MEXICO WANTS TO INVESTIGATE FRAY

released and complaining against the unofficial embargo against shipment of foodstuffs and merchandise across the boundary into Mexico.

Wants Moral Backing
Carranza's delay in replying is believed here to be due largely to his hope to have South and Central American countries agree fully to his course before he takes a final step.

President Wilson had a busy day. He received a long line of Senators and Representatives and shook hands with more than a hundred persons. Senator Lewis, of Illinois, one of the callers, discussed the Mexican problem.

"The President expressed the wish to me," Senator Lewis said, "that whatever discussion there might be in Congress on the Mexican situation should be conducted entirely in a non-partisan manner."

John R. Silliman, consul at Sattillo, who now is at Eagle Pass, Texas, advised the State Department of the receipt by Dr. Atl, editor of a Mexican labor paper, of a telegram from General Carranza saying he was prepared to do everything possible to avoid a break with the United States.

The German resistance to the Russian offensive in Volynia has been further strengthened. Berlin announces a gain of ground west of Sokul on the Styr, where the village of Winiewka and positions to the south were taken by storm from the Russians.

British Continue Regular Pounding of German Points

British Headquarters in France, Tuesday, June 27, via London, June 28.—British guns continued to-day the bombardment over a broad front which was begun yesterday. The Associated Press correspondent riding seventy miles behind the lines found the same regular pounding of position on both days whether in the Somme region or along the Vimy ridge.

Going to a point on high ground which showed a broad sweep of vision in a rolling country or forward to observation posts in the trenches, the correspondent found the horizon always bounded by shell bursts. There might be a lull at one point for a while but south or inferno in that direction was renewed.

Under cover of the bombardment the British made numerous trench raids last night, bringing in groups of prisoners.

The British released gas at certain points but discontinued this when the weather was found to be unfavorable.

Berne, Switzerland, June 28.—Reports have reached here that serious rioting occurred in Leipzig at the end of last week, involving about 1,800 shops, chiefly those of bakers, butchers and provision dealers, were pillaged.

MUCH INTEREST IN NEW YORK DINNER

dorsed his candidacy, will dine together. It was announced, however, that their meeting would be a "private and personal one" and that no statement would be forthcoming as to the subjects they would discuss.

Willcox in Charge
William R. Willcox, lawyer, former postmaster of New York and until 1913 chairman of the Public Service Commission of New York, who was named last night as the probable National committee, is a personal and political friend of the nominee. His selection results from Mr. Hughes' desire to have as chairman a resident of New York, known to him personally, a man somewhat removed from recent political developments, not allied with any faction of the party and acceptable to Republicans and Progressives alike.

Chairman Willcox announced that he would soon open headquarters in New York and would devote his entire time to the campaign. The other officers and the executive committee will be appointed by the sub-committee, which also will name the two vice-chairmen for the Chicago and Pacific coast offices.

Roosevelt May Take Stump
Whether Colonel Roosevelt would make a tour in behalf of Mr. Hughes was discussed at the Hughes headquarters last night. A cabinet possibility that former President William H. Taft would be asked to make a number of speeches for the ticket.

The new chairman of the National committee, William R. Willcox, is a native of Smyrna, Chenango county, 53 years ago.

He began practicing law in this city in 1890 and under Seth Low and Mayor served as president of the Park Board in 1902 and 1903. For two years, beginning in 1905, he was postmaster and in 1907 Mr. Hughes, then Governor of the State, appointed him chairman of the Public Service Commission.

St. Louis Is Selected by Ad Men's Next Meeting

Philadelphia, June 28.—St. Louis was to-day selected as the 1917 convention city of the Associated Advertising Club of the World now meeting here. Cincinnati was St. Louis' strongest opponent.

Numerous meetings of the various departmental and sectional bodies were on the program and many interesting papers on various features of advertising were read and discussed. Visits to points of historical interest, luncheons and other entertainments were also on the program.

An asphalt ball was a novelty provided for to-night. A square in Broad street was washed and scrubbed and delegates and others will dance on the thoroughfare to music furnished by the city's band. A cabaret under the auspices of the New England delegation provided another feature.

