DIE; MANY ILL FROM HEAT WAVE

Harrisburg Hospital last night. He was taken there following a hemorrhage which, it was said, was caused by the heat.

The investigation into the cause of death of William E. Preadmore, 1421 Market street, brought a statement that the heat was responsible. Coronor Jacob Eckinger reported the case a heat prostration. Funeral services for Mr. Preadmore will be held tomorrow at the home of his father-in-law, 1918 North Seventh street. Burial will be made in the East Harrisburg Cemetery.

The four girls at the Sanitary laundry were carried to the open air and later went home. At the Pennsylvania Railroad roundhouse three men were sent home because of illness caused by the heat.

The highest temperature yesterday was 90 degrees. The heat was more oppressive because of the lack of any breeze. It was not any warmer to-day than yesterday, but a cool breeze made it more comfortable. There was a fine breeze along the river front and the River Park was crowded. Wildwood Park was also a popular place.

Boston was a hot place to-day with a temperature of 94 degrees. Harrisburg was 78 degrees. 8 o'clock. Relief is forecast and will follow their showers scheduled for to-night and to-morrow.

INVESTIGATE ACCIDENT

The police are investigating an automobile accident which occurred along the River road above Riverside at 6:30 o'clock last night. One man who was driving the car was seriously injured when the auto went over the river bank and turned. Several others were more or less injured, about the body, one man receiving a bad cut on the head. None of the occupants of the car would give their names and an offer to take the injured to the hospital was refused.

STRIKE FIGURES ARE HANDED OVER

are members of the committee representing the railroads, while the men are represented by Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; W. G. Lee, head of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; A. B. Garretson, head of the Order of Railway Conductors and W. S. Carter, head of the Brotherhood Firemen and Enginemen. No decision was looked for to-day. It was reported that the managers would ask for a delay of several days to consider the proposals of the men and that another meeting will be held later in the week when the final answer will be given.

SITUATION IS GRAVE

The possibility of a strike is regarded by the business interests of the country as extremely grave and much pressure has been brought to bear upon both the railroads and the men to convince them of the method of arbitration. New York city, in particular, regards the prospects of a strike with apprehension, fearing that a shortage of food would be one of its effects.

ALL FAVOR STRIKE

As was expected, the result of the strike vote communicated at the conference to the railroad managers showed that the employees were overwhelmingly in favor of authorizing a strike.

Soon after the figures were presented the conference adjourned until to-morrow to allow the railway managers to consider the results.

Each union head presented his figures in different form. W. S. Stone, for the engineers, reported 98.17 per cent in favor of a strike in the southeastern district, 90.35 per cent in the western and 94.64 per cent in the east.

W. S. Carter for the firemen and engineers reported the out of a total of 70,653 votes, including nonunion men and employees on roads not represented in the conference, 98.94 per cent were in favor of strike.

W. G. Lee for the trainmen reported that out of a total vote of 129,108, 14,522 favored a strike with 1400 votes still to be heard from.

A. B. Garretson, of the conductors, reported 84.02 per cent affirmative in the western district, 84.08 in the eastern and 92.04 in the southern district, with 34,848 votes cast.

New York, Aug. 8.—The managers objected to the inclusion in the figures of the vote on roads not represented in the conference, but were informed by the union heads that the four brotherhoods were voting for every railroad employee throughout the country as a matter of principle. They insisted on including these figures.

The managers also asked if the vote by individual railroads would be shown but in reply to this, the brotherhood chiefs said that if the roads were willing to make public the returns on the vote taken some time ago by the roads themselves among their employees, the unions would gladly furnish their figures.

HUGHES MET WITH "HELLO CHARLIE"

Throng Greets Him at Chicago; Severely Scores Wilson in Speeches

By Associated Press

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Charles E. Hughes, here on the second day of his transcontinental trip, rested somewhat to-day from the strenuous activities of yesterday in Detroit and devoted several hours to preparing the substance of the speech he will deliver to-night in the Coliseum here.

Mr. Hughes went into seclusion at his hotel for two hours after his arrival last night, the arrival of Willcox, of the national committee, and other political leaders, and held a public reception at which thousands of persons shook him by the hand.

The nominee's throat gave him a little trouble last night but he appeared rested and in good voice to-day.

Plans for the campaign included visits to the north for Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and automobile rides about town. They will dine at 5 o'clock at the Blackstone Hotel, after which the nominee goes to the Coliseum for his address in the evening.

"Hello, Charlie."

