

A Man's Meal for Five Cents. Living on mush makes a mushy man. A man who works with hand or brain must have a man's food. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk or cream will supply all the strength-giving nutriment needed for a half day's work or play at a cost of not over five cents. An ideal Summer food. Serve with sliced bananas, berries or other fruits.

MILITARY HONORS FOR HUTCHISON

BRIG-GEN. JOS. B. HUTCHISON caused by a disease of the throat. He had been ill for more than a year, but at times recovered sufficiently to resume his duties as chief-of-police last year.

As the Eighth Regiment of the Pennsylvania National Guard is now on the way to the border, retired veterans of the organization, together with veterans of the Spanish, Cuban and other foreign wars, began arrangements, and will escort the body to the cemetery. Former members of Companies D and I, Eighth Regiment, this city, began arrangements also and officers of local camps of the United Spanish War Veterans and Foreign Service Veterans have issued calls to plan for the funeral.

Captain Joseph P. Thompson, with a detail of 12 officers, will represent the police department in the escort of General Hutchison. Officers Kautz and Carson have been chosen to act as pallbearers.

Plan Military Cortege
City Grays, Companies D and I, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the armory to complete their arrangements. General Hutchison's body will arrive late today and will lie in state in the funeral chapel of R. K. Spicer, 313 Walnut street, between 10 and 11 o'clock, this evening. In the morning the casket will be taken to the Pine Street Church, where the body will lie in state and friends can visit the bier from 10 o'clock until 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Many expressions of sorrow and regret on his death were heard yesterday and to-day, and resolutions will probably be passed by a number of local organizations including the police. His work while head of the local police department will long be remembered because of his efficient service.

General Hutchison underwent his first operation at the Fountain Springs hospital, near Ashland, late in the summer of 1915. He recovered slowly, and resumed his duties as Chief of Police of Harrisburg. Shortly after his resignation was received, and he went to Steelton.

In February of this year, however, his condition again became worse and he again went to Fountain Springs hospital and underwent the second operation. Dr. Jonathan C. Biddle was the attending surgeon, and was a member of the colonel's staff of the Eighth regiment.

Following this operation General Hutchison returned to Steelton, but later went to Blue Ridge summit, but regained strength. When he had apparently recovered sufficiently, he left with his wife to visit Mr. and Mrs. C. Nicklas of Chambersburg. Mrs. Nicklas and Mrs. Hutchison are sisters. During his stay at the Nicklas home General Hutchison became seriously ill and had to take his bed. His condition remained the same for a short time, but gradually he became weaker.

General Joseph B. Hutchison was born in Harrisburg, July 27, 1861, his parents being Joseph B. and Emma M. Wilson Hutchison. After finishing his public school education he started work as office boy with the Elder Planning Mill company at Market street and the Pennsylvania canal in 1873. He continued with this firm as chief bookkeeper and head clerk for a number of years, when he went into the cigar business. He was a member of the board of directors and the secretary and treasurer of the Harrisburg Bridge Company. From 1889 to 1893 he held a clerkship in the State Library under Governor Pattison's administration.

General Hutchison was appointed chief of police in 1902 when Vance C.

McCormick became Mayor and also served during the administration of Edward W. Groves, who succeeded Mr. McCormick as Mayor, going out of office on the change of administration in 1908. On December 1, 1911, Mayor John W. McCaskey appointed Mr. Hutchison as chief of police and he served in that position until December 1, 1915, when he resigned to become head of the police and detective force of the Pennsylvania Steel Company at Steelton. General Hutchison was a member of the National Association of Police Chiefs and attended many of their meetings in different cities of the United States.

General Hutchison was a member of Harrisburg Lodge, No. 629, of Masons, and was affiliated with Pine Street Presbyterian Church.

General Hutchison's National Guard service covers a period of thirty-five years, he having enlisted in Company D, Eighth Regiment Infantry (City Grays), under Captain Thomas M. Maloney, February 18, 1881, and rose by regular promotion until in 1892 he was elected by unanimous vote of the line officers colonel of the Eighth Regiment, after the death of Colonel Theodore Hoffman. During General Hutchison's service in the City Grays he was appointed by Captain Maloney as commander of the City Grays' Cadet Corps, a junior organization designed to fit young men for enlistment in the senior company when they reached the legal age. After the death of Captain Maloney, in January, 1891, he was elected captain of Company D. At the beginning of the Spanish War he went with his company as its commander to Mount Gretna, April 28, 1898, and when the company was mustered into the United States service, May 12, 1898, he was made major of one of the better companies of the Eighth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and served in that position until mustered out, March 7, 1899.

