CAN'T TOLERATE U. S. TROOPS ANY LONGER

ernment not one but many notes not only discourteous but also naughty to say the least. 140 Mexicans Murdered "During the summer to which the note alludes 140 Mexicans have been murdered in United States territory by American civilians and the same government authorities have also participated, although the two countries were at peace and in none of those cases, although representations have been made to the Department of State through the minister at Washington have the guilty ever been brought to justice or punished. These acts have been committed by Americans in American territory and against Mexicans against the lives and interests of some Americans. The government of Mexico cannot be held responsible for those acts which have taken place in foreign territory and which should be charged to the nationals of another country. Besides the American government was well aware of all these facts before recognizing the constitutionalist government and it now appears irrelevant or out of place to bring these facts forward so as to make a base for an unjustified demand to withdraw the American troops from our territory. Tried to Get Bandits "It is not true that the Mexican government or its authorities had projected or conceived the criminals who are claimed to have committed these depredations and crimes in territory of the United States. This can never be proven by the American government. "The Constitutional government has done all in its power and has gone beyond all efforts to protect the foreigners who are being persecuted to great extent for persisting in remaining in places where conditions were not normal, although its own government on various occasions has asked them not to remain there. "If our own citizens had to suffer a great deal on account of actual conditions, it is not just that foreigners should pretend and expect to be immune. "It is of public domain that persecution of Villa was immediately started and that the marauder bands were soon scattered. "It is a gratuitous imputation of the American Government that the Constitutional government was not anxious to end those incursions or to punish the guilty for the crimes committed. "It is inexact, in every manner of form, the imputation of lack of loyalty on the part of the Constitutional troops which is referred to in the note. "The Constitutional government could not help but consider unlawful the presence of the American troops in Mexican territory because the orders which this army had from its own government and as published by the American press were to commence the persecution of Villa and his bandits, returning to their own territory once these bands were dispersed or that the Constitutional troops should take up the pursuit, as they have done. "Against what is imputed in the note, it is a fact that the Constitutional government has initiated a vigorous prosecution of the outlaw bands remaining in Chihuahua territory and has made a distribution of its forces to put a stop to further invasions of American territory. "It is not that the Constitutional government wishes to leave unpunished the crimes committed by the hands of outlaws, nor that it refuses to capture and destroy or disperse them, but at the same time this government cannot tolerate as it has repeatedly stated to the Department of State the continuous presence of the American troops in Mexican territory, who have no right to be there.

CHILD'S DEATH BLAMED ON BOYS

Mother of Six-Year-Old Drowned in River Holds Playmates Responsible

EDDIE M'AFFE

Older boys who induced six-year-old Eddie M'Affe to play with them along the river yesterday where he was drowned, were severely censured to-day by the grief-stricken mother. At 4 o'clock Mrs. M'Affe sent her son upon the errand from which he never returned. Eddie, whose parents have just moved to their home at 1913 North Fourth street, met some of his new playmates as he left the house. They induced him to go with them to the river where they enjoyed themselves by tossing stones. Eddie was paddling in the water when one of his companions saw him lean over, as though he were going to put his face in the water. When they looked again they saw his body slide into the stream, opposite Muench street. The other boys, seeing they could not rescue him, ran for help. Up until a late hour to-day, rivermen had conducted an unsuccessful search for the boy.

Predicts Farmers Will Make Hay With Overcoats

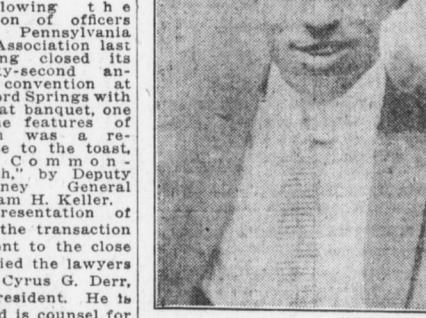

Schuylkill Haven, Pa., June 30.—Gus Luckenbill, the weather prophet, who predicted a year ago that there would be practically no summer this year and that the exact conditions of 1816 would be reproduced, feels satisfied that he is being vindicated by the course of events. Luckenbill says there will be another cool spell next week and farmers will make hay while wearing overcoats. He advises farmers to take advantage of every hour of sunshine while haymaking, as there will be only brief periods of clear skies. He says there will be thunderstorms on the Fourth of July and that there will be several cold waves in the month, while the hot spells will not be prolonged.

Captain Adams, U. S. M. C., Here to Say "Good-by"

Captain Robert A. Adams of the United States marine corps, paid a flying visit to relatives in this city to-day enroute to Norfolk, Va., where he will board one of Uncle Sam's transports under "sealed orders." Captain Adams is one of the youngest officers in the corps, but has an unusually varied service record, having served with the American battle fleet at Vera Cruz, in the Panama Canal Zone, in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines and in China. Whether he will be ordered to the Philippines or Mexico or San Dominican waters is problematical. While one of the youngest officers in the corps Captain Adams is far up the list for promotion to major in a few years, some rifle ball or similar cause permitting, Captain Adams will receive his major's oak leaves.

VALLEY VETERAN JOINS PENSIONERS

William E. Murray, Switchman, Ends Long and Faithful Service

William E. Murray, 1531 Vernon street, switchman for the Cumberland Valley Railroad, ended his active service to-day and to-morrow will join the pension roll of that company. Mr. Murray, who is the father of C. Emmett Murray, alderman of the Third ward, has been in continuous service for forty-eight years and ten months. He retires with an excellent record. He started as a brakeman, his first run being from Chambersburg to Hagerstown. His first promotion was to run between Chambersburg and Bridgeport, now Lemoyne. Next he became yardmaster at Bridgeport and was conductor of the train running between that point and Dillsburg. Two years later when traffic became too heavy, he was given the position of yardmaster, which he held for eighteen years. On account of an injury to his leg he was later made baggageman between Harrisburg and Winchester. In 1903 he became gateman at Third and Mulberry streets, and when the cross at that point was abandoned he became switchman, which position he held up to his retirement. During the Civil War Mr. Murray was a member of the United States Signal Corps, serving with the Army at the Susquehanna. He was a member of Common Council in 1895 and 1896.

Fully-Armed Mutineers Cause Reign of Terror

New York, June 30.—The Norwegian steamship Nordanger, two members of the crew in iron, reached here early to-day from Marseilles. The two men, a Mexican and a Spaniard, armed with knives and fire arms refused to work after the vessel left Marseilles and until two days ago, when they were finally seized, fought with the crew and succeeded in destroying a large quantity of the ship's stores. The captain, ill from lack of sleep, was unable to imprison the mutineers, whose hiding place on the steamship was guarded by confederates. Many of the crew reached New York with cuts and bruises. Once when captured and locked in the carpenter's shop aboard the vessel, the mutineers set fire to a pile of shavings and escaped while the crew fought the blaze. The mutineers were turned over to the police when the vessel reached quarantine.
