Washington, D. C., July 6.—Formal acceptance of General Carranza's pro-posal that differences between the United States and the de facto govern-ment of Mexico be settled by direct negotiations will be dispatched soon to Mexico City. This was decided by President Wilson to-day at a confer-ence with Secretary Lansing. The Mexican note delivered yester-day said the de facto government had accepted in principle Latin-American offers of mediation, but was awaiting information as to whether the United States believed the desired results would be accomplished by direct ex-changes between the two governments. Secretary Lansing will leave to-mor-row for a month's vacation. It was not stated to-day whether he would prepare the reply to Mexico before his departure, but indications are that it will go forward within a day or two at most. Washington, D. Through the columns of the Telegraph Colonel Maurice E. Fin-ney, commander of the Eighth Pennsylvania Infantry, appeals to the young men of the city and surrounding district who wish to enlist for Mexican service to re-port to the recruiting officers at Mount Gretna at once. Some 200 vacancies are to be filled.

If you had sought to-day for the ost keenly disappointed man in all Harrisburg you might have found him this morning lingering about the temporary recruiting office in the City Grays armory. He was the slender, bronze-faced young fellow who was always mightily eager to discuss the Mexican possi-bilities; he carried his right arm in bandages, splint and a sling. And if you inquired as to the reason for his evident dose of the "blues" he would probably have quietly held up his bandaged arm. "Turned me down—broken arm!" would have been his quiet answer. The story behind that simple story is one of many little tales that some eight or nine men of Company I and young fellow who was always mightily

A walk through it showed no evi-dence of the hurry, the curt commands of military stiffness, sometimes asso-ciated with an army ready for action. Instead there was ease about men and animals sprawing around camp with the comfort of perfect health, each half an hour's warning would be suff, cient to empty the great camp and change it into an army on the march. In the heart of the camp, rows of huge gray motor trucks were parked. About them, men crouched in the shade of the big bodies, their olive drab clothing stained beyond washing wheels hung brilliant red, green and drying. These were the head gear of the truck drivers, who have learned that they cannot hope to protect more the dust clouds. Orderly lines marked the camp of

After capturing second line German positions along a six-mile front south of the Somme in Northern France and making notable advances north of that stream, the French last night temporarily halted the offensive operations of their infantry.

Hard fighting continued along the line of the British attack and a slight advance was scored by General Haig's forces in the vicinity of Thiepval.

The French push to the south of the river now threaten Barleux and Villers-Carbonnel, crucial positions in the German defense of the railway center at Peronne. On the other bank of the river the French are striking east c the village of Hem, which they captured yesterday. Local engage ments are reported in this region, wooded districts changing hands, but no substantial progress being reported on either side.

Paris announces the capture by the French in their offensive of seventy-six cannon and several hundred machine guns. The situation before Verdun was comparatively quiet, no infantry attack. occurring during the night.

In Galicia the Russians continue to score marked successes After cutting the railway leading south from Delatyn they have advanced down the line towards Korosmezo, Hungary, and have taken the village of Mikoupchine, a half way point on the route from Delatyn. This road is a main line of retreat to Hungary for the Austro-Hungarian forces in this region.

ASSERTS KAISER WEEPS

The plan by which the water from the western slopes of the Harrisburg Cemetery is permitted to drain upon the Tweifth street playgrounds may eventually have to be settled in the Dauphin county courts. The drainage, diverted as it now is by a system of walled-in pipes, seri-ously menaces the recreation ground, and the burial ground officials, it is understood, have refused thus far to change the method. The nearest approach to an agree-ASSERTS KAISER WEEPS Paris, July 6.—The Kaiser has burst into tears several times recently, says the Petit Parisian. Intrigues showing that things are not going well in Ger-many are one cause of his grief, the newspaper asserts, and another is that the big men of the Empire are showing a disposition to abandon him. "The story is not a mere sensational invention," adds the newspaper. "The tears would naturally be produced by Germany's unfavorable situation." Methodist Papers Are

CAVALRY MOVES TO-NIGHT

Mt. Gretna, Pa., July 6 .- The cavalry will move toward the border to-night, probably by way of Philadelphia, with the Governor's Troop occupying the third or fourth train. An order may change the route by way of Harrisburg, but it is not likely. The troop has 97 men and three officers. They were mustered in today by Captain Castleman, U. S. A. Company D has 102 men and three officers and Company I 92 men and three officers. York, Lewistown and Bedford are away below minimum. Only two Eighth Regiment bandmen were rejected.

DISCHARGE GUARDSMEN WITH DEPENDENTS

New York July 6 .- Applications for discharge by National Guardsmen who have dependent relatives will be granted, according to orders received from the War Department to-day by Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the Department of the East, U. S. A. The order also enjoins department commanders to instruct recruiting officers to avoid acceptance of recruits who have relatives dependent upon them for support.