General Hutchison's full military record was as follows: Private, Co. D, Eighth Regt., N. G. P., Feb. 18, 1881; corp., Nov. 9, 1882; sergt., June 1, 1885; second lieutenant, June 18, 1888; captain, March 3, 1891; re-elected Mar.

CLOSING IN UPON BOUNTY CROOKS

State Game Authorities Have Rounded Up More Men on Charges of Fraud

Officials of the State Game Commission are closing in on men who have been defrauding the State through the bounty crooks act and the conviction of some arms of the law for taking money in fees for passing on claims in an illegal way has been followed up by the arrest of a man in Carbon county who is said to have obtained $400 in a fraudulent manner.

Several of the wardens, including Charles Baum, of this city, have been engaged in running down the frauds and a justice of the peace at Westport is the latest to get into the net.

Dr. Joseph Kibbutz, secretary of the commission, is arranging for the conference of the game laws which the State commission authorized at its meeting here a few days ago.

Three Schools Planned.—In accordance with a statement issued yesterday by the Bureau of Vocational Education, the State will have only three schools for instruction of teachers desiring to embark in continuation school work. A registration manual will place July 17 as the closing date for the school year. The schools will be held in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Wilkes-Barre. The reason for cutting down the number of schools from six to three was the insufficient number of registrations.

Many Visitors.—Numerous visitors are registering at the State Capitol these days. The annual time for automobile traveling is in full swing. Many people from western towns are appearing on the list.

Interest in Game Laws.—The announcement that the State Game Commission intended to call a conference of the people interested in sporting matters to discuss changes in the game laws has attracted much attention. Suggestions for the meeting are already being heard.

Going to Baltimore.—Joseph Connelly and Rudolph Luger, of the Auditor General's department, left for the Elks' national convention at Baltimore today.

Mr. Johann Here.—Charles Johnson, former Insurance Commissioner, was here to-day on his way to a fishing camp with a party of friends.

Merger Visitor.—Dr. J. D. Whitehead, of Mercer, a member of the State Dental Examining Board, was at the Capitol today.

Shumberger Up Again.—Friends of J. C. Shumberger, of this city, today sent him congratulations on his promotion again. Mr. Shumberger went to the camp as a sergeant-major and was then made a captain. Today he became a major.

Kosok Hearing Off.—The hearing in the case of Mayor Kosok, of Wilkes-Barre, before the attorney general has been postponed until Thursday.

No New Cases.—No new cases of infantile paralysis were reported today. Last night Wayneboro, Dickson City and Tarentum reported cases. Middletown also has a case.

LEWISTOWN OBJECTS

Residents of Lewistown today filed objections with the State school authorities against the site for the proposed school at that place.

Mr. Ball to Attend.—William H. Ball, secretary to the Governor and a former president of the Philadelphia Christian Endeavorers, will attend the State convention here to-morrow.

No Road Races.—The State Highway Department has given notice that it will not stand for any races on State highways and if some scheduled races in Fayette and other counties are persisted in the State Police will stop them.

To Let Contract.—The contract for the State's new automobile tags will be let to-day in accord with the decision of the attorney general.

More Jitney Cases.—More than a dozen complaints against jitneys were filed with the Public Service Commission today by the Scranton Railway Company. The commission is working on a general jitney decision covering the legal points raised.

Want Station to Stay.—Complaint has been raised against the abandonment of the Buffalo and Susquehanna station at Gaines and a hearing will be held.

Millers Protest.—Representatives of the State Millers' Association are in conference to-day to advance the interests of the millers. They are protesting against the proposed grade crossings.

Commission to Meet.—The State Agricultural commission is scheduled to meet to-day to discuss ways to improve routing of the products they can get products to Philadelphia and other cities in quicker time and at more advantageous prices. The matter may develop into a general survey of the whole food routing proposition in Eastern Pennsylvania.

O'Neil an Early Bird.—J. Denny O'Neil, the new State insurance commissioner, gave Capitol Hill a surprise to-day by appearing for business at the opening hour on Monday. Most officials living out of the city do not arrive until Monday evening. Mr. O'Neil came over from Pittsburgh last night.

Commission's Busy Day.—The Public Service Commission started work this afternoon on the largest list of applications in a long time and will have executive sessions the rest of the week. The Galatin hearing has been postponed, but the East Erie commercial railroad case will be taken up to-morrow. The full crew case will not be decided before the middle of the week.

20, 1896; Lieut.-col., Sept. 2, 1899; colonel, Oct. 18, 1902; re-elected Oct. 22, 1907, and Oct. 22, 1912.

During General Hutchison's command of the Eighth Regiment that organization for several years stood at the head of the National Guard of Pennsylvania by virtue of having the highest rating for efficiency. He was in service with the regiment at Homestead riots in 1842; Hallow coal strike in 1897, and in Schuylkill and Luzerne counties in the anthracite coal strikes of 1900 and 1902.

