THE GLOBE

WANAMAKER TO BE G. O. P. TREASURER?

Ex-Postmaster General Has Talk With Hughes; Sees Suffragists

Special to the Telegraph
New York, July 7.—Reports that John Wanamaker had been asked to accept the appointment of treasurer to the Republican National Committee gained persistent circulation around the Astor Hotel, following a conference between the New York-Philadelphia merchant and Charles Evans Hughes, Republican nominee for President, and William R. Willcox, the party's campaign manager. When Mr. Wanamaker was asked about the matter he said:

"I have been for three-quarters of an hour with Mr. Hughes and I have also been conferring with Mr. Willcox. Our interviews have not been concluded."

"But is it true," some one persisted, "that you are to be treasurer for the Republican National Committee?"

Mr. Wanamaker hesitated, and then said:

"In view of the fact that my interviews are not finished, perhaps I had better not speak of that just now."

While no one else in authority would discuss the matter for publication, the report continued to be the chief topic of conversation about the nominee's headquarters. Mr. Wanamaker has been a life-long Republican and served his country during the Harrison administration as Postmaster General.

It was "Ladies' Day" in the Republican National Headquarters. Equal suffrage and antisuffrage in the persons of their chosen sponsors both successfully corralled Mr. Hughes and had been a cotillion leader instead of the Presidential nominee he could hardly have been called upon to devote greater proportion of his short day to the demands of the progressive sex.

Suffragists See Hughes

One delegation of women who had come by appointment held Mr. Hughes' attention so successfully that such shining lights as George W. Perkins, late Secretary of the Treasury to the McKinley party; R. Ross Appleton, R. H. Elder, former Progressive leader of Brooklyn, and George B. Cortelyou, erstwhile Secretary of the Treasury, were kept cooling their heels in an anteroom and it began to look doubtful whether Mr. Hughes could rush through his calling list in time to make the 4:05 train back to his summer retreat in Bridgehampton, L. I. He did make it, however, though some of his admirers had to be content with promises of longer interviews the next time he comes to the city which will be probably next Wednesday.

In the morning came Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Norman DeR. Whitehouse and Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, spokeswomen for the suffragists who were closeted with the nominee for nearly an hour. After they had left the conference room, Mrs. Catt pronounced the interview "a very satisfactory one."

"Was it more satisfactory than the assurance the women have received from the Democratic party?" she was asked.

"Yes, it was very much more favorable," she replied.

Mr. Hughes had as his guest during his luncheon hour in the hotel, George W. Perkins, who is expected to head the delegation of Progressive leaders who are to be named as members of the Republican Campaign Committee. He and Mr. Perkins conversed for more than an hour, and when Mr. Hughes re-entered his conference apartments on the first floor he found awaiting him a delegation of antisuffrage women, not a whit less militant than their predecessors.

These included Mrs. Arthur H. Dodge, president of the National Association Opposed to Women Suffrage; Mrs. Horace Brock, president of the Pennsylvania State branch of the same organization; Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York State Association; Mrs. E. Yards Breeze, president of the New Jersey branch; Mrs. Daniel A. Markham, president of the Connecticut Association, and Mrs. Edward Ford, chairman of the organization committee of the Massachusetts State branch.

It was half an hour before Mr. Hughes' train time when the "antisuffrage" women emerged. They were wreathed in smiles. When Mrs. Dodge was informed that the suffragist advocates had characterized their talk with Mr. Hughes as "satisfactory," she retorted, "Ours was delicious; Mr. Hughes is indeed the man of the hour."

ORPET CASE RESTS

Waukegan, Ill., July 7.—The defense, after introducing documentary evidence bearing on the Wisconsin statute governing the sale of poisons, rested to-day in the case of Will H. Orpet, the college student, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert. The prosecution wanted Orpet recalled for further cross-examination but on defense objected and Judge Donnelly ruled that the defendant could not be recalled.

PICKING UP REFUGEES

Washington, July 7.—All Americans have been taken from Progress and Mexican ports south of Vera Cruz, including those on Sinal plantations of Yucatan, Captain Burrage, of the battleship Nebraska, at Vera Cruz reported to-day to the Navy Department. The gunboats Wheeling and Dolphin took American refugees from Puerto Mexico.

