BETHLEHEM STEEL GAINS 17 POINTS

.524 .488 .429 .211 Outstanding Feature of Market Featured by Settlement of Accounts

> New York, June 24.-To-day's short ession was mainly devoted to the settlement of accounts in which the short interests evidently deemed it wise to cover outstanding contracts. The movement of prices was confusing at times, the list showing no very decided tendency until towards the end when general improvement was manifested.

Trading was light and largely restricted to specialties, rails showing little activity but a fair degree of strength. United States Steel was again conspicuously steady and Bethlehem Steel gained 17 points. Mexicans moved irregularly with shipping shares and beet sugar, but industrial Alcohol and Tennessee Copper were under further pressure. The closing was firm. Bonds were steady.

Through Injury to Tilden

Wilmington, Del., June 24. — J. J. Armstrong, Merion, won the right to challenge George M. Church, the present title holder for the Delaware State tennis championship yesterday, by winning from W. T. Tilden, 2d, of Cynwyd, by default. The default was forced when the sets stood two-all through a strained ligament which has bothered Tilden since his match with Craig Biddle. The pain became so acute during the fourth set that in the last two games Tilden occupied the position of back stop for his opponent's placements. Armstrong, in a sportsmanlike manner, gave his suffering opponent time to get the offending leg in shape for the deciding set A trip to the clubhouse and an attempt to get Tilden in condition was made. The attempt was unsuccessful, however, and after three points had been played in the first game the Cynwyd man was forced to give up the fight, as he was almost unable to stand without support, much less play tennis. Albert Hoskins, the umpire, then awarded the match to Armstrong. Railway Southern Railway

Johnson Is Not in Favor of Pinch Hitter Habit

of Pinch Hitter Habit

Chicago, June 24. — The pinch hitter craze, with which baseball managers appear to have become afflicted, has a strong opponent in B. B. Johnson, president of the American League according to a statement made public by him here yesterday. He declared that he favored baseball legislation to curb the pinch hitter habit.

Mr. Johnson thinks that managers by constantly shifting their pitchers are not only injuring the pitchers, but are reducing the interest felt by steady patrons of the game in the players.

"They are making a Joke of the pitchers by taking them out of the game if a couple of hits are made in succession, or by removing a pitcher who is doing well, to permit some bench-warmer to go to bat and strike out for a man or fly out for him," said out, Johnson.

"What methods can be adopted to curb the tendency I do not know, but it seems as if some rational way could be found that would benefit everybody without in the least handicapping the manager."
