped for a moment to each man he said:

A Governor's "Good-by"
"Let me congratulate you on your splendid appearance. The country would surely be in a bad way if it did not have such as you to fall back upon. I've more than a kindly interest in you men; the Troop is the governor's bodyguard, you know. I've followed your work carefully. Your work at Pittsburgh was particularly commendable. Ah," he nodded appreciatively as he noted an ex-regular with automatic slung to his hip, "YOU seem to be fully prepared for real service. My best wishes go with you. Take care of yourselves, boys. Good-by and good luck—wherever you go!"

While inspecting the armory the Governor heartily commended Captain Jack upon the splendid condition of the men. And after he had broken bread, the assembled troopers gave a real cavalryman's cheer to the departing executive.

Governor Brumbaugh talked from the platform of the infantry armory to the assembled men of Companies D and L. He complimented them on their splendid appearance, fitness and patriotism and said that as always Pennsylvania's Guardsmen stand ever ready to uphold the honor of the Flag. Prior to meeting the men upstairs Governor Brumbaugh met Colonel Maurice E. Finney and the other officers of the Eighth in the officers' room.

"Rookies" to-day got their first try-out with rifles in the open lots near the armory. New names were added to the rosters, too. Company I now boasts of 101 men on its rolls and Company D has a few less with would-be recruits on the waiting list. Three brothers enlisted in Company I this morning from New Cumberland. They are Earl, Charles and Phillip Bickley. The Message of the Clover
When Colonel Finney, Captain Owen

M. Copelin, inspector of small arms, and Captain Harry H. Baker, the Eighth's adjutant opened their mail at the armory this morning, each found a little unsigned note containing these three words:

"Good-by and good luck!"
At the top of each little sheet was a single four-leafed clover.

Officers Assigned to Staff of Major Clement

General orders assigning officers to the staff of Major General Clement were issued last night. The assignments are:

Lieutenant Colonel Samuel W. Jaffer, St. Inspector of small arms practice; Lieutenant Colonel Frank M. Vandling, chief quartermaster; Major Samuel W. Rhoads, adjutant; Major Cleon N. Bernthelz, judge advocate; Major Herbert A. Arnold, surgeon; Major William Judd Crookston, sanitary inspector; Captain Samuel D. Foster, quartermaster; Major Walter C. Sterling, with supply train; Captain Richard W. Watson, with supply train.

The following officers were ordered on duty as camp staff officers, for the period beginning June 24:

Colonel Fred Taylor Pusey, Adjutant General's Department; Colonel Howard S. Williams, Ordnance Department; and Colonel Harry C. Trexler, Lieutenant Colonel Lewis A. Anshutz, Major Frank L. Mueller, Major Hui-zing C. Byers, Major J. Clyde Miller, Major Marshal Henderson, Major Geo. H. Smith, Captain George W. Minds, Captain John M. McFort, Captain Eugene E. Grim, Captain Jere M. Leaman, Captain J. Roderick Taylor and Captain William L. Hicks, Quartermaster Corps.

FIRE COMPANIES, TOO
Fire Chief John C. Kandler announced late this afternoon that every fire company in the department would turn out to-morrow and assist in the escort of the local military companies to the Pennsylvania Railroad station.