On June 22, 1914, General Hutchison was appointed a brigadier general of the Fourth Brigade by Governor Brumbaugh, and assigned to general headquarters. He was critically ill at the home of his brother-in-law in Chambersburg at the time the new commission was assigned him. Two days later the men of one of the companies of his regiment, enroute to Mt.

Governor Issues Order on Death of Hutchison

The following general orders were issued to-day by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, in regard to the death of Brigadier General Joseph B. Hutchison in Chambersburg on Saturday:

Headquarters National Guard of Pennsylvania.
The Adjutant General's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., July 8, 1916.

I. The Governor and Commander-in-Chief announces with regret the death of Brigadier General Joseph B. Hutchison, which occurred in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, on Saturday, July 8, 1916.

II. Brigadier General Hutchison rendered valuable and faithful service to both the Nation and the State.

In the War With Spain
Major, Eighth Infantry, Pennsylvania Volunteers, May 12, 1899. Honorably discharged, March 7, 1899.

In the National Guard of Pennsylvania
Enlisted as private, Company D, Eighth Infantry, February 18, 1881. Second lieutenant, Company D, Eighth Infantry, June 18, 1888. Captain, Company D, Eighth Infantry, March 8, 1891, re-elected March 30, 1896.

Lieutenant Colonel, Eighth Infantry, September 2, 1899.

Colonel, Eighth Infantry, October 18, 1902, re-elected October 22, 1907, and October 22, 1912.

Appointed Brigadier General, June 22, 1914.

Brigadier General Hutchison was an able, faithful and brave soldier, a citizen of high character, and whether in military or civil station, performed his every duty, with fidelity and honesty.

His military talent was of a high order, and he gave freely of his time and effort to advance the interests of the military institution of the State.

IV. The funeral services will be held in Pine Street Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, on Tuesday, July 11, 1916, at 2 o'clock p. m. On the day of the funeral, flags on the several armories of the National Guard throughout the Commonwealth will be placed at half staff.

V. Owing to the absence of the organizations of the National Guard in the active service of the United States, no funeral escort is available.

By order of
MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH,
Governor and Commander-in-Chief.
THOMAS J. STEWART,
The Adjutant General, Chief of Staff.

Spanish War Veterans Will Honor Hutchison

Spanish-American War veterans and veterans of foreign service, whether members of camps or not, will meet to-night at 8 o'clock at the City Grays Armory to make arrangements to attend General Hutchison's funeral to-morrow. A band will provide martial music for the marchers and a firing squad will perform the military rites at the grave.

New Cumberland People Oppose Railroad Siding

New Cumberland, Pa., July 10.—A special meeting of borough council will be held this evening to hear the protest of citizens of New Cumberland against the proposed laying of a new siding by the Northern Central Railway Company in Water street. Property owners along the street are opposed to the project and will fight against it. A representative of the railroad company is expected to be at the meeting.

BATTLING NEGRO SHOOT'S HIMSELF

of a large number of negro laborers in Frederick street, is known, to give medical attention to Noel, whom they had been notified by fellow-boarders was insane and suffering from want of food.

They found the negro hiding in the attic and when Dr. Whipple attempted to enter the place the man picked up a heavy shovel and drove him into an adjoining room. The negro then barricaded himself in the attic.

Chief Earnest then attempted to enter the room and succeeded when the frenzied negro made a lunge at him with the shovel. The officer ward of a swinging blow with his shoulder and attempted to talk to the man.

Recovering his weapon, the maniac swung and attacked the officer the second time.

Driven into a corner and convinced that the man was temporarily, at least, a maniac, the chief drew his revolver and, as the crouching negro, crying wildly crawled nearer, he fired the man away back and forth across the narrow room, each fighting for his life. The negro was bleeding from a wound in his side where the officer's second shot took effect and the chief was bleeding from a wound in his right hand, where the shovel hit him. The struggle came to an abrupt end when the officer got his right arm around the negro's neck, causing his revolver to fire the third time. In some way the weapon was pointed at the officer's own left hand and the ball passed clear through the soft part of his palm, narrowly missing the bones. The report against the maniac's back, and the pain from the wound in his side caused him to give up the fight.

Although bleeding from both hands, Chief Earnest assisted by Dr. Whipple, who had been forced to stand by unable to distinguish the attacker from the attacked, carried the wounded negro to the street and loaded him into an automobile. At the Steel Company emergency hospital the wounds of both the officer and the negro were dressed. Neither is in a serious condition.

The bullet which struck the negro, hit a rib and passed along the bone, inflicting only a slight wound.

With both hands swathed in bandages, the chief of police described the struggle modestly refraining from his own heroic work.

"It's all part of the day's work," he deprecatingly remarked.
