2 BIG STORES PICNIC TODAY

D. P. & S. and Bowman's Employees Have Great Frolics on "Day Off"

Two fine invitations
Came along my way
To attend
On the self same day.
Couldn't turn down either,
Therefore, nothing loath—
Being fond of picnics—
I accepted both.

Planned at noon to motor
Out to Good Hope Mill
And at Bowman's would
My wee stomach fill.
Then in a few hours
Down to Hershey go,
And at Pomeroy's picnic
Get more grub, you know.

Had my plans all doped out
For two days or more
But they're all been busted
And I'm mighty sore.
Acute indigestion
Hit me hard last night—
Doc said "go to picnics
But don't eat."
—By Wing Dingler.

Employees of two of the big downtown department stores held their annual picnics to-day, one crowd journeying to Good Hope Mill, the other by special train to Hershey Park.

More than 2,000 people, including the hundreds of employees with their families and friends went on the outings which are features of the summer season.

The employees were the guests of Bowman and Company and Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart; the former going to Good Hope Mill, the latter to Hershey. To add to the crowds, the employees of the Imperial Department Store of Carlisle, joined the Bowman crowd, and employees from the Reading store of Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart came to Hershey.

Good things to eat, and plenty of fun are the best words to describe just what happened. It would take a few volumes to say it all and you couldn't begin to understand it then—unless you were one of the tired and happy bunch that laid aside the cares and worries for the big frolic.

Um! Ha! Eat!!

Motor trucks conveyed the Bowman party to their picnic grounds early in the morning. Games, contests and dancing were the big features, but most important of all was that family dinner at noon. And the way those folks piled into things would have made a commissary man sick, hadn't they looked for just such appetites.

Although the skies were hazy, cool breezes helped things along and the picnickers could not complain about the weather. All day yesterday the employes and decorators arranged for the big event and erected rustic bridges and steps, and built a toboggan for the boys.

In the afternoon the cake judging contest was the center of attraction and the cakes were brought before the judges one by one. According to the judges, they all deserved prizes, and last year's contest wasn't in it with the one of to-day.

Musical was furnished by the Loyalty Orphan Home Band, and the young musicians were kept busy all day long. This evening the big trucks will bring back the picnickers from the day of merry-making.

The Periwinkle Band headed the Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart parade in the city shortly after noon when the store closed and the hundreds of employes poured out and formed for the march over the big streets. The band members were gaily attired in new uniforms and were followed by a battalion of employes carrying new silk American flags. It was the same battalion which paraded in the farewell march when the city guardsmen left for Mt. Gretna.

Following these were the "suffragists." Their line of march was arranged so that the big crowd could serenade all of the city newspapers, and it was some serenade—it made the folks who stayed at home just a little lonesome as they waited for the hundreds preparing to leave for hours of fun.

More than 1,200 left on special trains at the Reading stations here and at Reading.

Games, contests, aquatic sports and three band concerts, by the Hershey Band, the Periwinkle Band and the Ringgold Band of Reading, kept the folks more than amused during the afternoon and early evening. At 6 o'clock supper for the picnickers awaited them in the Hershey Cafe, after they had completed an inspection tour of the Hershey chocolate factory.

Pretty Girls to Cheer—Whoop!

John Bushey, of this city, captained the Harrisburg nine and William Brown, of Prettzietown, the Reading team, in a baseball game in the afternoon, which was a battle for honors between the two teams. Fast plays and clean sport with hundreds of pretty girls cheering them on made things interesting at the baseball diamond for more than an hour.

To-night there will be fireworks and other amusements and at 10 o'clock the special train will pull out of the Hershey station headed homeward.

York, Pa., July 14.—A severe thunderstorm caused much damage in the western and upper sections of York county yesterday afternoon. Wires are down and the full extent of the wreckage is not known. A large barn on the farm of Lewis Kinter in Washington township, was struck by lightning and burned, together with crops, the loss being about $3,000. A new barn owned by Charles Trimble in Springfield township was destroyed by lightning, loss about $2,500. All farm implements and crops were destroyed.

Elizabethville, Pa., July 14.—Reports received here indicate that the damage by a terrific windstorm which passed through Small Valley will be very heavy. Lightning, wind and rain combined, wrecked nearly everything in the vicinity. A barn on the farm of Harry Alvord was almost demolished and will have to be rebuilt. A new steel roof was blown from Straw's Union Church. A tree near Miller's Church was blown over into the road and turned completely upside down. Contractor Koons has added another story, rearranged the apartments and otherwise changed it into a modern, up-to-date building, without making it necessary to move the furniture of the second-floor rooms.

FIND BODY CUT APART BY SHARK

Come a popular sport along the New Jersey coast in the waters of New York bay and along the ocean side of Long Island. Reports of the sighting or killing of sharks out along the shore reach the city almost hourly and some fishermen are bringing in the big fish they have killed to prove the truth of their stories. Only a few of these, however, are described as man-killers. A passenger on a steamer is authority for the statement that he saw two sharks in the Hudson river near Tarrytown. One shark was killed near Fairfield, Conn.

Thousands of persons who have been driven to the beaches by the hot wave fear to enter the waters in the vicinity of New York since sharks killed a man and the boy in Matawan creek, N. J.

Prepare For Shark Drive

Shark hunters at Matawan creek believe they have this shark penned up in the creek behind a series of wire nets which have been strung across the creek at intervals from its mouth to the scene of the tragedy 16 miles from the entrance. Men armed with shot guns, rifles and harpoons patrolled the waters of the creek again to-day. Some of them said they had seen five of the big fish near the point where Stanley Fisher and Lester Stillwell were killed. They made preparations for a shark drive when the ebb tide will leave only a few feet of water in the creek. Dynamite will be exploded again in an effort to stun the sharks and bring them to the surface.

Joseph Dunn, the ten-year-old boy whose leg is terribly torn by the invader of Matawan creek is in a hospital in New Brunswick, N. J. Little hope is entertained for his recovery.

JAWS OF MAN-EATING SHARK

George C. Potts, 1513 North Second street, president of the Harrisburg Natural History Society, obtained the jaws while in the Bahamas. The shark was caught off the northern coast of New Providence Island. Seven rows of teeth can be seen, each tooth as sharp as a razor.

HOUSE MARKS TIME

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C., July 14.—A series of three-day adjournments was the plan of the House to-day to permit members to go home for campaign work. The House virtually finished its legislative program and from now on will have little to do while the Senate completes its work.

Gen. Hartranft

Yes, there's Havana in this smoke—just enough to blend perfectly with the choicest domestic leaf that grows.

There's fullness and fragrance—the missing link in most nickel cigars.

Blending tobacco is an art as the quality of a Gen. Hartranft proves.
