WRITE HOME FROM MISSION STATION

Some Harrisburgers in China Give Interesting Accounts of Their Doings

Mrs. Helen Carruthers Poteat, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carruthers, of 1359 State street, who is working at the Peking Station in China, writes of the dust storms, of the remarkable wistaria and of dairying in the Dragon Kingdom. Mrs. Poteat tells of the rapid stride and remarkable ability the Chinese have manifested in athletics. A few excerpts follow.

"There was a terrible dust storm Saturday when the sky was dark like a cloudy day—came up all of a sudden and blew at a terrific rate. Sunday the air was as clean as if there had been a refreshing rain. I suppose the dust had the same effect in cleaning the atmosphere but it took it out in the shape of scouring instead of washing. There is an epidemic of measles, etc., scattered about the city and makes one anxious for rain."

"We were invited to a town 14 miles from here, Tunghow, to Dr. Arthur Smith's college. Dr. Smith, as you know, wrote all those books on China—'Chinese Characteristics,' etc. They have the oldest student Y. M. C. A. there in China. The college is in the mountains. There are enclosed with it beautiful land planted with many trees, willow, locust, poplar and ash. The land is covered with green alfalfa except around the houses of the mission. These are enclosed with fir hedges, the large yards planted with rose hedges, shrubs, a large vegetable garden with plenty of strawberries—a real luxury. The houses are of gray brick. Four out of seven had perfect wistaria vines covering the whole front—a mass of the most beautiful wistaria I ever saw—I don't believe it grows so thick at home."

"One of the most interesting spots in Tunghow is the dairy conducted on American principles with American cows. These cows don't drink milk and so use what cows they have for work, consequently the art of giving milk is not in their line. The owner had 30 or 40 cows, some from Siberia. These were smaller than the American variety, but six that had come all the way from America at great expense. Holsteins, were what you call cows."

Participate in Track Meet Gordon Poteat writes of an interesting track at which he and Donald Carruthers were judges. A few records approach some of those of the American.

"They had a great track meet on Saturday lasting all day despite the terrific dust storm that arose in the afternoon and made it at times impossible to see the runners as they encircled the track. Tsing Hua and the Peking Methodist University were the other contestants. It is a new China where those who read books as the scholars are sometimes called are out in their running suits doing the half-mile or the discus throw or the pole vault instead of loitering in the house or being conducted by servants in a cart to friends for a call. Nineteen feet, eleven and one-half inches in the running broad, nearly ten feet in the pole vault, 10 seconds and a fraction in the hundred is pretty good for Chinese schoolboys isn't it? They had their banners and their cheers and college songs, boys to rub the winners down with oil and catch them in blankets at the end of the race, a silver trophy cup and medals for places in the events. Scratch the skin and we all bleed and blood is the same color all the world around."

SOME HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The perfume of flowers disappears as soon as the starch in the petals is exhausted, and it may be restored by placing the flowers in a solution of sugar when the formation of starch and the emission of fragrance will be at once resumed.

To remove grease spots on carpets or matting, cover with French chalk and sprinkle with benzine. Allow the benzine to evaporate, then brush off the chalk. If the stain has not disappeared repeat the process.

Paint stains on floors may be scoured off by soaking them for a little while in turpentine or benzine, and then rubbing them with pumice stone or glass paper.

Never place a piece of good furniture very near a fireplace. The heat dries the wood and glue often causing rot where the parts are joined together.

Pearl knife handles should be cleaned with a rag dipped in fine salt, then polished with a leather.

Cooling Wash Stops Itching

What long nerve-racking days of constant torture—what sleepless nights of torment—what itchy—itchy—constant itch, until it seemed that I must tear off my very skin—then—

Instant relief—my skin cooled, soothed and healed! The very first drops of D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema stopped that awful itch instantly; yes, the very moment D. D. D. touched the burning skin the torture ceased. A 25c bottle proves it.

D. D. D. has been known for years as the only absolutely reliable eczema remedy. It washes away the disease germs and leaves the skin as clear and healthy as that of a child.

Come to us and we will tell you more about this remarkable remedy. Your money back unless the bottle relieves you. D. D. D. keeps your skin healthy. Ask about it.
