GRAVE PROBLEMS FACING LANSING

Mexico Leads Long List of Perils Greeting Him When He Returns

Washington, Aug. 9. — Secretary of State Lansing will be back at his desk to-morrow. Never before in the history of the United States has a premier faced such a kaleidoscopic collection of international problems and perils as will greet President Wilson's chief diplomatic adviser at the close of his summer vacation.

Only once since he left for a rest in upper New York a month ago, has Mr. Lansing been actively engaged in any of these problems. That was a short time ago when he went to New York to sign the treaty with Denmark for the acquisition of the Danish possessions in the West Indies.

The most pressing and immediate of the problems facing the premier is the Mexican situation. It has reached the stage where a false step will mean the failure of the long diplomatic process which now seemingly has brought the two countries to the threshold of a peaceful settlement not only of the immediate differences between them, but of the sore spots which have existed for three years and a half.

Secretary Lansing Must Decide Serious Questions

- With Entente Allies: Controversy over interference with American mails. Boycott of American firms and individuals by British and French blacklists. With Teutonic Allies: Indemnity for victims of the Lusitania, Sussex and similar cases. Indemnity for destruction of the American ship William F. Frye. Settlement of blame for attacking the American steamship Petro-lite. Possible renewal of U-boat warfare. With Haiti and San Domingo: Restoration of peace and establishment of adequate governments. With Denmark: Securing ratification of the treaty purchasing the Danish West Indies. With Mexico: Settlement of the several points at issue, including withdrawal of American troops, and protection of the American border. With Nicaragua: Insurance of a fair presidential election there in October. With Panama: Adjustment of the protest against unfairness in the recent presidential election.

Little Known About Lumber

It is surprising how little is really known about lumber. Of course, nearly everyone knows lumber is made from trees. But very few persons are capable of arranging the grades according to the quality. Do you know the difference between "Clear" and No. 1 quality? From a pile of boards can you select the No. 2 grade and tell why No. 3 quality is inferior? These are the things we have studied and when you buy from us you get the benefit of our expert knowledge. How To Beautify The Complexion If your pink complexion is fading or wrinkles are creeping into your face, don't think that it is necessary to be treated by an expensive beauty specialist or continue to look years older than you really are.

Right in your own home and without expensive toilet requisites you can remove your wrinkles and bring back to your cheeks the rosy bloom of girlhood. Simply get a little am-o-nized cocoa from your druggist and after washing your face with warm water apply this cream; leave on for a few minutes and then wipe off with a soft dry cloth. You will be surprised to see what a clear, fresh and charming appearance your complexion has. Besides it gives to the skin that fresh and pleasant beauty which always makes a woman look young and attractive.

This method of caring for the complexion is becoming very popular with actresses and society ladies who find it necessary to look their best at all times. Am-o-nized cocoa costs little, is pleasant to use and also makes an ideal treatment for sun-burn, tan or redness.
