

NEWS OF STEELTON

ELY TO BECOME SUPERINTENDENT

Succeeds Earl as Head of Bridge Shop; Schwab Formally in Control

Carl B. Ely, assistant to the superintendent of the Bridge and Construction department of the Pennsylvania Steel plant, was today appointed superintendent of the department in charge of operations by General Manager Quincy Bent. He succeeds Thomas Earle who has been transferred to South Bethlehem.

Announcement of Mr. Ely's appointment followed closely announcement of extensive changes in the executive personnel of the Steelton plant at South Bethlehem by Vice-President W. F. Roberts last evening.

Formal control of the Pennsylvania Steel Company of New Jersey and its subsidiaries, including the Pennsylvania Steel Company, which operates the Steelton plant, and the Maryland Steel Company, with its plant at Sparrows Point, Md., passed into the hands of the Bethlehem Steel Company yesterday, when the final dissolution formalities were consummated.

Upon completion of the big deal announcement was made that work will now be pushed on the big improvement programs which have already been outlined in these columns which involve expenditure of about $5,000,000 at Steelton and $15,000,000 at Sparrows Point.

A number of important changes in the managerial forces were also announced. These include the automatic retirement of E. C. Felton, president of the Pennsylvania Steel Company.

Frank D. Carney, superintendent of the Steelton plant, becomes general metallurgist for the Bethlehem Steel Company and will be stationed at Bethlehem. His new position is a promotion.

William S. Rutherford, of the order department at Steelton, becomes head of the order department at Bethlehem and will have charge of the distribution of all orders to the various plants. This change was announced a month ago.

Frank A. Robbins, Jr., confidential adviser to the former vice-president and general manager, will be retained, is retained in a similar capacity by General Manager Quincy Bent.

Thomas Earle, superintendent of the bridge and construction department at Steelton; Charles H. Mercer, chief engineer, and Lewis E. Johnson, assistant to Mr. Earle, will be transferred to Bethlehem where they will become part of the sales and engineering force in charge of designing and field erection work in connection with the bridge shop.

Robert W. Wood, district sales manager for the Central and Western Pennsylvania districts, has resigned and will go into business at Philadelphia.

Council Meets Committee to Prepare Paving Suit

To prepare plans for filing a suit against the United States Wood Preserving Co., of New York, to compel that firm to live up to its agreement to keep Front street paving in repair. Members of the borough Council will meet with the Highway Committee in the council chamber Monday afternoon. Nelson P. Lewis, consulting engineer of New York, will meet the Councilmen at this time. Mr. Lewis has been retained to advise council in its suit.

The Sanitary Committee of Council will meet tomorrow afternoon at Front and Locust street and the Water Board met this afternoon. The regular meeting of council will be held Monday evening.

Auto Burns.—When the engine backfired on Chambers Hill, near Oberlin, last evening, a large automobile owned by J. W. Drawbaugh, North Second street, was burned. No one was injured.

Durnbaugh Gets License.—Detective I. N. Durnbaugh was granted a license today to conduct a detective business in the borough. Mr. Durnbaugh is represented by Attorney Oscar Wickersham.

Inquest To-Night.—Coroner Jacob Eckinger will conduct an inquest into the death of Nicholas Skara, who was murdered July 4, at the undertaking establishment of H. Witt's Sons at 7.30 o'clock this evening.

WALLOWER IS LIVE WESTERNER

Oklahoma Times Tells of Good Work Done by Harrisburg Boy

Harrisburg boys are making good all over the country and it is a pleasure for the Telegraph to record their successes. The following commendation of a promising young man who has already scored a success in the West is from an editorial in the Oklahoma City Times:

"The Chamber of Commerce campaign is its own best comment. The facts speak for themselves with an eloquence that drowns out words. Oklahoma City is in first place. It has a Chamber of Commerce with a membership of 1,436, the biggest of any city of its class in the whole country."

"We have been told pretty often during the past few weeks that 'cities don't happen that way.' And the biggest Chamber of Commerce doesn't just happen, either. It is a man's size job that has been done in Oklahoma City this week."

