Tells in Following Letter How She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Milwaukee, Wis. — "Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a physical wreck. I had been going to a doctor for several years but he did me no good. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I decided to give it a fair trial, and it gave me relief from bearing down pains which had been so bad that I would have to lie down. I also used the Sanative Wash and it has done me a great deal of good, and I am not troubled with a weakness any more." — Mrs. P. L. BRILL, 299 Booth Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

The most successful remedy for women's ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test for forty years, which would be impossible if it did not have genuine merit. For special advice, free, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

AMUSEMENTS

As a Kentucky preacher, who loses even his mother's love when he refuses to take part in a play, William S. Hart at the Colonial has an entirely new sort of role, for him, in his latest Triangle play from the Ince studios, "The Apostle of Vengeance." In this new feature Hart takes the part of David Hudson, a young minister living in Vermont. He is the son of a family of Kentucky feudists, who at the time he is preaching are killing and being killed. In the last outbreak the Hudsons get the worst of it and they send for their eldest brother, David, to come home and avenge his kin. David, of course, comes at once. But instead of beginning the fight anew, he preaches the word of God and his family casts him out. A new two-reel Keystone comedy called "His False Step," will be on the same bill.

The story of how a real dyed-in-the-wool-crook struggles with his old self and resists all temptation for the victor today is portrayed in the five-act Vitagraph feature which will be presented to-day, entitled "The Redemption of Dave Darcy," at the Victoria. For to-morrow will be offered for the first time in this city "La Bohème," taken from the famous work of Henri Murger, and in which Alice Brady is featured.

An unusual photoplay that will, it is said, delight young and old, will be exhibited at the Regent by Mary Pickford, when Mary Pickford in "Cinderella" will be presented in a unique film version of the greatest fairy tale ever written, "Cinderella," a Paramount picture. Owen Moore is cast as the Young Prince Charming. To-day and to-morrow the fifth chapter of Billie Burke in "Gloria's Romance" (The Gathering Storm) will be shown. The dramatic portion of the bill to-morrow will be "Whispering Smith," a romance of railroad life founded upon the popular novel of the same name, and featuring Helen Holmes.

Midvale Steel Lands $8,000,000 War Order

Philadelphia, July 21. — An $8,000,000 contract for 12,000 twelve-inch shells has been closed with the entente powers by the Midvale Steel and Ordnance company. This dispels rumors of the last three weeks that Europe would not place more orders for shells in this country. Announcement of the new contract was made by the company yesterday. The profit on the orders is estimated to be about 30 per cent, and will net the company about $2,500,000. Specifications require that the shells be made of hard carbon steel, which makes the machining of the shells more difficult than in previous orders. The completed shell, however, is said to be more effective on the battlefield.

Neither is it easy to convince a man that a piece of land in the Southwest contains a vein of silver if the topographic map fails to show the presence of ore-bearing rocks. So infallible are the maps that life insurance companies now lend money on farm lands upon their recommendations. The vice president of an insurance company in his New York office can determine the approximate value of a given farm in the State of Washington by looking it up on the survey map of that section. The maps are even more valuable to the home-maker, and should be consulted by every person when moving into a new country. Certain physical characteristics of the earth's surface bring about conditions which are detrimental to health, and these conditions are duly noted on the topographic map. For several years it was a well-known fact among life insurance companies that many of the so-called "cup towns" throughout the country—towns completely surrounded by hills—are unusually productive of cancer. The fact was so noticeable that finally an investigation was arranged and the phenomenon explained. It had occurred to someone to compare the conditions of the "cup towns" with those encountered by the chimney sweeps of London, among whom there is an enormous amount of cancer, due to their contact with smoke and soot. It was found that the chimneys of the houses of the "cup towns" were fitted with a device that swung with the wind and opened at right angles to the chimney, and that these devices collected an immense amount of soot. In the large cattle grazing areas of the west, the Survey's maps have proved the means of settling many boundary disputes. The land which is usually unfenced, may be owned by an individual or by the government. In the case of government ownership the range is described in the grazing permit, but with private ownership it depends mostly upon the word of the owner, unless he produces his deed, and there are frequently many wrangles and disputes in finding the section corners. The topographic map has gone far towards eliminating these difficulties. The irrigation projects of the West are also indebted to the topographic map for their existence. The engineer plans his work, the expense of construction and the time required to complete it, with the aid of the map. Afterwards he may explore the country himself for greater evidence of its practicality, but the first estimate is usually based upon the topographic sheet. When the giant map of the entire country is completed it will be a big step in the preparedness program. With all the physical features of the country within their knowledge, the military engineers can plan the mobilization and stationing troops without sending scouts ahead to determine the lay of the country. Usually before a detachment takes up its headquarters at a given point, the sanitary engineer goes ahead to insure proper health conditions; now the sanitary engineer can economize on travel and get his information from the topographic corps of the Geological Survey.