To Award Contracts

The committee on supplies and textbooks presented a report with contracts to be awarded to the following for supplies: Johnston Paper Company, music paper; W. O. Hickok Company, casting; Johnston Paper Company, Roberts & Meek, George C. Potts, The Kny-Scheerer Company, Beckley-Curdy Company, Dauphin Electrical Supplies Company, Central Electric Company, The Wm. B. Duck Company, J. L. Hammett Company and Arthur H. Thomas Company, for physics, chemical, electrical and drawing supplies, wherever they are lowest bidders on the respective items.

Contracts from the buildings and grounds committee to be awarded followed: Charles W. Lady, sun porch, Susquehanna open-air school, $1,046; Harrisburg Light and Power Company, electric motor for Lincoln building, $475.80; John Myers, two rooms in rear of Central High School auditorium, $707; Frank Bannar, concrete walk ash bin at High School, $70.

This committee also recommended the re-election of Calvin H. Koons, as general repairman, and Thomas Koons as assistant. The janitors of the various buildings were then appointed for the year. No changes were made.

The finance committee presented bills totaling $14,255.51 held against the School Board, asking that they be paid, together with the State tax on bonds for 1915.

DOLLAR DAY A WEEKLY FEATURE

one day of each week to be known as Dollar Day Monday, at which time the dollar is given additional purchasing power.

Many merchants will display some unusual offerings—some declare they will offer goods for one dollar on Dollar Day Monday that ordinarily sell for as much as two and three dollars.

Dollar Day has become an institution in other progressive cities and there is no reason why Harrisburg cannot enjoy the same privileges. The Harrisburg Telegraph will do its share to increase the purchasing power of every dollar spent and to-morrow night the announcements of merchants who have joined in the movement will appear in the Telegraph offering some exceptional bargains for Dollar Day Monday.

SOLDIER LOSES HAND IN MYSTERIOUS EXPLOSION

By Associated Press

Nogales, Ariz., July 7.—Private Charles Nelson, Company M, 12th infantry, to-day is minus a left hand which was blown off last night in a mysterious explosion which followed, he said, an attack by two unidentified persons. The alleged assault occurred about 100 yards outside the lines of the Twelfth infantry camp on a well-traveled road.

ELKS TO TAKE 300 TO BALTO.

Harrisburg Lodge Will Send Big Delegation to Convention

Harrisburg Elks are ready for their trip to Baltimore next week. The local herd will go to the Orleto City with 175 members in uniform. Many will take their wives and families. It is estimated that 300 will make up the Harrisburg party, which will include the Commonwealth band of forty pieces.

The start for Baltimore will be made Monday morning. Members of the local lodge will follow Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The entire party will leave at Bedford City, Va., Washington, D. C., and be the guests of the Baltimore lodge at clam bakes, crab feasts and other entertainments along Chesapeake bay.

The local lodge hopes to bring home at least one prize. The uniforms include a light suit of cool cloth, straw hat, white silk shirt and collar, hat band, stockings, pen and arm band in purple and a cane. The Elks will wear white shoes.

The Commonwealth band will wear dress parade uniforms and will compete for prizes with bands from all over the United States. Musical organizations from Washington, D. C., Maryland and Delaware will not accompany the Harrisburgers on all special trips. The committee in charge of the trip includes Clarence H. Sigler, chairman, J. A. Ringland, Charles R. Weber, James L. Carroll, James H. Lutz, Jr., George W. Deiker, Charles R. Barner and Bertram Shelly. This committee is also arranging to send a large delegation to Reading in August for the State convention.

During Sunday and Monday many special trains with Elks from the West and North will pass through Harrisburg. The State of Colorado is sending a combined delegation of 1,500 Elks to Baltimore. The Colorado Elks will reach Harrisburg Monday afternoon and will stop off four hours. Local Elks have planned an elaborate entertainment for the visiting Elks to include auto trips over the city and luncheon.

EIGHTH NEARS WAR STRENGTH

cess of recruiting now under way in Central Pennsylvania cities. The Sixth will take 1000 officers and men.

