HOW MAGNESIA HELPS DYSPEPTICS

Patent Foods, Dieting and Medicines No Longer Necessary. Many dyspeptics have now discontinued the use of expensive patent foods, are eating what they please in season yet no longer take harmful drugs, medicines and artificial digestants to relieve their stomach trouble. Instead they just take a teaspoonful of pure bisulphated magnesia in a little water after meals, with the result that they not only save money but enjoy much better health and the stomach no longer gives them trouble. Those who have once tried bisulphated magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know that this wonderful antacid and food corrective, which absolutely does not injure the stomach and which can be obtained at little cost at almost any drug store will instantly neutralize all other excessive stomach acidity and prevent all possibility of their food souring or fermenting in the stomach. Try this plan yourself, but be sure to get bisulphated magnesia as magnesia in other forms often have a strong laxative effect which is not desirable.—Advertisement.

Black Refuses to Allow Auto Races

State Highway Commissioner Black told a delegation from Uniontown, last night that the department would adhere to its decision not to permit road racing and hill-climbing contests on State highways. He suggested that if public sentiment were overwhelming in favor of such contests, the Legislature should be petitioned to enact legislation which would permit the State Highway Department to allow them. William Stone, of Uniontown, accompanied by Charles W. Johnson and F. A. Close, who are associated with the promoters who are planning to hold a road race and hill-climbing contest on the National pike, near Uniontown on July 29, were the men who called on the commissioner. Mr. Stone based his plea for permission to conduct the race on preparedness, asserting that contests such as this were necessary to demonstrate the durability and availability of motor vehicles so that data could be secured where it was necessary to use them in time of war. Commissioner Black, in declining to reverse the ruling of the department, said: "We are not here to make the laws, but to enforce them. We cannot give permission to anyone to break the law and such races or contests as this one are clearly violations of the existing laws. We want everyone to be fair to us. It is not fair to expect us to sanction violations of the laws of the State. If there is an overwhelming demand for road races and hill-climbing contests, let the people decide how these things shall be conducted and let the people instruct the legislators to enact a law which will permit the use of the State highways for such events. We have no option but to enforce the law. This decision is final and irrevocable."

For All Complexion Ills

If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, blotchy or freckled, nothing will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercurozinc wax. It literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin, gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence, clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful. One ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will rejuvenate even the worst complexion. It is used like cold cream.—Advertisement.
