Washington, Aug. 14. — War supply profits taxed by the government swelled the internal revenue taxes last year to more than $500,000, according to a statement issued by the commissioner of internal revenue.

The precise amount of internal revenue collected was $512,723,287, which is $97,042,263 greater than was paid in the previous fiscal year.

The increase in income tax collections alone was $44,733.493 and experts of the government figure this increase was entirely due to the war-created prosperity and the enormous profits made on deals in munitions contracts and "war brice" stocks.

The war revenue act produced $84,-278,302, while the total from the income and corporation tax was $124,-916,315.

Pennsylvania paid a total tax of $44,817,504; Delaware of $3,076,028, and New Jersey of $18,666,493.

In Pennsylvania the Philadelphia district paid $18,916,121, and the Pittsburgh district $18,007,245. Scranton paid $4,289,034 and Lancaster $3,-605,103.

Pennsylvania paid $7,544,834 in war revenue taxes, $6,313,191 in individual income taxes and $24,170,225 in ordinary internal revenue taxes.

In the total amount of revenue paid in the treasury New York, with $104,5237,404, is second, and Pennsylvania with $44,817,504, third.

"can't hit a target with its big guns"
was made by Secretary Daniels in a long statement answering an inquiry made in connection with the publication of an article entitled "A Hitless Navy." Secretary Daniels asserts that the statistics given purporting to represent the gunnery record of six of the battleships of the Atlantic fleet in last Spring's battle practice were not correct. The scores made by these battleships if plotted on a battleship target 600 feet long, said Secretary Daniels, represented a total of 107 hits.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The aggregate revenues of the 48 States in 1915 amounted to $485,232.597. Pennsylvania is among the three States, Kansas and New Jersey being the others, where the net debt was only 4 cents per capita. These and other figures are shown in the report of the Consus Fureum on finances in the States.

The greatest outlays for State roadbuilding in 1915 were made in New York, $9,393,765. California came next, with $6.575,250, and Maryland was third, with $3,773,223. For all the States taken as a group, the per capita receipts from property taxes, were $2.73, from the other taxes 98 cents, from earnings of general departments 51 cents and from all other sources combined 43 cents. The highest per capita property taxes, $7.28 are shown for Arizona, and the lowest, 91 cents, from Missouri.

Special to the Telegraph Washington, Aug. 14.—In a careful arvey of the national political situa-Secretary, Dr. Charles B. Lewis, State tion, collected and prepared by John E Monk, assistant to William R. Willcot, Republican national chairman, the estimate is made that Hughes and Fairbanks will capture 300 of the 551 elec toral votes, with a probability of se-curing 325. This estimate results from Again on Revenue Bill talks with senators, congressmen and ccurate observers of public opinion

Twenty-five States, regardless of the

Arizona 3|New Mexico 3
Colorado 6|Oklahoma 10
Kentucky 13|Indiana 15
Maryland 8|Wisconsin 13
Missouri 18|Wyoming 3
Nebraska 8
The report rendered on the outlook in New Jersey follows:
"I hesitate to put this State in the reasonably sure list, because, it being the home of the President, State pride and a careful distribution of patronage suggested the placing the State in the doubtful column. But from reports I have received, from the fact that the Republican party is presenting a united and solid front to an enemy somewhat divided and disrupted by internal dissensions, and from the fact that while Wilson carried the State four years ago he had 6,946 elections held in the State since 1912 do not hold out much promise for the Democratic hopes, and, taking it all in all, I think I am justified in placing New Jersey in the sure rather than in the doubtful column."