ALGERIAN REVOLT QUELLED

The rebels offered desperate resistance and were only defeated after their principal stronghold had been stormed by two French columns. Their leaders then surrendered.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

The last addition to the authors collaborating with the Pathe Exchange in giving to the public the novelized versions of film productions, is Louis Tracy, the English novelist.

"The most radical change that is to be found in London theaters," writes George Reiph, who recently returned to perform military service, "is the policy of making matinees the principal performance in compliance with the daylight saving measures now in force. All performances now open an hour earlier than usual. At first London playgoers, who make the theater a fashionable gathering place, balked at transferring such functions to the afternoon. It was the fear of Zeppelin raids which recoiled them, and the changing of the long-established schedule.

There seems to be not a little possibility of a merry fight going on between the stage and motion picture enterprises relative to the playlet vs. the one, two or three-act films. There is, however, quite a concerted movement on foot to establish the playlet, and several individual attempts during the past winter seem to justify the thought that it might really amount to a general adoption. However, certain film companies are in line and are making the shorter films. What the result will be is a matter for coming months to settle.

The Perfect Corn Flakes

New Post Toasties are not only inexpensive but they bear a new deliciousness, produced by a new process of cookery—the first to produce corn flakes with the self-developed true corn flavor.

So fine is this flavor that New Post Toasties are wondrous good eaten dry. Unlike common corn flakes, they do not require cream and sugar to make them palatable. Try some that way—you'll appreciate the point, though they're even better when served with cream or good milk.

These New Post Toasties don't mush down in cream, and they are not "chaffy" in the package, like common flakes. They're new in form, new in flavor, and new in appearance. Note the tiny bubbles on each flake—an identifying feature.

Put up in wax-sealed packages, New Post Toasties retain their oven-crispness and flavor until served at your table.

Have your grocer deliver a package for to-morrow's breakfast.

The bill at the Paxtang Park Theater, this week, has many distinctive features. Fontaine has probably the best playlet of any singer that has appeared at the park in this season. Gordon and Day, in their original novelty, "Antics in Cycleland," have a comedy stunt that is the laughing hit of the bill. Billy Morse, with songs and stories, Evelyn May, in a new comedy sketch, entitled "Much at Home," and Zuda and Hoot, in the fiery dragon and the owl complete the bill. On Friday evening will have many protechnical novelties that will be shown at the park before. It is Manager Davis' purpose to get as much variety into the program as possible, and several new features may be looked for with this week's fireworks display.

To-night is the last opportunity you will have to witness the Majestic's vaudeville show, headed by the musical comedy "Girl, Majestic," which features Joe Rolley and Miss Vera Hall. Mr. Rolley is seen as a blackface comedian in the act, and his funny lines cause much hilarity. For other acts, including a timely sketch entitled, "Who Said Peace?" complete the bill. For the last half of the week, a dramatic sketch, with special scenic equipment, entitled "Meadowbrook Lane," will be the headline attraction. The play is by Edegar Allen Woolf and depicts life as it is lived in the rural districts. It is a charming little sketch, and is well presented by a capable company. Grouped around this attraction are: Belmont and Harl, man and woman in piano and singing act; Hoey and Lee, Hebrew comedians, and two other standard acts.

Those who have seen Pauline Frederick in "The Spider" and "Audrey," and her numerous other successes, will "The Moment Before," welcome her at the Regent.

Lovers of strong dramatic productions should see the newest Fox production, "A Man of Sorrow," which is appearing at the Colonial Theater today and to-morrow. The story features William Farnum, the man who is said to receive $100,000 per year for his work on the screen. The picture is based on the celebrated stage success, "Hoodman Blind," and deals with a man who marries one of the two sisters who look exactly alike. When he discovers his sister-in-law in the arms of a stranger he assumes that she is his wife and leaves home. After wandering from place to place in an effort to find a solace for his grief, he eventually comes upon the sister-in-law, who informs him of the fraud which has been perpetrated upon him. A couple of funny Kalem comedies will be on the same program.

ORDER RATE REVISION
Special to the Telegraph
Washington, D. C., June 28.—Holding that water competition between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts has been destroyed under war conditions, the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday ordered transcontinental railroads to revise their rates from the East to the Pacific coast by September 1, so that they should not be lower than rates to intermediate points.

The order was a result of the investigation of rates on application of the Nevada Railroad Commission, the Spokane Merchants' Association and representatives of various intermediate cities.
