FRANK B. BLACK STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER

prise. It had been generally believed that Charles H. Patton, Secretary of Agriculture, would get the place and that Black would succeed Patton. The announcement of the appointment was made by William H. Ball, private secretary of Governor Brumbaugh, this morning. Commissioner Black will follow absolutely the policy inaugurated by his predecessor, according to the statement given out to-day.

The death of State Highway Commissioner Cunningham occurred on April 26 at his home in Sewickley. He was stricken with acute indigestion while on his return to Harrisburg from a road conference in Cambria county on April 4, but recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home, where he was making slow progress toward health when suddenly stricken with an attack of heart disease, which caused his death.

Well-Known Man
Frank B. Black, the new State Highway Commissioner, has never occupied office outside his home borough save as a member of the Agricultural Commission, but is a successful business man in his home county, with large financial interests in this State and in New York. He is a personal friend of Governor Brumbaugh and has the reputation of being an excellent executive. His business interests have been chiefly under his own management.

At the State Highway Department the announcement of the appointment of Commissioner Black was received with interest. First Deputy State Highway Commissioner Hunter was out of town to-day, but was notified by messenger of the appointment. Chief Engineer Usher and Second Deputy State Highway Commissioner Biles were notified at Mount Gretna, where they are supervising the repair of the roads at Camp Brumbaugh.

It is expected that the new commissioner will formally take charge of the department's affairs on next Wednesday after the holiday.

Resident of Somerset
Mr. Black owns and lives on a farm of 50 acres on the Garrett road, two miles from Meyersdale, Somerset county. He was appointed a member of the Commission of Agriculture by Governor Brumbaugh and is intensely interested in the interests of the department of the agricultural interests of the State.

Mr. Black was born in Addison township, Somerset county, April 17, 1854. He attended the public and normal schools at Meyersdale and in 1884 succeeded his father in the manufacturing of stoneware in Meyersdale. In 1885 he began the manufacture of drain tile and was very successful. In 1902 he sold out his business and undertook the organization of coal companies in his home district. He organized a Lumber Company, which is the largest of which is the Black Field and Emmons Company, a holding company, which handles the products of the mines in which his companies control. The Black Field and Emmons Company is one of the largest dealers in soft coal in New York city.

Mr. Black married Flora M. Snyder, of Somerset, on October 12, 1892. He has never attended the public and political, serving two terms in the Meyersdale borough council and being especially interested in the upbuilding and improvement of his home town and the agricultural interests of Somerset county.
