PLAYS AND PLAYERS
The Majestic is showing for the last time to-night the pictures taken in this city when the famous parade to the soldiers was made down Second street from the armory and thence to the station, last week.

LOCAL THEATERS
With the show that is being put on at the Paxtang Park Theater, this week, there will probably be little question in the minds of Harrisburg's theatrical public as to their eccentric comedy stunt called "Anties in Cycleland," present an original act. By way of variety the park bill offers Miss Fontaine, a classy singer with a wonderful voice, and Evelyn May and company, in a novel one-act comedy, entitled "Much at Home." Zuda and Hoot, in "The Fiery Dragon and the Owl," and Billy Morse, a blackface comedian with a new and humorous stories and songs, complete the bill.

Would you not like to witness the big parade of last Saturday a second time, so you could see the above question is being asked for the "Patriot-Wilmer-Vincent" Pictures now being shown at the Majestic. Together with these pictures is the regular vaudeville show, which is headed by a sketch called "Meadowbrook Lane," featuring Noel Travers and Irene Douglas, and also Hoey and Lee, the popular Hebrew comedians, whose line of talk is based largely on war topics. Their entire act is a big laugh. Other acts include: Mullen and Rogers, who introduce some gymnastic feats as well as sing and dance; the Four Danubies, presenting a very good cast-couple who sing a number of songs in pleasing fashion.

To-day's program at the Colonial is a feature attraction entitled "The Bugle Call." The story of a motherless little fellow, who lives at Belmont and has his father at a Western army post some fifty years ago. His father marries again, and he resents the idea of any one taking the place of his dead mother, until a course of thrilling events demonstrates to him that his stepmother is worthy of occupying a place in his affection. In the course of the story he succeeds in saving the entire garrison from being massacred with the use of his bugle. William Collier, Jr., son of the stage comedian, is appearing in the leading role. Hank Mann appears in a new two-reel comedy, entitled "Sparks." Monday and Tuesday the original gloom chaser will be here once more in a new sparkling comedy drama called "Reggie Mixes In." A new two-reel Keystone comedy will be on the same bill.

The second chapter of "Gloria's Romance," shown at the Regent, begins with Gloria Starling and her father, the Rev. J. C. Farnum, at the Everglades, and Regent Today Dr. Royce and Richard Farnum, a former pastor of her. Gloria comes upon a Seminole Indian camp, and is captured by the redskins and claimed for a squaw by a husky young chief. Just at this time Dr. Royce appears and proceeds to demonstrate to the chief the art that made Jess Willard famous. While Royce is engaged in a hand-to-hand combat with the Indian, Gloria faints away, and Farnum, coming up at that moment, bears her away and restores her to the arms of her anxious father, and Farnum is hailed as a hero. In addition to "Gloria's Romance," a Paramount picture, "David Garrick," featuring Dustin Farnum, will be shown. The first two days of next week "The Innocent Lie," by Lois Zellner, featuring Valentine Grant, will be the attraction. Miss Grant appears as Nora O'Brien, a poor Irish lass, whose troubles commence upon her arrival in America.

"Fate's Boomerang," with Mollie King in the star role, is one of those stories of mountains and forests which always strike a responsive chord wherever shown. In this picture Miss King has a story somewhat on the lines of "Tess of the Storm Country," but more pathetic, and playing the part of the little mother of the hills, gives a dramatic interpretation seething with love, sentiment and the true, noble instincts so prominent in the women of the early West. "Fate's Boomerang" will be the attraction at the Victoria Theater to-day only. For Monday "The Snow Bird," featuring Mabel Taliaferro.

URGENT CLEMENCY FOR CASEMENT
Washington, D. C., July 1. — Petitions requesting that President Wilson urge the British government to grant clemency to Sir Roger Casement, the Irish revolutionist, poured into the White House to-day from many parts of the country. It is generally understood here that the United States can do no more than bring such petitions to the attention of Great Britain in an informal and unofficial manner.

The Coal Situation
The coal situation is such that you ought to give the matter immediate attention. Instead of the usual price reductions of former years, it has been necessary to impose a slight increase already, to be followed by another increase in a few months. There's money to be saved by ordering your winter supply NOW—and better coal to be had by specifying Montgomery's.
