READ WHAT THE GIRLS IN ROBINSON'S WOMAN SHOP HAVE TO SAY

No doubt we have served you at one time or another but at no time have we been able to give you the service and values that we can give you now at Robinson's Woman Shop.

It is indeed a pleasure to serve you here—stocks are all perfect, as we carry no seconds, nor do we buy goods for sale purposes.

The policy here does not permit us to urge you into a purchase and we are instructed to try as many garments on you without any obligation on your part to make a purchase.

We do not charge for alterations at any time, not even do we charge for alterations on Wash Dress Skirts.

Whenever you are down town be sure and favor us with a call, as it will be a pleasure for us to show you the last-minute styles—also why Robinson's Woman Shop has become so popular.

Hoping to have the pleasure of a call—and thanking you for any favors shown us in the past—

We are yours to serve you.

Low Expenses Mean Big Savings For You

THE STRUGGLES OF A WIFE

By Virginia Terhune Van de Water

CHAPTER XLVII

Sylvia Ainslie did not speak again until Mr. Hendricks had carefully turned his buggy around. Then she looked at Dayton.

Grace answered for him. "No—for that would mean that Mr. Dayton must sit in his wet clothes for an hour and a half longer, and he would run the risk of catching his death of cold. We'll walk."

"It does seem to be the only thing to do," he acquiesced slowly. "But think of your white shoes."

"They will clean perfectly," she informed him. Then, to Sylvia—"May I suggest you to tell my mother that I am perfectly safe and that I will probably reach home by dark?"

"But I fear we won't," the man remarked as the buggy started and they began their journey afoot.

"What if we don't?" the girl said lightly. "I enjoy experiences, and this surely has been one."

As she glanced at her companion she saw in his eyes a gleam of admiration which she could not understand. For she knew that she splashed along in the mud, her white dress tumbled and creased, her once white shoes already encrusted with dirt, her hair clinging in moist strands about her face and neck.

She untied the white chiffon veil and took it off, folding it carefully. It was fairly new, and might yet be saved. She would not keep it on, even if she was a fright without it.

But the man at her side saw a very different creature from that her fancy painted. He noted the graceful figure, the ready smile, the wide, expressive eyes.

GRACE NOT TIRED.

It was near the end of the last mile that he spoke out his thought. They had paused to rest for a minute and to watch the glow fading out of the west, where the sun had gone down a half hour ago.

"Are you fearfully tired?" he inquired anxiously. She answered, "Of course not," she answered. "I can't tell you," she said, "how sorry I am for all the discomfort I have put you through."

"Don't be advised," for I am not sorry a bit. We've had a walk that I never should have thought of taking but for the remarkable drive that preceded it."

Her evident sincerity gave him courage to speak the words that came surging up from his heart, but that, until now, he would have considered it presumptuous to utter.

"You're a dear little sport!" he exclaimed. She laughed tremulously. "All my life I've wanted to be considered a sport, although I've never been able to live up to the title," she said.

To Be Continued.

Your Grocer Will Have Plenty MONEY-BACK Bread Tomorrow

Don't blame your grocer if you haven't been able to get MONEY-BACK Bread. It's our fault. We couldn't foresee the OVERWHELMING demand for MONEY-BACK Bread. But rest assured there will be plenty for all from now on.

You know the old saying, "It never rains but it pours." We expected a big demand for when we told the good folks of this city what fine bread it was and asked you to try it at our risk—money back if not satisfied—but we were simply deluged by the unparalleled demand for this new bread.

Every record for the sale of bread in this city has been smashed. The previous high sale for any bread falls far short of the sale to which MONEY-BACK Bread has instantly jumped.

Your Grocer Will Have Plenty of MONEY-BACK Bread for All, Tomorrow

We are now fully prepared to meet every demand. Order a loaf of your grocer, tomorrow, sure. Good idea to phone your order tonight.

You have a real treat in store for you in MONEY-BACK Bread. You'll say it's the best bread you ever tasted. We say—try it—and if you don't pronounce it the finest bread you have ever eaten, whether home made, or bakery made, you can get your money back.

It's sold in 10 cent loaves because better bread can be baked in big loaves than in small. Twice the size—Twice the quality.

A NEW ICED COCOA

[The Searchlight.] Of the many uses to which cocoa may be put, none is more popular than iced cocoa. Serve it in high glasses for tennis parties, luncheon or afternoon teas; or it could also be used as a desert.

