Railroad Notes

The local committee in charge of arrangements for the Mutual Beneficial Association picnic will meet again to-night. The big time is scheduled for July 22 at Paxtang Park.

John F. Baum, clerk for the Pennsylvania Railroad, who has been off duty on account of the death of his mother at York, has returned to work.

R. W. Wolford, of Columbia, brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, has returned to duty after an illness lasting several days.

*Clerks, ushers and ticket examiners of the Pennsylvania Railroad employed at the passenger station begin their vacation season to-day.

The first of a series of sixten-day excursions to Atlantic City and other seaside resorts started Saturday over the Pennsylvania railroad.

Francis Lee Stuart, chief engineer of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, has tendered his resignation to President Daniel Willard, effective July 10, in order to engage in the private practice of his profession in New York.

It is understood that the Russian steel rail order is divided between the United States Steel Corporation and the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company. In the absence of the official announcement, it is stated that Midvale bid for 350,000 tons.

Final payment of $650,000 has been made by the United States government's title to this property, which was taken over as part of the Federal railroad between Seward and Fairbanks.

The Southern Pacific Company has posted in depots and engine houses throughout its system an appeal to its 52,500 employes to use their influence to avert a threatened strike of enginemand switchmen.

OPEN CAMPAIGN

[Continued From First Page] Pacific by the end of the week of his This change in planshe had intended to start West about August 15 — has been urged upon Mr. Hughes because of the State election in Maine in September. A Governor and two Senators are to be elected then and it is considered advisable that he may return to the Pine Tree State in time to take a prominent part in the campaign.

During the first half of this year orders were placed for about $105,000,000 worth of railroad cars. The number contracted for was $9,293, or some 29,000 more than were ordered in the first half of 1915.

Electric railways ordered 2,224 passenger cars, to compare with 1,273 ordered in the same period a year before. About $70,000,000 worth of locomotives have been ordered this years of ar, to compare with $17,000,000 for the same period a year ago. Not only have three times as many been ordered, but the cost has jumped nearly 40 per cent.

Following is a comparative record follo

West.
Yesterday Mr. Hughes gave some time to his speech of acceptance. He walked to church with Mrs. Hughes and his daughters. His program for to-day calls for the abandonment of his usual two hours of golf because of the mass of work which he faces.