EXCITED GROOM MIXES NAMES

That of First Wife Written In to New License by Hagerstown Marriage Clerk

Hagerstown, Md., July 21.—Being married twice within an hour about midnight at the parsonage of Washington Square Methodist Episcopal Church in this city was the unusual experience of a Pennsylvania groom, Ernest A. Mauk, of North Bessemer, and Miss Maude M. Berry, of Elkton, Va., because the groom, through a mistake, gave the maiden name of his first wife when he applied for a license and her name was written in the license instead of the girl he was to marry. The mistake was discovered after the Rev. Mr. Faith had married Mauk to "Ida V. Flinn," of Luray, Va. Mauk hurried to the home of Harry D. Burger, deputy marriage license clerk, who rectified the error and returned to the minister's home for the second ceremony.

Miss Minnie M. Weidman, of McAllisterville, Pa., and John S. Zeller, of Liverpool, Pa., were married at the parsonage of Washington Square Methodist Church by the Rev. W. L. Lynn.

Deserted Girl Drowns Baby She Believes Is Going Blind; Tries Suicide

Worrying because she had been deserted by the father of her child and because she believed her two-year-old son, Stanley Roy Fissel, was going blind, Alice Gutshall, aged 26, held the baby boy in the bathtub at her home, 2147 1/2 Ave. S., yesterday afternoon until the child was drowned. She then swallowed several bichloride of mercury tablets in an attempt to take her own life. She was found by her mother several hours after in a serious condition, and was hurried to the Harrisburg hospital. Mrs. Gutshall yesterday left for Newport, Pa., to care for her daughter alone and when she returned she found her in her bedroom. Last night the young woman said at the hospital: "I couldn't bear the thought of my son being blind for the remainder of his life, as a result of being burned at a furnace about two months ago." Undertaker C. Mauk will take the body of the child to Burrows tomorrow where burial will be made in the afternoon.

German Warship Takes U. S. Schooner Into Port

London, July 21. — The American schooner Prince Caldemar has been captured by a German warship while on its way from Philadelphia to Sweden with a cargo of oil, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company quoting the Copenhagen Politiken. The schooner was taken into Swinemunde. The only American schooner of this name which is listed here belongs to George McNear, of San Francisco. The McNear firm is one of these included in the recent British blacklist.

Apple Trees Along Penn Highway Is Suggestion

The planting of fruit trees along the William Penn Highway from Philadelphia to the Ohio State line; women as good road boosters, the securing of 20,000 members of the association in the fifteen counties through which the highway passes—these are some of the questions to be discussed by the governors of the William Penn Highway at the meeting to be held in Philadelphia next Tuesday. Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh last year suggested that fruit trees be planted along the State's thoroughfares. The William Penn promoters not only agree with this idea, but they say that the crop should be harvested and the proceeds used in maintaining the road. The promoters say that with a double row of fruit trees 300 miles in length the monetary return would be immense.