Take one quart of milk that has been brought to the boil, with four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Put into a bowl two good tablespoonfuls of cocoa; mix with it by degrees one cup of cold water, and when it is of the consistency of a smooth paste mix into it the boiling milk and stir it on the fire till it is boiling; then strain it through a strainer and put it aside till cold. Freeze it to the consistency of a thick batter; then, when ready to serve, fill tall glasses with it and place on the top of each about a dessert-spoonful of snow cream.

Snow Cream—Put two cups of cold water into a bowl or steppan with a quarter pint of thick cream, the strained juice of a lemon and four tablespoonfuls of sugar; whip this mixture quickly with a whisk until the top is frothy like snow, remove the froth with a spoon and place it on a hair sieve to drain.

A Pen For the Armless Man

[The Searchlight.] One of the newest inventions for the benefit of the man who has been deprived of his arms is a pen which can be comfortably held between the teeth. It is the invention of an American dentist. It includes a mouth piece moulded to fit the lower teeth. The upper teeth rest on this and hold the pen in a fixed position. This leaves the muscles of the lips free. The pen has three joints giving it flexibility. The pen-point can be taken off and a pencil substituted at the will of the user. The inventor believes that the flexible handle and the mouth piece holding it firmly by the teeth will be adaptable to other small tools, including paint brushes and small chisels for fine wood carving.

AN INKSPOT REMOVER

The housewife may borrow another help from the office supply shelf, in the shape of the chemical ink eradicator used by bookkeepers. Two small bottles of chemicals, in a paper case, contain the secret of instantly removing ink spots without leaving a trace, when the chemicals are applied in quick succession. The eradicator works quite as well on white cloth as on paper, and is a good thing to have at hand on the desk or writing table.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME SLIM

A Simple, Safe And Reliable Way That Calls For No Drastic Diet or Tiresome Exercises

Fat people, particularly those who weigh from 10 to 30 pounds more than they should, have been much interested in the remarkable reports that have recently been published of the manner in which weight is being safely reduced by what is known as the fresh air method combined with the use of ordinary oil of korein. This plan, which is so strongly recommended and endorsed is very simple and makes unnecessary starvation diets, dangerous drugs, sweating or weakening processes or strenuous exercise. Satisfy your appetite with plenty of good substantial food, but do not eat more than you need as this overtaxes your organs of assimilation. It is important to get plenty of fresh air, breathing it deeply into the lungs and to take with each meal a few drops of oil of korein in capsule form which you can obtain from any good druggist. If you have been getting too stout, this plan is well worth trying. Breathe in all the fresh air you can get as the oxygen in the air consumes fat while the oil of korein capsules, taken one with each meal and one before you go to bed, are designed to reduce fatty accumulations in the system wherever located. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps digestion and costs little. Even a few days following of these simple directions has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, with the flesh firm, the skin smooth and the general health improved. In fact your footsteps may appear lighter to you, your work seem easier and you may easily come to gain a pound or health and strength with every pound of flesh you lose. Every person ten pounds or more overweight can well afford to give this reducing system a trial.—Advertisement.

BUNGALOW DRESS IN KIMONO STYLE

Easy Laundering Is Quite an Item When Making Clothes For Summer

By MAY MANTON

9055 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Bungalow Dress or Apron, Small 34 or 36, Medium 38 or 40, Large 42 or 44 bust.

What we know as bungalow frock and bungalow aprons are the simple ones that mean little labor for the making and little labor for the laundering. This one is made in the pretty kimono style that is generally becoming. If it is made full length it becomes a gown if it is cut off shorter it can be utilized as an apron, and in either case, it is drawn over the head and the closing is effected by a little lacing in the front, in middy style. Consequently it can be adjusted in a jiffy. In the illustration, striped linen is trimmed with the same material in a plain color. For the medium size will be needed, 5 1/2 yards of material 27 inches wide, 5 1/4 yards 36 or 4 1/4 yards 44, with 1/4 yard 36 inches wide for the trimming. The pattern No. 9055 is cut in three sizes, small 34 or 36, medium 38 or 40, large 42 or 44. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

WOMEN LOSING TELEGRAM FEAR

Thousands of Western Union Night Letters on Breakfast Tables Daily

In the present prosperity of the Western Union Telegraph Company reflected in the steady advance of its stock, predicated upon an increase in net income for the last quarter of 30 per cent. over the same quarter in 1915, no small part has been played by the avidity with which the American public has seized upon the use of the night letter for both business and social communication. While there is also a large use of the day letter, its use had not approximated the use of the night letter, which can be sent up to 2 o'clock in the morning from any part of the United States to any other part to be delivered at breakfast time. Six years ago there were no night letters in the United States. A catastrophe destroys the Western Union system, its lines will carry approximately 40,000 night letters of fifty words each. There will be about two-thirds that number of day letters sent. Of the 100,000,000 messages a year sent over the Western Union lines, 12,000,000 are night letters. Illustrating the remarkable growth of this auxiliary to the telegraph service. About 8,000,000 day letters are sent annually. This growth has taken place in the case of the night letters since 1910, and in the case of day letters since 1912. The increase in the last year has been about 25 per cent., and the company expects a like increase in the coming year.

