By ALFRED W. McCANN

July 10th.

Two prizes of $2.50 each have been awarded, respectively, to Mrs. A. H. Hoover, Main street, West Fairview, Pa.,

and A. R. Fenstemacher, 599 Schuylkill street, Harrisburg, for the best letters written during the past week on foodstuffs advertised on the Pure Food Page

Mrs. Hoover's letter exploited the products and service of the Russ Fish Market, while Mr. Fenstemacher's letter dwelt upon the merits of Hershey's Ice Cream.

They will learn that some of the people in the world are babies; some are school children like themselves; some are nursing mothers; some are about to become mothers and some have reached the age where natural vigor is no longer sufficiently active to resist even temporary abuse.

They will learn that notwithstanding the fact that all poison squad experiments have been temporary affairs, there is nevertheless, on a wonderfully organized scale, a poison squad among little children which has never been abandoned and which has numbered among its victims in the United States 1,500,000 during the last four years.

They will learn that every time the law makes the use of a food chemical legal or every time it winks at an abuse that denatures a food it makes a permanent poison squad of the entire country, not for a few experimental weeks for a few vigorous young men with a single food chemical, but for the entire lifetime of all the men, women and children in the country with a combination of all the food chemicals now used legally or illegally by an army of food manufacturers.

They will learn that all the little

Housewives who bear in mind two important facts in connection with their purchases of eatables—the purity and grade of the products, and the manner in which it is cared for by the dealer from whom it is purchased.

And it is in the attention paid to these two essentials that the Excellent Grocery and Meat Market conducted by H. J. Braconey at Sixth and Boas streets, takes no little pride. As a matter of fact it enjoys the distinction of possessing a diploma from a well-known pure food commission.

After the selection of pure foods, in which great care is exercised, this store gives careful consideration to the sanitary care of the articles while in its possession. crimes, which end so pitifully and furarically.

They will learn that there is something wrong with society when society responds with reverence and tears to the acts of brave souls when they serenely yield their lives for the public good, while at the same time refusing to pick up its own little fragment of public duty, lying at its very feet, because it does not find that duty gleaming with the golden hue of romance.

The chicken experience will teach the children that if we honor thousands of noble men and women who spend their lives at the hospital bedside to bring the sick back to health, there is even greater honor due to them who fight beforehand against preventable disease.
