Special, 5.00 following official narrative given out here last night: "The attack began on August 4 in the Monfalcone section, against Hills 8 and 121, east of Rocca. We stormed a very powerful enemy works there, taking 143 prisoners, but the adversary had placed in abandoned trenches quantities of bombs, which exploded, giving off clouds of poisonous gases just as our troops entered the captured lines. Heavy masses of the enemy then made counter attacks and our troops, stupefied or asphyxiated by the gas, were forced to fall back to their own trenches.

Poitical Expenditures of Railroads May Be Probed by Commerce Commission

Washington, Aug. 10.—The right of the Interstate Commerce Commission to inquire into the political expenditures of a railroad was upheld today in a brief filed today in the District of Columbia Supreme court by Chief Counsel Folk in the commission's action to compel President Milton H. Smith of the Louisville and Nashville railroad to testify in regard to that carrier's campaign contributions. Mr. Smith refused to answer questions propounded by the commission during an investigation based on a Senate resolution and resort was had to the courts to compel answers. Mr. Smith in a brief filed several weeks ago contended that expenditure of funds by a railroad official for political purposes was a private matter and that it was beyond the power of the commissioner to go into such questions.

Berlin, Aug. 10. (via London) — Heavy damage was inflicted by bombs dropped from Zeppelin airships in the raid over England on Tuesday night, says an official statement issued today, which says: "Several of our naval airship squadrons on Tuesday night again attacked England, dropping explosive bombs of the heaviest caliber and incendiary bombs upon naval bases on the east coast and industrial plants of military importance in the coastal counties from Northumberland down to Norfolk. At all places our success was notable and could be distinctly observed."

"In the iron and benzene works near Middlesborough there were heavy explosions and a great fire and in the harbor, installations of Hull and Hartlepool and also in the dockyards on the Tyne a great explosion and incendiary effect was ascertained."

Rome, Aug. 9.—An Italian naval raid last week on the Albanian port of Durazzo, held by the Austrians, is announced in the following statement issued here today: "Italian light cruisers on the nights of August 1-2, avoiding the new permanent defenses prepared by the enemy again penetrated the port of Durazzo. They torpedoed a steamer there."

"On August 2 French and Italian destroyers attacked four enemy destroyers, protected by the cruiser Aspern, which had bombarded the Apulian coast, and pursued them under the guns of Cattaro, shelling them vigorously. The French and Italian warships were undamaged, although opposed by the heavier gun power of the enemy's ships."

The official Austrian account of the battle of August 2 said the Italian warships were hit and retreated and that the Austrian vessels were undamaged.

Rome, Aug. 10.—The operations which led up to the capture of Gorizia by the Italians are described in the

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulisified cocconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulisified cocconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Both Inhabitants and Dwellings of Gorizia Escape Destruction

Rome, Aug. 9. ((Gorizia).—Notwithstanding the desperate fighting around Gorizia, the city itself was not burned by the Austrians or destroyed by the Italian artillery fire; nor were the inhabitants injured, these to the number of 20,000 having previously evacuated the city. It was the desire of the Italian commander General Cadorna, to save Gorizia from destruction by the retreating Austrians and to that end he employed strategy. After taking the mountain tops of San Michele and Sabotino he attacked Gorizia not only from the front across the Isonzo but also from the sides and rear. When the Duke of Aosta, commander of the Third army, who was present during the three days of fighting entered the city after forcing the bridge across the river, at the head of cavalry and cycle corps, Gorizia was found to be deserted save by great numbers of wounded and dying Austrians on the outskirts. The duke was accompanied by his cousin, the King. The only damage done by the Austrians was that occasioned by their attempts to destroy military buildings filled with large quantities of supplies.

The fighting at the bridge across the Isonzo at Podgora, leading into Gorizia was among the most sanguinary episodes of the war. Before this encounter the bridge had been named the bridge of the Italian guns and had obtained command of Gorizia from the heights of Sabotino, San Michele, Monteforin, Monte Santo and Basso Fortina, the Italian infantry advanced toward the bridge. After the widest fighting in which one hundred Austrians were drowned, the bridge was taken. Entrance to the city was comparatively easy.

Another Contingent of Russians Land in France

Brest, Aug. 10.—Another contingent of Russian troops has been landed here. The soldiers were given an enthusiastic welcome.

The first Russian troops to land in France arrived at Marseilles on April 20 having sailed half way round the world from Vladivostok. They were followed by three other contingents and after a short rest were sent into the trenches in Champagne. Nothing has been made public officially as to the numbers of this Russian expeditionary force, but unofficial estimates have placed the strength of the first contingents at not less than 20,000 men. Earlier arrivals had no arms and were equipped by the French.

RELIEF ON WAY TO SCENE OF CLOUDBURST

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 10.—A report reached here this morning to the effect that Jarrolds Valley, a town of 500 inhabitants in Boone county at the head of Coal river, was washed away in yesterday's cloudburst and that 75 of its populace had lost their lives.

The section of Jarrolds Valley between Fields and Jess creeks was swept clear by the water, according to reports here. It is said that at least 500 houses were washed away. Inhabitants had no warning of the approach of the water and it is believed the loss of life may be even greater than that on Paint and Cabin creeks.

More than two thousand residents of the valley are perched on the hill-tops, the majority of them without sufficient clothing and all of them in danger of starvation. Because of the isolated character of the section, relief will be slow in reaching there than in other affected sections, and fears are felt that many of those saved from the flood will perish of starvation.
