DECLARATION OF WAR RESTS UPON CARRANZA'S ANNOUNCEMENT OF POLICY

Expected Hourly to Reply to Note Requesting Release of Prisoners; Course of U. S. to Be Determined by De Facto Chief's Final Statement Rather Than on Carrizal Battle

Mt. Gretna, Pa., June 26.—Mexico looms upon the immediate horizon for Philadelphia First Brigade. The honor of being the first Pennsylvania troops to be sent to the Mexican border in response to President Wilson's call has fallen to General W. G. Price's brigade of infantry, to field hospital No. 2, of Philadelphia; company B, engineer battalion, of Philadelphia, together with company A, engineers battalion, from Scranton, and the field battalion of signal troops from Pittsburgh.

Orders for these commands are to entrain "at once" for a destination which has not as yet been made public.

General Price was utterly inaccessible for the time being because of pressure of military business, but it was manifested from his manner that he was intensely proud of the tribute paid his brigade. Every man who could by hook or crook get leave from another command long enough to do so, made his way to the lines of the First brigade and the other troops named to congratulate them.

The engineers formed their companies and paraded about their company street cheering and singing. At almost the same time the "marching orders" were received came word that twenty-four carloads of ammunition were on their way here from the Allegheny arsenal at Pittsburgh, and probably will arrive to-night. The railroads are hard at work assembling the troop trains which will carry the men and their baggage and equipment, the quartermaster corps is bending efforts to assemble the great volumes of equipment necessary and to prepare the immense quantity of travel rations which will be necessary to the subsistence of the troops enroute.

Washington, June 26.—Whether a state of war shall exist between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico depends upon the formal declaration of policy by General Carranza expected hourly to-day in response to the note telegraphed to Mexico City yesterday by Secretary Lansing.

The American government will insist upon the immediate release of the cavalymen captured at Carrizal, as demanded in the note, but high officials of the administration explain in interpreting the communication that the course of the United States will be determined by Carranza's final statement of his intentions toward the American expedition in Mexico to protect the border, rather than on the specific circumstances of the Carrizal incident.

Await Captain Morey's Report The War Department had not received at an early hour the letter from Captain Lewis S. Morey, of the Tenth cavalry, giving the first official American version of the fighting at Carrizal. It had been advised, however, that Morey was safe at one of General Pershing's camps and a complete report on the affair was expected promptly.

The published text of Captain Morey's letter was construed as indicating that the American force was to some extent responsible for the clash. Officials noted this fact but said that an official account from Captain Morey would be the basis of judgment rather than the hurried note written by a man who was expecting death and was suffering from wounds and thirst.

Not Founded on Fight It was pointed out, however, that Secretary Lansing's note did not contain its demands upon a statement that the Mexicans precipitated the fight. Apparently the question has no direct connection with the course President Wilson is pursuing. The Mexican note saying General Carranza personally directed that General Trevino resist

Go All the Way to Iowa to See Brother Before He Goes to the Front

Miss Hazel Cole, a trained nurse, residing at 234 South Fourteenth street, and her sister, Miss Violet Cole, 1623 Chestnut street, bookkeeper for the Harrisburg Baking Company, left Saturday night at 10 o'clock for Des Moines, Iowa. Their one hope was to reach a brother, Jack, a prominent business man, who has been ordered to Mexico, and whom they have not seen in five years.

COLLIDES WITH WARSHIP

New York, June 26.—The Massachusetts nautical training ship Ranger was in collision with a British warship, believed to be one of the merchant auxiliary cruisers on patrol duty off Montauk Point, at the eastern tip of Long Island. A wireless message received later at the Brooklyn navy yard indicated that neither vessel was seriously damaged. The ships exchanged profers from Maine to Florida; also in the lower Missouri and Upper Mississippi valleys, over the Lake Superior region and in Manitoba, and there have been showers in the Northwest States and in British Columbia. Temperatures are 2 to 10 degrees higher than on Saturday morning at a majority of the stations represented on the map. In the Upper Ohio Valley, interior of New York State and in Virginia and the South Atlantic States it is slightly cooler.

