PUBLISHERS FEEL EFFECTS OF WAR

Cost of Paper and Everything Else Used in Printing Soaring Rapidly

A commodity even so indirectly related to the demands of war as paper is showing the prevailing tendencies to such a degree as seriously to embarrass publishers. The higher price of paper stock and the difficulty in obtaining it at all in England was a chief factor in the discontinuance in March of the London Daily Standard, after a career of 60 years, for a considerable portion of which it was the most important organ of the middle classes in England.

In America the demand for paper has been increasing for six months, as a result of general business activity. At the same time supplies used in its manufacture have been decreased by war conditions, and in some cases have almost been cut off. The supply of old rags is affected by the cutting off of the importations from the European peasantry and by the demand for the making of gun-cotton. The chemicals used in bleaching the paper produced by sulphuric acid and alum are being devoured by the manufacturers of explosives, while importations of jute have fallen off until the price is doubled. An embargo has been placed on shipments of wood pulp from Norway and Sweden, while Canada stopped access to her vast resources some time ago. The newspaper publisher is, indeed, hard hit by war conditions in many other items of supplies besides the basic one of paper stock. Virtually everything going into the manufacture of a daily newspaper has increased in price from 10 to 50 per cent.—inks, owing to the advance in the cost of acids and dyes, from 300 to 3000 per cent; type, owing to the higher cost of lead, tin and antimony—even the rubber and felt blankets wrapped around the press rollers add their quota to the increased "cost-of-living" of the metropolitan daily.—American Review of Reviews.

$2 More Contributed to Give Joyous Week in Camp to Youngster

Nearly a dozen small boys and girls to whom a week's outing under canvas is merely something about which to read, will get seven days of real fun in the tents of McCormick's Island camp after all.

The release of Lew Ritter by Utica State League baseball team probably will be the last big ticket I will have handed him by organ baseball, for as a ball player "The Do" is done. He used to be able to catch a whole season through, include double-headers, without a slip-up. He did it once with Utica and established a world's record. He used to be able whip 'em down to second with the b in the business. His nickname, "Dog," and "The Hound," came to him as tributes to his unerring base throwing. "Not with that guy boundin' ye ball players used to tell disappoin base stealers. He used to hit fast well and, with his peculiar antics the plate, he used to be able to do down more passes than most batt. But with the years his batting hit the chutes and the "pep" he oozed out of him. He's done now, more's the pity. Lew was an honor the game. He lived cleanly and pled cleanly, and to every club he pled with he gave his best. A ball player wants no better praise.—Utica server.
