Someone Set a Big Box In the Aisle
right in front of the Leather Goods Counter. No sooner done than a dozen hands pulling out, one after another, some expensive handbags. Their curiosity as to the value was most delightfully satisfied when Mr. Smiling Buyer, as he always smiles when getting ready to spring a surprise, addressed the group—
"I'm Going to Sell These Handbags On Friday at 15c, 35c and 55c"
"Would you believe it—for 15¢?" (pulling out a striking white kid bag). "Everyone of these white bags will be marked 15¢, only because they are soiled; and a little art gum will fix that."
"But there's nothing wrong with these novelty bags and they'll go at 35¢, and all these fine black bags will be marked 55¢."
Three lots on different tables to-morrow—a wonderful collection of value! Be early!

Things About Harrisburg From Two Circuit Boys
Well, the Utes certainly had opportunities enough to win that 16-inning contest from Harrisburg, yet the Islanders were there with a good defense. There is no chance for argument about the improvement in the Harrisburg team. Had it started the season with its present line-up it certainly would be one, two or three. The men have the old fighting spirit. Otto Wagner got two men at third yesterday by fine throws.—Utica Globe.

Harrisburg is no longer a stepping stone for the other clubs in the circuit. Last week Harrisburg's work was offset only by the record of the Stars, for the Islanders turned in six victories in nine starts against Albany, Elmira and Binghamton. Improved pitching, better fielding and more consistent hitting have marked the Islanders' work since Walter Blair and George Cockill added two new infielders. Any time a team beats Harrisburg now it has to fight hard all the way for the Islanders are battling with the hope of vacating the circuit position.—Syracuse Herald.

"Beating the Leaders," a sketch in three acts by Harrisburg. Two out of three from the Elms, Blings and Stars in ten days is some traveling.
The fans came out to see a Roman holiday, but the slaughter was the other way around. Harrisburg batters who are clouting for less than 250 did the trick.

In all justice to the tall enders, it must be said they were playing great ball. The Stars were in fine fettle, but the visitors had an edge on them in both games.
Unquestionably the Islanders have the fastest outfielder in the league. At least a half dozen Texas leaguers and long drives were turned into out-puts by spectacular work.

Layden sparkled like a diamond in center field. Eight times at bat, four hits, including a triple in the first game and a homer inside the grounds in the second. To cap the climax, he raced back almost to the center field fence and stuck up his mit, pulling down Roth's long drive which looked like a triple.
That was a wonderful catch and won a hearty round of applause. When the Stars had Konnick on third and Riley on second in the last game with one out and then could not score, the fans figured it was all over. Old Cy Parsons may be tottering on the edge of his baseball grave, but he showed no signs of falling in.

Huenke pitched beautiful ball in the first game. When a pitcher keeps men out of the bases there is not much hope of pounding in runs. Wheat's triple in the ninth with Elliott on first was what shattered Bill Taylor's streak of seven wins.
The Islanders are six games away from getting out of the cellar and at the pace they are traveling, they seem bound to come out before the season ends. No team which has visited here this season is playing better ball at the present time.

The Stars were outthit and Harrisburg pulled off some wonderful fielding stunts. The way they acted it was hard to make the fans believe they were not fighting for first place.
The way the Islanders' outfield lines the ball in on sacrifice flies make it dangerous for a fellow to try and score.
