Deutschland Submerges, Mile Off Capes and Is Unobserved by Allied Warships

CHEERS FOR AMERICANS Last Act of Crew Before Going Under; Will Pass Through English Channel

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 3.—Somewhere out in the Atlantic to-day the German merchant submarine Deutschland and allied warships were believed to be playing hide and seek as the undersea boat sped homeward after passing out the Virginia Capes last night.

The Deutschland submerged a mile off the coast shortly before 9 o'clock and so far as known here was unobserved by the allied warship patrol guarding the capes against her escape.

As the Deutschland approached the sea it was apparent she was carrying false superstructure, slightly lower than her conning tower. It was straw

General Strike on All Transit Lines of New York Is Now Regarded as Imminent

New York, Aug. 3.—A strike of street railway employees tying up every surface line in Manhattan, the Bronx and Queens county seemed inevitable to-day. The leaders of the union recently organized and the employees today delivered an ultimatum to the railway companies giving them until tomorrow to grant their demands and efforts to-day by Mayor Mitchell to bring about arbitration failed.

Heads of the various traction companies are reported to be united in a decision to refuse to grant the demands of leaders of the street railway men's union for recognition and increased pay. The union organizers are making every effort to extend their organization and the railway officials are preparing for a strike. Their plan is said to be to bring thousands of strike-breakers from other cities.

The only hope held out to-day of avoiding a strike on the many surface lines operated by the New York Railways Company within 48 hours was the slender one that either the company or the union men would yield.

Prior to the hour set for the meeting between representatives of the traction companies and union heads at Mayor Mitchell's office, William B. Fitzgerald, general organizer of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees announced that demands in behalf of the employees of the New York Street Railways Company and the New York and Queens Railway Company would be presented to the companies to-day and that they would be given until 6 p. m. to-morrow to give their answer. If unfavorable, a strike vote among the employees would be taken, he said.

MISSING MILITANT WORKING IN SCULLERY

KITTY MARION

New York, Aug. 3.—Miss Kitty Marion, the famous English suffragist who disappeared some time ago, has been found in a rooming house of this city where she is serving as a dishwasher, having been reduced to this extremity by failing to find other work.

Miss Marion came to New York from London at the beginning of the war. She was a militant member of the Women's Political Union. Few women belonging to that fighting organization had more strenuous experiences than she.

She was sent to Holloway jail 250 times for taking a leading part in the women's fight for political recognition. It was then she was forcibly fed 232 times. But in New York she found it much harder to get food than it was to dodge it in England.

STRIKERS ASK GOVERNOR'S AID

Request Chief Executive to Use Influence For Settlement; New Disturbances

Labor leaders to-day asked Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh to help adjust the differences between the striking trolley men and the officials of the Harrisburg Railway Company by arranging a conference, if possible, between committees representing the carmen and the company, respectively.

If such a plan of mediation could be arranged, the union men asked Mayor Mitchell to give his aid toward bringing about an amicable settlement of the problems by arbitration or mediation.

Mr. Brumbaugh promised to take a hand in the matter before even-

OCTOGENARIAN TO ADOPT TWO GIRLS

May Inherit Fortune Estimated at $8,000,000 as Result of Action

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Captain Edward W. Morrison, an octogenarian, has obtained permission of the county court to adopt two young girls who some day may inherit the fortune once estimated at $8,000,000 left by the captain's father, James W. Morrison, who died in 1868.

The girls are Margaret Anna Burnstein, aged 16, and Alice B. Burnstein, aged 10, daughters of Joseph Burnstein, owner of a small store.

Captain Morrison is 82 years old, and resides with the girls, a caretaker and a pair of watch dogs in a 70-year-old frame dwelling in the center of the crowded West Side.

It is asserted that the elder Morrison's will provided that the son should have but a life estate in the property, and that at his death, if he should have no heirs, approximately $1,000,000 should go to certain collateral heirs of James Morrison, and the remainder, some $7,000,000 should be used in building a great public high school in Chicago. The will was destroyed in the great fire of 1871, but a copy has been established under court decree.

GOVERNOR SAYS "THE TELEGRAPH BEAT ME TO IT"

Came Home to Endorse Vermont Tourist Plan and Finds Work Done

HARRISBURG GREAT HUB Ambitious to See Capital City Center of State's Greatest Road System

"The Telegraph beat me to it," said Governor Brumbaugh smilingly last night as he read with interest the editorial suggesting that Pennsylvania follow the example of Vermont by issuing special invitations to tourists to visit this State.

"I am home fully meaning to urge that very thing," he continued. "I have been touring through the region over hospitality to the summer tourist, spontaneous and delightful thought it be, approaches a business proposition, as it ought to in Pennsylvania. I hope the newspapers will so popularize this movement that we too will have our special invitations.

