KILLS WIFE AND SELF AS 9 TINY CHILDREN WATCH

Sobbing Youngsters Run to Neighbor to Tell End of Story of Jealous Quarrel

Mifflintown, Pa., July 18.—The stifled sobs and sniffs of many children in her back yard this morning attracted wondering Mrs. John Ford, of Cross Roads, a village thirteen miles from here, and she hurried from her ironing board to find the nine small offspring of Mr. and Mrs. James Shult, neighbors, weeping about the steps.

"What in the world is the matter?" asked the startled Mrs. Ford. "Why, papa shot mamma just now," explained the oldest girl through her tears. "and then—and then—he killed himself."

Stories that had gone the rounds of the neighborhood from time to time of frequent quarrels in the Shult household which followed the husband's accusation of infidelity on the part of his wife, Ella Markel Shult, flashed through the neighbor's worried head.

Mrs. Ford notified the authorities and an investigation was made. In the Shult home, a short distance away, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Shult lay where they had fallen. Blood slowly dripped from the wounds of fatal bullets fired by the crazed husband and father before the eyes of his nine frantic youngsters.

SWEARNS IN DEPUTIES TO STOP DISORDERS

ex-Chief of Police James E. Knutz and ex-Deputy Sheriff Edgar C. Hummel, a squadron officer of the Pennsylvania Cavalry, had been sworn in as deputies. Following is the sheriff's statement:

"Hugh McLaughlin, representing the strikers; Frank E. Musser, representing the trolley company; Chief of Police Thomas Ziel, and Sheriff W. W. Caldwell, met at the office of Captain of Police George F. Lumb for the purpose of discussing the situation in connection with the strike now in effect in Harrisburg. The purpose was solely to discuss the matter of the preservation of order in the community and the protection of property.

"Mr. McLaughlin assured those present that the strikers were not in sympathy with any unlawful acts, and it was generally agreed that the acts committed were committed by persons other than strikers. Mr. McLaughlin assured those present that the strikers would co-operate in every way to prevent any and all violations of law.

"It was the opinion of all, however, that as a result of the incidents of last night that it was necessary for the Chief of Police and the Sheriff to co-operate and use all possible means to prevent a repetition of these occurrences.

"I consider, as Sheriff of Dauphin county, that the situation is such that deputies must be sworn in to preserve order and protect property, which, accordingly will be done and all violators of law promptly arrested.

"I propose to handle the situation so far as possible and with the assurances received from Mr. McLaughlin, do not believe outside intervention will be necessary. Nor will I make any request for such intervention until I am clearly convinced that I cannot handle the situation."

Chief of Police Ziel said that outside of a little disturbance at Fourteenth and Derry streets, where a number of obstructions were placed on the tracks, and a renewal of the jeering and crowding on the tracks at Tenth and Market streets, like the disorders there yesterday, he had received no reports of any serious trouble to-day. All is quiet this afternoon, he said. Chief Ziel denied the published report that strikers had appealed to him to prevent strikebreakers from carrying weapons. He had not heard of the matter at all, he added.
