The Disappearance of Helen Mintern

by George Bronson Heward. Novelization by Hugh C. Weir. Copyright Kalem Company.

Mona laughed, and her confusion was covered by a call for the proprietress of the establishment. Mona followed, for she had a very defirite idea as to the identity of the new dustomer. It was Mary. Mona did not show herself during the interview that followed—an interview having to do with an appointment for the first of a series of facial massages. Mary took her departure, with a promise to return for her treatment in an hour. As the door closed behind her, Mona sprang into the waiting-room, and called to Madame Sutro.

"Who was that woman?" she demanded.

"Who was that woman?" she demanded.
The Madame gave her a neatly printed card, which Mary had left, and on which Mona read the name. "Mrs. Reginald Travers Wentworth." She looked up with a gasp. "She is putting one over on you," she snapped. "Her real name is Doris Greene—and she is a detective for Carson."

Madame Sutro flushed. "Are you sure?"

DRUGLESS HEALING

The Inflammation. Even Rheumatism, Sciatica And Neuritis Yield to Marvelous New Discovery

The nerves of your body are like electric wires. They carry the nerve energy (neuro-electricity) which is generated in the brain, to all the cells and tissues. The nerve sheaths are insulated to resist a current of about 4/1000 of a volt as has been proven with the aid of Lord Kelvin's galvanometer, an instrument so sensitive and accurate that for the first time it is now possible to measure the strength of nerve currents.

It has been found that wherever acute inflammation occurs the indown, making it difficult, and often impossible, for nature to heal the surrounding cells. Germs cannot live in healthy tissue; it is only through damaged cells that they thrive and spread. Obviously there-fore, the right way to successfully treat inflammatory disease is to quickly repair the damaged insulation and enable nature to restore the diseased tissue to a healthy condi-tion. Ion-o-lex Unguent does this.

Ion-o-lex Unguent is not a drug. It does not contain opiates or narcotics. Its action is entirely mechanical. Applied externally, it penetrates the tissues and surrounds the injured nerve sheaths with an insulating bath. Then the inflammation subsides and nature quickly repairs the nerve lesion—you are well. Don't suffer another minute, just go to H. C. Kennedy and get a large jar of Ion-o-lex Unguent, it costs little, use as directed and if you cannot say that it is the greatest means ever devised for conquering inflammation wherever it exists, your money will be cheerfully returned without a question.

lowed conferences between Mr. Hughes and many Republican leaders from out of town. Among them were Attorfivey General Brown and Congressman Vare of Pennsylvania.

With Chairman Wilcox, of the Republican National Committee; Senator Penrose W. Murray Crane, Mayor Thompson, of Chicago, and many others the nominee discussed his tentative campaign program yesterday. His advisers unanimously indorsed his proposal to make a trip to the Pacific coast beginning early in August.

Senator Penrose had a long talk with the nominee, at the conclusion of which Senator Penrose stated that he proposed to "take off his coat and go to work."

Chairman Willcox later remarked that his talk with Senator Penrose was "most satisfactory."

Mayor Thompson, of Chicago, invited Mr. Hughes to open at Chicago the speechmaking proposed western trip. The invitation was taken under advisement and the indications are that it will be accepted. Mr. Hughes told Mayor Thompson that he would try to arrange to speak in Chicago early in August.