"I assure you New England, with the possible exception of the grandeur of Washington, has nothing to excel the scenic beauties of Pennsylvania.

"Touring Taxicabs" "They are going so far in Maine as to consider the establishment of a system of touring automobiles for the benefit of the visitor, cars to be rented at $10 a day."

"A kind of touring taxicab," suggested the reporter.

"I," agreed the Governor, "touring taxicabs, and the same plan ought to be worked out in Pennsylvania, both for those who live without the State and for our own people as well. For the benefit of our people know as much of Pennsylvania as you should."

Harrisburg a Hub Governor Brumbaugh has come back from his vacation more enthusiastic for good roads than ever before, and more determined than ever to push forward the hub of a great number of State highways leading to all parts of the Commonwealth.

"We cannot make permanent improvements out of current revenues and get anywhere. What we need is a great system of main highways and feeders, with hard surfaces, and for use all the year. Spending money on dirt roads will get the State nowhere, but that's all we can do under the circumstances.

Rest Houses "I believe," the Governor said, "that in addition to these roads the State should build and maintain a system of rest houses at intervals of a hundred miles or less along the main highways. The wife of the patrolman and his family live in each and a large room in each set aside for the use of the public, with conveniences attached such as every motorist requires. Possibly the wife of the patrolman could be permitted to sell light refreshments. This is a matter that we can take up later."

City as Road Center The Governor said he is more impressed with Harrisburg as a road center every time he comes back from a trip. "You don't have to climb a mountain to get in or out of Harrisburg," he said, "it can get to any important center of the State quickly from here. The railroads realized that much more quickly than the Commonwealth. That is shown by the fact that the Pennsylvania express train after noon from Harrisburg to almost any part of the continent and go by a direct route."

WERENT THIEVES AT ALL Just a Couple of Swains Returning from Seeing Their Sweethearts

The supposed pitched battle reported to have been fought early this morning in Camp Hill between the newly organized Camp Hill vigilance committee and a band of auto thieves died down to nothing to-day upon investigation. Two young men of the borough were returning home from visiting their sweethearts in an automobile when the machine stalled in a lonely spot just outside the borough limits. Volunteers who are helping Special Officer James Martin guard the town against robbery, seeing the machine, thought it belonged to burglars. They immediately surrounded the car, but when it was learned that the occupants were members of one of the best families of town they were given a hearty handshake and a good-natured good-bye with apologies for the mistake in identity. During the excitement several shots were fired from bedroom windows by frightened householders.

FRENCH LAUNCH ATTACK ALONG VERDUN FRONT

Hammer Germans Back on Three-Mile Line and Capture Several Trenches

HARRISBURG GREAT HUB ADVANCE IN FLEURY, TOO Efforts of Teutons to Regain Positions in Somme Region Are Futile

The operations along the Somme on the western front are momentarily transcended in interest by the situation at Verdun.

Yesterday the French, taking the offensive, made an attack along a three-mile front east of the Meuse, capturing several German trenches and organizing points of support.

Paris to-day reports this ground held against a series of German counter attacks delivered last night.

Progress by the French in the Fleury sector, northeast of the fortress, also is announced, together with the capture of 1100 Germans in the fighting on the east bank of the river since August 1.

Somme Attacks Futile In the Somme the Germans have made renewed attempts to regain the positions they were forced to give up to the French in the Moncu farm sector, near the river on Tuesday night. These failed, Paris declared, and the new French positions between

CROWDS AROUND JAIL JEER AS TRAP DROPS

Irishman Meets Death Bravely; "I Die For My Country," Last Words on His Lips; Body Consigned to Quicklime Despite Entreaties of Family

London, Aug. 3.—Roger Casement, former British knight and consul, was hanged at 9 o'clock this morning in Pentonville jail for high treason. He was convicted of conspiring to cause an armed revolt in Ireland and with having sought German aid to that end.

Two hours before the execution a crowd of men, women and children gathered before the prison gates. Twenty minutes before Casement mounted the scaffold the great prison bell began to toll. The sound was greeted with cheers from the crowd, mingled with some groans. At 9 o'clock the crowd had swollen to such proportions that it extended for two blocks from the prison front. At one minute after 9 a single stroke of the bell announced that the trap had been sprung. It was the signal for a mocking, jeering yell from the crowd which suddenly died away into dead silence.

"Lord Have Mercy" Casement met his death with calm courage, according to eye-witnesses. Early in the morning two priests of the Roman Catholic church administered the last rites in the cell of the condemned man and shortly afterward a little procession headed by the clergymen with Casement following, a warden on either side, proceeded toward the execution shed, only five
