Contrary to all precedents more books are being taken out at the Har-risburg Public Library in July than in June. Ordinarily circulation drops off n the hot months, but this year, probably due to the interest being taken in the business and industrial books at the Library the circulation is holding In a lotary are checked on a summer time. The record for June went over the 10,000 mark and it is likely that July will run away up. The librarian in charge making arrangements to meet this unusual summer demand by add-ing more fiction to the shelves, a con-siderable number of summer recrea-tional fiction being on the way. One of the rather unusual facts regarding the demand for books is that there are numerous dequests for books on Mex-ico and the "Travel Table" at the Li-brary contains some of the best books on the tempestuous republic. Many inquiries are also being made for in-formation on Mexico which indicates the extent of the popular interest. The business books, which were bought from lists supplied by a number of up better than known in summer time. from lists supplied by a number of specialists here and elsewhere, have proved a big success.

That the food provided for the Pennsylvania regiments sent across the country was all right and met the demands of the men when handled propmands of the men when handled prop-erly is evidenced by cards received here the last few days. All of the cards were posted from Missouri or other western States and tell of men being in good condition and well fed, Major Henry A. Renninger, adjutant of the Fourth brigade, which contains the Eighth regiment, wrote to Colonel H. C. Trexler, the chief quartermaster who handled all the rations: 'Every-one well and everything fine. Mess officers received highest praise and men pleased with rations. All have plenty of food. No one would have believed six months ago that in front of a long months ago that in front of a long famous beer garden in Walnut street Christian Endeavor emblems would be hanging to-day. But so rapid has been the onward march of the "make the map all white" movement that this very thing obtains. It seems that so few people like to drink in the garden so popular of old that it has been con-verted into an ice cream parlor. And the owner of the ice cream parlor fol-lowed out the suggestion of the Cham-ber of Commerce and decorated in honor of the Christian Endeavor convention of the Christian Endeavor convention which brought temperance workers here this week from every part of the Commonwealth.

Yesterday the school directors of Hanover township were surcharged $12,528.54 in a decision by Judge Strauss, who declared their of-ficial acts were either dishonest or the result of incompetency or imbecility. He declared that the school officials showed "absolute indifference to pub-lie welfare." The court shows disgust over the purchase of what it terms an antiquated library for school purposes. The board hired an agent and paid him a liberal commission for buying a school library ard he furnished novels that were old and of no use for school purposes.