HUGHES BACK IN NEW YORK

New York, June 26.—Charles E. Hughes returned to New York to-day from Bridgehampton, L. I. He planned to continue his conferences here with party leaders in regard to campaign plans and his speech of acceptance.

HETTY GREEN ILL

New York, June 26.—The condition of Mrs. Hetty Green was described at her home here to-day as "very favorable." Denial was made that she was suffering from a stroke of paralysis. Colonel Edward H. R. Green, her son, said the illness was not serious.

EIGHTH REGIMENT CANVAS AT MT. GRETTA

By nightfall Saturday the Eighth Regiment troops were under canvas. At the top is a birdseye view of the companies with the regimental headquarters in the foreground. The hills surrounding Governor Dick form a picturesque scene looming up back of the white tents. Below on the left is Captain H. H. Baker, Colonel Maurice E. Finney, commander of the Eighth; Captain Owen M. Copelin and Major Henry A. Reminger, Fourth Brigade adjutant, conferring on the location of the tents. On the right are the men of Company I stretching their canvas.

CAMP BRUMBAUGH IS ELECTRIFIED BY MARCHING ORDER

Gen. Price Plans to Have Men Entrained Fully Equipped and Mustered Tomorrow

EXAMINING EIGHTH

Harrisburg Soldiers Undergoing Medical Routine; Close Camp to Visitors

[From a Staff Correspondent.] Division Headquarters, Camp Brumbaugh, Mt. Gretna, Pa., June 26.—Camp Brumbaugh was electrified this morning by the news from Harrisburg that the First brigade, one battalion of engineers, one field signal corps, one field ambulance corps and one field hospital corps had been ordered to the Mexican border at once. General Price at once began to get his men in readiness to move and they will be on the trains before the sun sets to-morrow night, completely equipped and all mustered into the United States service.

The Eighth regiment, including Companies D and I of Harrisburg, is undergoing medical examination to-day and may be mustered into the service before night. The Governor's troop is also facing the physicians and all of the Harrisburg guardsmen will be inoculated against typhoid fever before nightfall.

Col. S. W. Miller, formerly a United States recruiting officer in Harrisburg arrived in camp this morning on an errand he did not divulge. He was warmly greeted by men of the Guard who learned to know him while in Harrisburg. He has a host of friends who were glad to see him back.

Final Preparations Under Way Final preparations were being made at the Pennsylvania mobilization camp to-day for the movement to the Mexican border of part of the troops concentrated here. Orders were received Special Trainload of Tobacco For France From Lancaster Co.

Lancaster, Pa., June 26.—Until a few days ago it had been years since a special trainload of Lancaster county-grown tobacco has left this city. The train, over the Reading Railway, consisted of forty-three cars, and contained 2,000 cases of 1909 tobacco. Its destination is France and Belgium, and it had been bought at prices ranging from 1 1/2 to 12 1/2 cents a pound.

When agents of foreign Governments began buying it six months ago, it became the only cheap tobacco to be had. It was selling as low as 6 and 7 cents a pound, and fully 25,000 cases were for sale. The demand has sent the prices up to 12, 13 and 14 cents a pound.

Big Crowd Bids Farewell to Newly Enlisted Men at P. R. R. Station

Just 101 more "rookies" from Harrisburg entrained to-day for Mt. Gretna where they will join the other boys in Companies D and I, Eighth Regiment, and the Governor's Troop. The recruits were hustled off to the mobilization camp under rush orders. Those enlisted in the infantry companies entrained at 11:20, but the

DON'T FORGET RELIEF FUND!

Add Your Bit of Telegraph's Fund For Families of Enlisted Men

Now that most of the enlisted men have left Harrisburg for the mobilization camp at Mt. Gretna, let us not forget the high duty imposed upon those who remain behind to care for the families and those dependent upon the soldiers who have responded to the call of their country.