"This too is an occasion where there's glory enough to go around. Where the whole roster is a roll of honor some hesitancy is naturally felt in singling out any one for special mention. We might, perhaps, recite the plain fact that the team headed by Edgar Z. Wallower secured the greatest number of members, and dispense with further words. Yet a word or two may be permissible. Mr. Wallower has only recently come to Oklahoma City—something like a month ago. When a newcomer not only keeps up with the procession but actually sets the pace, he surely proves he belongs. There is only one way to explain it. Mr. Wallower has in truth been an Oklahoma City man all his life. He has just found his native city. And he and Oklahoma City, we feel

PARK COMMISSION SUBMITS REPORT

Pleased With Playgrounds Enrollment; Shortage of Funds Hampers Work

Steelton's Parks and Playgrounds Commission prepared its first report to Council at a meeting last evening.

Members of the commission heard with deep interest the report of Supervisor James R. Irwin to the effect that the first ten days attendance at the various playgrounds tallied more than 13,000 children and that between 1,200 and 1,300 children have already enrolled at the playgrounds. This number, the supervisor reported, is gradually increasing instead of decreasing as is usually the case.

The commission decided to use what small funds were available for placing tennis courts on the Cottage Hill Athletic field in good condition. No new work was planned on account of a shortage of funds. It is this shortage of money that will compel the commission to go rather slowly in providing the borough with adequate recreation facilities.

Falls Sixty Feet; Lands on Iron Floor; Almost Unhurt

Plunging from a "hot oven" being built in B blast furnace to an iron-covered floor sixty feet below yesterday, Howard Richenbach, an employe of the erection department of the steel works, escaped with a slight scalp wound and a fractured ankle.

Richenbach was working inside the "hot oven" when a scaffold upon which he was standing tilted. He was taken to the emergency hospital and later to the Harrisburg Hospital for treatment.

Farewell for Members.—A farewell reception in honor of C. Bickel and William Ditlow, who will leave in a few days for South Bethlehem, was held last evening by Steelton Lodge No. 41, Knights of Pythias. Mr. Ditlow for several years has been keeper of records and seal for the lodge and Mr. Bickel held the office of master of the exchequer. Alfred Fries was elected keeper of records and seal to succeed Mr. Ditlow.

Hold Memorial Service.—Susquehanna Tribe, No. 298, Improved Order of Red Men, will accompany Paxton Tribe at the annual memorial service of the tribe at the First Methodist Church Sunday evening. The members will meet in the rooms of Paxton Tribe, Second and Walnut streets, at 7 o'clock. The Rev. W. C. Sanderson will deliver the sermon.

To Confer Degree.—Steelton Lodge, 184, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will confer the first degree upon a class of candidates this evening.

MIDDLETOWN

Misses Only One Day in Five Years in Schools

A remarkable record for school attendance is held by Loman Marshall, the ten-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Marshall, of South Walnut street, Middletown. In five years that Master Loman has been attending the public schools of the borough he has missed only one day, one of them in his first year and the other in one third. During the entire five years he has never been tardy or excused on notes from his parents. He is a pupil in one of the intermediate grades at the Wood street school building.

LOMAN MARSHALL

sure, may be mutually congratulated." Mr. Wallower is the son of E. Z. Wallower, of this city, and his rapid rise in the business world has been watched with satisfaction by his many friends here. A graduate of the Harrisburg high school he entered Princeton University and after his graduation at that institution took a post-graduate course in electrical engineering at Cornell University. He then began his active career as superintendent of the Harrisburg Light and Power Company and later was promoted to the position of general manager of the Lockport, Light and Power Company, Lockport, N. Y. Last May he resigned this position to locate in Oklahoma City, where he is representing the large interests of his father.

Summer Maids Must Stop Parading Atlantic City in Chorus Girls Bathing Suits

Atlantic City, July 7. — Reform hit Atlantic City yesterday. Summer maids must stop parading the streets in chorus girls bathing suits. Everybody must wear a mackintosh or "other suitable covering" to and from the beach in surf attire.

Policemen at the beach ends of all cross-town avenues are to be censors of all "noisy" amusements along the Boardwalk and elsewhere.

The orders were issued by William F. Sooy, Director of Public Safety. He is president of the County Bar Association.

SHIP BILL MAY HOLD CONGRESS

Democratic and Republican Members Unable to Reach Agreement

Washington, July 7.—Democratic and Republican members of the Senate Commerce Committee came to a parting of the ways today insofar as any prospect of an agreement over the government shipping bill is concerned. Democratic Senators declared it would be impossible to draft a bill to build up the merchant marine which Republicans would accept without sacrificing every principle in the House bill