12,000,000 Night Letters a Year
 The night letter was started by the Western Union in 1910 because it wished to make some use of its great facilities during idle at night. It was decided to make the experiment of giving its patrons the opportunity to send fifty words at night for the cost of a ten-word day message, to be delivered at the start of business the next day. The idea took from the start. Business men found they could send their day's business important information at the start of the next day's business quicker than a letter, by days in some cases, and much cheaper than the old rate of message. Then the man away from home began to send his wife a night letter, which she read at breakfast the next morning. Business houses began to send appeals to customers by the night letter. Then the Western Union went after the business in earnest and now there are 12,000,000 night letters annually.

Women's Fear of Telegram
 But the old-time fear of the telegram has not been altogether overcome by the night letter. Only this month, when the nation-wide use of the night letter was suggested in connection with the celebration of Mother's Day on May 14, by which sons and daughters could send words of cheer to their mothers at home, it was suggested that the mothers would receive a fear along with the telegram which would counteract the words of cheer they would read when they opened it. It was at first suggested that special envelopes be used which would bear the words "This is a Mother's Day telegram." This was discarded because it was too expensive. Special Mother's Day blanks were furnished and the rest of the problem was solved by instructing all messenger boys delivering such messages to say to their mothers, "This is a Mother's Day message." Telegram officials hope even this precaution will not be necessary in a year or two. Telegram officials believe that the business and social possibilities of the telegraph have only been tapped. They believe there will be more new uses and greater applications of the service. As the night letter was inaugurated in 1910 to supply a use for facilities at night, the day letter was started to supply a use for facilities in the daytime. The "valleys" in the service are the "peaks" in the business at 10 o'clock in the morning, at noon and at the closing of business around 4.30 o'clock. Between the peaks are "valleys."

The day letter of fifty words is sent during the "valley" period of business that follows the regular business messages. The charge is one-and-a-half times that of the night letter.

FRENCH STRAWBERRIES

Wash and hull large strawberries, allowing six or eight to a person; cut fresh ripe pineapple in strips about one-quarter inch thick and one inch long, and insert in the berries to replace the hulls. Arrange individually and garnish with whipped cream which has been sweetened to taste with powdered sugar. Turn into a glass dish that has been lined with lady fingers and heap whipped cream on top. Will serve eight to ten people.

Strawberry Parfait

For strawberry parfait press sweet ripe berries through a sieve to measure about three-quarters of a cupful of pulp. Cook together, without stirring, until it forms a thread, a cupful of granulated sugar and half as much water. Pour this syrup over the whites of two eggs, beaten stiff, beating constantly as you pour. Beat until cold, adding the strawberry pulp a spoonful at a time. Then fold in a pint of cream, whipped stiff and pack the mixture in a covered mold. Pack away in salt and ice for three hours.

Strawberry Whip

Clean one quart strawberries, stew in two-thirds cup of water, pressing through colander, beat in one large tablespoon butter and cup of sugar with the yolks of two eggs. Allow fruit to cool and fold in the stiffly whipped egg whites, beaten with a tablespoon of powdered sugar. Turn into a glass dish that has been lined with lady fingers and heap whipped cream on top. Will serve eight to ten people.

Strawberry Acid

One quart water, two ounces citric acid, three pounds strawberries. Add the citric acid to the water and let come to a boil. Hull and wash the berries and pour over them the boiling water. Let stand 24 hours, then drain off the juice, and to each quart, add an equal weight of sugar. Boil three minutes, cork tightly and stand aside 30 days before using.

Cleaning Set to Music

[The Searchlight.] A dry cleaning establishment in St. Louis has added a phonograph to its equipment. The work of the establishment includes a good deal of ironing and pressing. The phonograph is kept busy turning out lively music and the workers at the ironing board unconsciously move in time with the music, greatly accelerating their speed. The idea has been taken from the South American countries where music is considered one of the necessities of life and is furnished in some form in almost all industries. The proprietor claims a ten per cent. increase in the amount of work turned out in the same period of time since the phonograph has been installed.
