to-day that they considered appeals unlikely.

The cases are now all cleared upincluding those brought two years ago and which were held up until those of last Fall were decided. In addition to the four cases announced yesterday six were announced last night by Chairman Ainey, who wrote the Pennsylvania Railroad opinions.

Chairman Ainey also wrote opinions in complaints against the Baltimore and Ohio, Philadelphia and Reading and Central, Railroad of New Jersey lines, in which he upheld the contention that dining car and cafe car conductors could not be considered as traipmen or brakemen and ordered the companies to place in service crews of six men, none of whom shall perform the duties of service of dining car conductor. In the Baltimore and Ohio, case he says "It is not an answer to the legislative mandate to say that the train employe has no duties or that he has plenty of time to perform other duties. Not only particular service, but constant watchfulness, is the reasonable and proper requirement which may be expected of each member of the stain crew. In no other way can safety be secured. In order to comply with the statute a brakeman must be a brakeman all the time. He may not be both at the same time. If we adopted the view advanced by respondent, then we might be forced to accept the conclusion that one or more waiters in the dining car might be designated members of the train crew and thus wholly defeat the legislation under consideration."

At the special meeting of the Harrisburgh. At the society laid plans for carrying on its work over the summer months. Sixteen new members of rule of the special of finds in an exhaustive opinion that the company employs yard crews and pays them on a different basis than the road crews and they perform an entirely different service. While sometimes as high as seventy-five cars are in one train, the work is preliminary to the transportation of the cars or subsequent to their receipt and for purposes of delivery. The three yards mentioned, he finds, are practically one yard.

Further Proceedings

It is considered very probable that there will be no further proceedings in the full crew cases and that the railroads will accept the rulings and put on the additional men. Attorneys said to-day that they considered appeals unlikely.

City Will Dwell at Length, It Is Believed, on That Phase

Resumption of the hearing of testi-mony on the quesdamages growing out of the construction of the Second and Front street subways beneath the Cumberland Valley tracks has been fixed for Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. If the Council chamber cannot be obtained for the purpose, other quarters will be secured or the hearing will be postponed until the afternoon. Nearly a dozen more properties must be considered before the city presents its evidence. Incidentally, considerable weight to the importance of South Second street as the highway of the future to Steelton will be emphasized. While this is being brought out right along by City Solicitor D. S. Seitz in cross-examination, it is expected that this phase of the improvement will be given especial weight when the city takes up its side of the problem.
