THE SISTERHOOD PRESENTS GIFTS

Mrs. Charles J. Freund Honored by Associates on Eve of Her Departure

MRS. CHARLES J. FREUND

One of the most interesting events in the history of the Ohev Shalom Sisterhood was a surprise given Saturday afternoon to Mrs. Charles J. Freund, wife of the retiring rabbi of the Temple on the eve of her departure for her new home in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Mrs. Freund, who is a college woman and interested in the great questions of the day has done much during her residence here for the Sisterhood and its work. In appreciation of her efforts, Mrs. Otto J. Buxbaum, president, presented her with an exquisite silver vase, appropriately engraved with a dedicatory poem and the good wishes of the Sisterhood for happiness in her new home.

No Other Woman Shall Fan My Husband, She Says

MRS. JANE CAREY

Bayonne, N. J., July 31.—The sight of another woman fanning her husband with a palm leaf fan caused Mrs. Carey to have the young woman arrested. But she did not press the charge against her prisoner. Indeed not! Instead, she had a warrant issued for the arrest of her husband.

Mrs. Carey had not seen her husband for three years until she chanced to stroll through the City Park and had her attention attracted to a man stretched out on one of the benches. His head was resting in a girl's lap and the girl was fanning him. On drawing nearer to the scene, Mrs. Carey was astonished to find that the man was her John.

REUNION OF PENN STATE ALUMNI

Six Hundred Graduates and Friends Gather at Hershey Park

Special to the Telegraph. Hershey, Pa., July 31.—More than 600 attended the first annual reunion and outing of the Alumni of Pennsylvania State College at Hershey Park on Saturday.

The affair was held under the auspices of the Central Pennsylvania Alumni Association of Penn State. J. B. McNally, of Harrisburg, is president and H. D. Buckwalter, also of Harrisburg, secretary and treasurer.

The meeting was called to order in the auditorium by President McNally, who introduced John Price Jackson, State Commissioner of Labor and Industry. John E. Snyder, representing the Hershey company, welcomed the Alumni members.

Short addresses were made by H. Walton Mitchell, of Pittsburgh, president of the college trustees; Ray Smith, secretary of the Alumni association; Dr. F. J. Harris, Dr. Hugh Hamilton, N. C. Shaeffer, superintendent of public instruction and Dr. E. E. Sparks, president of State college.

Dr. Sparks said that the incoming class would be limited to 600 and that several hundred young men and women of Pennsylvania must be denied admission on account of lack of facilities. He also made an appeal for a new armory for the college which would help largely to place Penn State at the head in military drill.

Among the older graduates present were J. Henry Iselt, of Blair county, class of 1861, and Dr. Hugh Hamilton, of Harrisburg, class of 1866. Besides there were present Dr. L. M. Dennis, agricultural expert of Pennsylvania, and M. B. King, industrial education expert, graduates of State.

College songs and cheers were led by Beck, '19, of Harrisburg.

The committees in charge were: Reception—John Price Jackson, F. J. Harris, Dr. Hugh Hamilton, Miss Elizabeth Bricker, Simon E. Miller, M. B. King and J. C. Reed, of Harrisburg; N. M. Goodover, of Carlisle; E. E. Smith, of Pottsville and F. S. Butcher, of Lancaster.

Entertainment—G. W. Moffatt, William Webber, J. E. Shull, H. C.

THERE IS GREAT CONTENT in watching a growing bank account. When the wife says to her husband: "You remember how happy we were when we had a hundred dollars saved up—and look at it now!" there is a mutual feeling of contentment that nothing can shake. Why not let this pleasure enter your life by opening a small account with us to-day?