The Fourth Regiment, which is to go to-morrow, to-day reported a total strength of 1338 officers and men, the largest number of any organization ready to leave camp. The Eighth is scheduled to start on Sunday. It reported 1016 officers and men to-day.

Recruiting parties are working in various parts of the State and in the absence of the funds to bring the men to camp residents of York, Harrisburg and other cities are guaranteeing payment of the expenses. Word came from York that offers to pay transportation had been made. The first transfer made to the Eight was from Tamaqua's company to fill one from York.

The first steel cars to be furnished for moving the soldiers arrived to-day with the trains for the moving of the Sixth Regiment. Many of the cars delivered to-day are vestibuled and from some of the big eastern systems.

STORM ABATING; LOSS OF LIFE HEAVY

were torrential rains in Alabama and Mississippi and a heavy downfall throughout the south as far as North Tennessee. There were indications the rain may reach the Ohio valley Saturday.

Reports of the damage done by the storm along the Gulf coast and in Mississippi and Alabama were still meager to-day but enough had been established to make it certain the property loss would amount to several millions.

Seven negroes lost their lives near Beloit, Ala., last night. Crops suffered greatly from the rain. Traffic on the more important railroads was almost completely tied up.

Seven Vessels Lost in Gulf; Crews Are Missing

By Associated Press

Mobile, Ala., July 6. (By Courier to Meridian, Miss.)—According to reports reaching Mobile the following vessels were lost or beached in coming into the bay from the gulf:

Schooner A. L. Mangold, crew saved; schooner Nora Belle, crew missing; Bay packet James A. Carney, sunk and the packet Apollo slightly damaged.

Near the wreckage of the Nora Belle was found the stern of a schooner, the only identification mark being the words "Moss Point."

Reports not confirmed late to-day said the schooners T. E. Wells, Newport; Koppersmith and Confidential has gone ashore on the beach.

The coast guard cutter Tallapoosa was not damaged. She made unsuccessful attempts during the day to reach outside points with her wireless. The water reached a short distance beyond Royal street, a trifle further than during the storm of 1906. Leaking roofs caused some damage in the business section while goods stored on lower floors in establishments facing the river were slightly damaged.

Hospital Destroyed

The negro ward of the city hospital was torn away, but the patients were removed to safety. The Mobile Yacht Club building was destroyed. The Louisville and Nashville shops were partially unroofed.

The last word from Pensacola reaching Mobile Wednesday said the wind was 80 miles early that afternoon north of Mobile.

The storm apparently was more severe north of Mobile. The P. E. Bestor and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Barron Lyons, all of Mobile. They were last heard of Wednesday night off Fort Morgan and were going towards Dauphin Island in the Mississippi sound. Bestor is an attorney of Mobile and Lyons is a capitalist. They were in a small yacht.

FOUR DEAD AT MOBILE

Selma, Ala., July 7.—A message received here to-day from Mobile over a railroad telegraph wire says at least three or four persons were killed there during the hurricane of Wednesday and that much damage was done to shipping and water front property.

No word had reached Mobile from Pensacola or other gulf coast points.

WOULD RESTRICT BIRD SEASON

to submit the question to the representatives of practically all of the Keystone State's hunters and fishermen.

The proposed restriction of the game bird season will include the period in which ruffed grouse, quail and wild turkeys may be hunted.

Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, the secretary, submitted a supplemental report in which he discussed the ravages of peach and apple orchards in Franklin and Adams counties by deer. The grain fields are frequently damaged, too, and the secretary declared that the only remedy will be to permit farmers to protect their property and the deer at the same time, by chasing the animals from their farms by means of scare-crows, dogs on chains, or with fine bird-shot or salt—via the barrels of a shotgun.

Factory and Two Homes Are Destroyed by Fire

Lancaster, Pa., July 7.—Fire early yesterday morning destroyed S. R. M. Plank's carriage factory and the residences of Jacob Witmer and Peter Campbell, at Lampeter. The loss is $10,000. The place has no fire department, and to get assistance men went about the country in automobiles, tooting horns to arouse the sleeping people.

The fire started in the carriage factory and it is thought to be the work of incendiaries. Other homes menaced by the flames were saved by the volunteer brigades that responded to the call of the automobile couriers.