In the excitement of the last few days this important matter may have been in a measure overlooked, but now that the boys have gone out in the performance of duty, it is time to

Associated Ad Clubs' Convention Under Way

Philadelphia, June 26.—The thousands of delegates to the twelfth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World were welcomed to-day by Governor Brumbaugh, Mayor Smith, Provost Smith, of the University of Pennsylvania, and Robert H. Durbin, president of the Poor Richard Club. William Woodhead, of San Francisco, responded to addresses of welcome at this morning's session. Reports of the officers were received and this afternoon an advertising mass meeting was held. A street parade will be held to-night. The first division will portray The History of Advertising in pageantry; the second, a display of those accomplishments in which Philadelphia has been first, and the third will consist of the visiting clubs.

THINK LOCAL MAN DIED AT CARRIZAL

Friends Believe His Body Lies on Sand-Swept Carrizal Plain

Somewhere on the arid, sand-swept plain about Carrizal, where Captain Boyd's heroic men made their last stand less than a week ago, lies the body of Robert Williams, a former Harrisburger, his friends here believe.

Young Williams was a private in Troop K of the "Fighting Tenth," one of the commands that bravely marched into the Mexican death-trap and in face of annihilation fought off superior numbers for five hours.

He is the son of the late Clarence Williams, known to Harrisburg baseball fans as a member of the famous "Cuban Giants," a policeman and a waiter. Like his father, he also was a baseball player, and was well known by the fans. When not playing baseball Williams was employed at the Central Construction and Supply Company's asphalt plant, in Seventh street, or as a driver for Gates & Co., coal dealers.

Private Williams enlisted a few years ago, shortly after the Tenth passed through Harrisburg. His friends here have been watching the list of survivors of Boyd's last stand, but so far his name has not been included. The name Williams, however, is included in the list of prisoners.

PROGRESSIVES URGED TO BACK HUGHES BY T. R.

Col. Roosevelt Finally Declines Bull Moose Presidential Nomination and Strongly Endorses Republican Candidate in Letter to National Committee; Writes of Spiritual and Industrial Preparedness

ASSERTS MR. WILSON HAS BEEN TRIED AND FOUND WANTING; PARTY AGAINST NATIONALISM

In Pledging "Ungrudging Support of Mr. Hughes," Col. Roosevelt Says We Have the Alternative of Continuing in Office a Lamentable Failure or Putting Into Office an Administration Which Will Function For Honor of All

Chicago, June 26.—Theodore Roosevelt, in a letter read to the Progressive National Committee in session to-day finally declined to accept the Presidential nomination of the party and strongly urged the organization to support Charles E. Hughes. The Colonel's letter was read by Oscar King Davis, secretary of the committee.

To the Progressive National Committee:

"Gentlemen—In accordance with the message I sent to the Progressive National Convention as soon as I had received the notification that it had nominated me for President, I now communicate to you my reasons for declining the honor which I so deeply appreciate. Since the adjournment of the Convention, I have received between two and three thousand letters and telegrams from men who had supported me for the nomination, the majority expressing the desire that I would refuse to run, while a minority urged that I should accept the nomination. As it is a physical impossibility to answer these letters and telegrams individually, I beg of the courtesy of the senders that they will accept this public statement in lieu of such answers. "Before speaking of anything else, I wish to express my heartiest and most unstinted admiration for the character and services of the

CAPTAIN MOREY SENDS STORY OF FIGHT

Carrizal, Mex., June 21.—The letter written by Captain Morey on the scene of the battle when he believed he was dying, sent to General Funston and for which army officers at Washington are waiting gives the following summary of the fight: "Captain Boyd was under the impression that the Mexicans would run as soon as we fired. We formed for attack. When we were within 300 yards the Mexicans opened fire, a strong one before we fired a shot. Then we opened up. They did not run. To make a long story short, after about an hour's fight the Mexicans worked around to our rear and run our horses off. Before machine gun fire our men fell back and scattered."

ANOTHER CLASH IS REPORTED

Columbus, N. M., June 26.—A report was current here to-day that another clash of American and Carranza troops had occurred in the vicinity of Villa Ahumada. Army officers here have not confirmed it.
