BELL-1001-UNITED

HARRISBURG, TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1916.

FOUNDED 1871

It's going to be a good old-fashioned picnic, when the Bowman Store family sojourns to Good Hope Mill for a full day's outing on Friday, July 14th. We trust our patrons will again give this Play Day their endorsement and approve of the closing of the store all of that day.

This Is a Trumpet Call For Men to Rally to the Bowman Mid-Summer Suit Sale

Prices Drop Several Notches On Women's Coats In This Out-Going Sale

We know it to be a fact that in certain other cities these very same models are being sold for very much higher prices.

Those stores have taken advantage of the fine qualities, the excellent fashion of each model, the workmanship and other points of merit to reap a harvest of profit.

But they were purchased at low prices and they're going out to you at low prices. A saving of a half is not a rarity, at these prices:

$2.98, $3.98, $5.98

In every manner they measure up to the standard of desirability. They are weights that are convenient for all summer wear, and late into the Fall.

Sports models, dress models and models especially good for motoring.

BOWMAN'S—Third Floor.

This Is An Urgent Word To The Women Who Will Save Much On a Fine Silk Suit of Taffeta, Kayser Silk or Pongee. They are going rapidly at these low prices: $15, $19.50 & $22.50

New White Skirts Are Hurrying In

An unusual demand for white skirts has brought here one of the choicest assortments to be found in stores of three times our size.

Let this suffice. We anticipated the demand, and naturally are able at all times to offer a complete assortment.

Prices begin at 75c and range upward to $7.50.

BOWMAN'S—Third Floor.

In view of present conditions in the clothing market---woolens, buttons, linings, and all raw materials mounting in price---we would be justified in omitting our unusual clear-away event this season. To duplicate these suits to-day---standard for standard and quality for quality---would be impossible at the original prices, let alone these reductions.

But one of the foremost planks in this store's platform is to keep our stock free of carried-over merchandise, and accordingly, we offer, beginning to-morrow, at 8 o'clock

All Men's And Young Men's Suits, Including Kirschbaum Clothes at a Reduction of One-Fourth

We have made this reduction of One-Fourth unrestricted; withholding none; and none have been retagged. Original prices remain upon the garments which is a security as to the genuineness of the reductions. The new schedule of prices ranges as follows:

$7.20 $11.25 $15.00 $18.75

CITY PLANNERS FORM STATE BODY

Ed. S. Herman of Harrisburg, Elected Vice-president of New Association

A permanent organization of planning commissions, to be known as the State Association of Planning Commissions of Pennsylvania, was effected at a meeting of Planning Commissioners here to-day, by the election of the following officers: President, A. B. Farquhar, York; Vice-president, Ed. S. Herman, Harrisburg; Secretary, J. Herman Kniesly, Chief Division of Municipal Statistics, Department of Labor and Industry; treasurer, John K. Stauffer, Reading.

An executive committee including one member from the planning commission of each city in the association is to be appointed by the commissions of the respective cities.

Plans for beautifying third class cities in Pennsylvania and problems confronting planning commissions in those cities were discussed in a round table conference held in the House Caucus Room at the Capitol under the auspices of the Division of Municipal Statistics and Information of the Department of Labor and Industry. A. B. Farquhar, Chairman of the York Planning Commission, who presided, voiced the belief that third class cities offer greater fields of work for planning commissions than do larger municipalities.

Advantages of Planning Virtually every speaker expressed aversion to hasty adoption of great comprehensive plans before the public is educated to the benefits of city planning. Ed. S. Herman and B. F. Umberger outlined the city planning accomplishments effected in Harrisburg.

The advantages of combining all city planning commissions in third class cities into one association to meet problems confronting individual commissions in a co-operative manner was suggested by Mr. Herman.

Mr. Umberger declared that the chief asset of planning commissions is co-operation of the newspapers. He asserted that the newspapers of Harrisburg have been the greatest aid to the local commission not only in supporting the work of the commission but in urging it to greater activities. Charles H. Strong and Leo J. Beuttner, of Johnstown, declared that their greatest difficulty is in obtaining from clerks of councils, or adjoining boroughs, ordinances affecting streets joining highways in Johnstown. They expressed the opinion that legislation should be passed imposing penalties when clerks of councils do not submit copies of ordinances to planning commissions.

One Woman Present

Mrs. Rosa M. Ward, of Chester, the only woman attending the conference, declared that although the city planning commission has been in existence in Chester, for three years that it has not obtained recognition to any extent from council. She asserted that the commission has received no appropriation and that the members must even use their own note paper. She further declared that the city solicitor of Chester says that the planning commission is only advisory and has no authority.

The visiting commissioners will tour Harrisburg, in automobiles, this afternoon, to inspect the public improvements.

Among those present were: Harrisburg, Ed. S. Herman, George A. Rely, George A. Shreiner, Frank J.

Hall, B. F. Umberger; Lock Haven; Allen Sterner, superintendent of Parks; York, A. B. Farquhar, John D. Hamme, J. Horace Rudy, Harry S. Ebert; Erie, Faulkner G. Lynch, Harry A. Holmes, H. H. Clemens; Johnstown, Leo J. Beuttner, Charles H. Strong; Chester, Mrs. Rosa M. Ward; Reading, John K. Stauffer; Philadelphia, J. A. Dunaway, University of Pennsylvania.

CABINET DISCUSSES U-BOAT

Washington, D. C., July 11. — Politics and the arrival of the German submarine, Deutschland, occupied most of the Cabinet to-day's brief session. Acting Secretary Paik had no final report to make on the status of the underwater merchantman. In the absence of new information there was no extended discussion of Mexican problems.

WILSON SIGNS ROADS BILL

Washington, D. C., July 11. — President Wilson to-day signed the good roads bill recently passed by Congress, authorizing the expenditure of $85,000,000 in five years by the Federal Government in condition that States expend amounts similar to those apportioned to them.

Trolleymen's Union Will Meet Tomorrow Evening

At a meeting of the recently formed union of trolley employes to-morrow evening at College Block, a petition to be laid before officials of the company involving several changes in working conditions will be referred to the executive committee. This matter will be taken up with the company probably on Thursday. An early meeting will be held at 8:30 and a late meeting at 1:30 a. m., for the late workers. The proposed agreement will be discussed by the members before referred to committee.