The Coliseum is to be opened early and admission to all is to be free. The speech, it is said, will be one of those Mr. Hughes will deliver on his present tour. He is to leave for St. Paul and the west at 10:45 o'clock to-night.

Three police captains, ten lieutenants, ten sergeants and 300 policemen have been detailed by Chief Healy to police the downtown district during the stay of the Hughes party.

Just before Hughes arrived by a committee including representatives of both local factions of the Republican party when his train pulled in from Detroit. A throng of people crowded the station and met Mr. Hughes with cries of "Hello, Charlie!"

ASSAULT Administration

In the first set speech of his transcontinental trip, Mr. Hughes last night assailed the administration vigorously for its foreign policy, its Mexican policy, for appointment whenever terms, inexperienced to diplomatic posts and for what he characterizes as "a raid upon the civil service of the United States."

"He kept us out of war," Mr. Hughes said, referring to the Presidents and a Democratic campaign slogan. "We selected Vera Cruz. That was war—very ignoble war. And it was called war over the bodies of those dead soldiers; it was a war of service."

"Talk about what is your policy. What is the President's policy—does anyone know?" Has the Executive even had a policy for more than six months? "That is the question. I repeat: Who knows to-day what the policy of the administration will be three months hence? My friends, the trouble is that this administration has written such a record that no matter what it says, you do not know whether it will stick to it."

Will Have U. S. Rights Respected

"We have had an exhibition during the past three years which, I confess, fills me with a deep sense of shame. I have not a particle of militaristic spirit in my system," said Mr. Hughes, who was elected President. "I will see to it that American rights in Mexico are respected."

Mr. Hughes assailed the administration's course toward upholding American rights abroad during the European war.

"When I say that I am an American citizen," the nominee said, "I ought to say the greatest thing that any man can say in this world. But you can't have that pride if American citizenship is a cheap thing, if it is not worthy of protection this wide over. There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's right stop at the coast line and that an American life is to be the prey of any marauder that chooses to take it."

The nominee cited the Republican platform's declaration that 30,000 government positions had been taken from the operation of the Civil Service law during the present administration and declared that "that sort of thing has got to stop." He told an instance here, he said, "an eminent scientist" in the Coast and Geodetic Survey, "a man of very eminent rank," had been "displaced to make room for an excellent stock breeder and veterinary surgeon."

The Federal Trade Commission, Mr. Hughes charged, "was quickly emasculated by the law by the men, for the most part, who were appointed to places upon it."

Diplomatic Changes Scored

It was "unbelievable," Mr. Hughes asserted, for the administration to come from country after country in Latin America, where we have frequently heard that we desired to cultivate the most friendly relations, men in diplomatic service who "had represented the country with credit and had acquired an admirable and important experience" are "put in men utterly inexperienced."

Past administrations, the nominee said, "had sinned in that particular, but standards were being made and there were men in our service of long experience and fine training." Other appointments by the President were assured.

If we are to have a Secretary of State, Mr. Hughes declared, "we want a man who will stand before the world as a man of learning, of skill, of experience, of power."

After his main address at Arcadia Hall, Mr. Hughes delivered a second address at the Light Guard Armory, in which he reiterated many of the statements made in his first address.

Made Six Speeches in All

Mr. Hughes spent a strenuous day in the stifling heat of Detroit. He made six speeches between noon and 10 o'clock last night.

After lunch the nominee went to the ball game. He shook hands with many men and women of the Detroit and Philadelphia American League teams and watched one inning of the game. Then he motored away to two Detroit's big automobile factories and addressed crowds at each on industrial co-operation. Between speeches he held many short conferences with local politicians and last night delivered the address at Arcadia Hall and the Armory.

Kentuckian Will Manage Hughes' Campaign in West

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 8.—A. T. Hert, Kentucky's member of the Republican national committee, and manager of the western branch of the Hughes campaign, with headquarters in Chicago, was announced last night by National Chairman William R. Wilson after he had consulted party leaders of the Central States.

In making the appointment Chairman Wilson gave out a statement which said, in part:

"Mr. Hert will have associated with him at headquarters other members of the committee."

"Frank H. Hitchcock has been prominently named in connection with the war, and only a few days ago informed me that he was not only a bona fide submarine, which appeared off the Maine coast near Machias yesterday. Cross Island, where the lookout was stationed at the mouth of Bay fundy and close to British territorial waters off the provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

The possibility that one of the vessels might have been the German merchant ship Emden, which long ago reported to have left a secret port for the United States, aroused much interest and resulted in a close watch throughout yesterday and last night.
