RECORD BATTLE AT ISLAND PARK

Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart Nine Win Over Bowman & Co. Nine in Annual Contest

One baseball team from Bowman & Company's department store received an awful trimming on Saturday. Nine players representing the Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart department store, were the trimmers. It was the first annual game between these store teams. The victors trotted off with a score of 30 to 13.

to 13. There was some baseball, and a few things not according to the national game rules. Each inning furnished interest notwithstanding the one-sided score. The Bowman & Company team lead by J. William Bowman and H. H. Bowman, members of the firm, showed great pluck, and took their defeat in true sportsman's fashion. The work of the firm members was an interesting feature.

Victors Had the Goods

There was no denying the fact that the D. P. & S. team had the goods. They hit the ball, fielded fast and backed up Gerdes who pitched a great game. The batwe went three hours, and every one on each team was still working at the finish. It was a tired lot of ball players, however, when the battle was over.

lot of ball players, nowever, battle was over.

Bowman & Company had a crowd of rooters and they were busy for four innings when the victors iced the game and it looked rather blue for Bowman & Company. The score:

Make It Three Straight From Islanders; Team Out of Form; Lack Hits

Harrisburg will return to-night from a disastrous trip. According to re-ports, the team has been in a crippled condition. Harrison is out of the game and may not return this season Gough is playing right field, but not Gough is playing right field, but not hitting the ball with the old-time spirit. The local pitchers have also been showing an uncertain stride. Walter Blair hopes for a change for the better during the week at home. Binghamton will be the attraction Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. It will be the final appearance of the Bingoes in Harrisburg this season. Elmira follows with a four-game series, including a double-header on Saturday. Next week the team will be away for a six-day series unless the schedule is changed to save big jumps. Then the Islanders will come home for the wind-up.

Barons Clean Up

Wilkes-Barre took two games from Harrisburg on Saturday and made it three straight yesterday, winning by a score of 1 to 0. It was a pitching duel in which Dougherty outdone Parson, allowing but two hits. Harrisburg was unable to get men around the circuit, while a series of hits gave the Barons the one run in the third. The games on Saturday were won on timely hits, aided by errors. The Harrisburg twirlers weakened at critical times in Saturday's games. The score of yesterday follows:

up the campaign to win over this vote as hopcless.

There has been little real "punch" in the campaign thus far. President Wilson has been devoting himself to legislation and other public questions, the outcome of which his friends believe will aid him more than speechmaking.

Some Republicans have been suggesting to Mr. Hughes that he adopt a more aggressive attitude in his speeches. Mr. Hughes replied that he "did not propose to use his big batteries so long before the election, but would begin his real campaign after President Wilson had formally accepted and issues could be enjoined." The country therefore may expect to witness some exciting periods in the next two months. Mr. Hughes is scheduled to open wide his batteries in Maine.

scheduled to open wide his batteries in Maine.

Democrats in Washington are jubilant over the effect which they believe Mr. Wilson's endorsement of the eighthour day will have with labor all over the country, and they are particularly pleased with his statement that the eight-hour day should be adopted "as a basis for wages, even where actual women to be completed within eight hours." This situation will undoubtedly be set forth to its full extent by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor,

All members of the Reservoir Golf Club are eligible to play for the handsome loving cup which Fred B. Harry has presented. There will be no entrance fee and entries will be received by McEwan. Play will be in September and the tournament will be on a handicap basis, match play, 18 holes, the cup to become the permanent property of the winner. According to Mr. Harry, this will be an annual event and a new cup will be donated each year. Entries must be handed to McEwan by August 31 so that the matches may start September 2.

No. 6 at the Colonial Club seems to be the Waterloo of many golfers. It is a comparatively short hole, but must be played from the brow of a steep hill across an artificial bond, and it is usually at this hazard that "sinkers" are placed carefully in the bag and a "floater" produced. The favorite way of crossing with many amateurs seems to be by skipping the ball from wave to wave.

Sam Nissley, tlian whom there is no greater golf enthusiast, wants to know whether he can't carry a trowel along among his sticks. Following his drive from No. 5 on the Colonial course the other day he spent much valuable time in looking for the elusive ball and finally found it nestling in the sand bucket of No. 6 tee.

The nervous man is advised by certain physicians to take up golf. "Jerry" Travers, the famous golfer, may or may not agree with them, but he tells some interesting stories in the current American Magazine which in dicate the nervous strain under which many professionals of years' experience labor during competitions. Golf for some is a recreation and rest; for others, the hardest kind of work.

In the summer handicap tournament at the Colonial Country Club points were awarded as follows for last week's play: H. S. Miller, 5; Hart Ogelsby, 2, and Armstrong, 2.

All one hears about amateur and a berth with the Giants.

All one hears about amateur and semiprofessional championships is in letters to the sport writers giving claims of the various managers. There is only one way to decide the important question as to which is the best team. Play a series. If Harris Park, Hick A-Thrifts, Hummelstown and other teams are serious in their claims made, the one best thing to do is to arrange for a meeting and plan for a series.

Manager Frank Heiney of the West End A. C. has the right idea. He would like to meet the manager of every team making a claim for the championship. He suggests that a date be fixed for a meeting and that several neutral fans be called in to act as arbitrators and arranges for the games. Victories this season while bringing laurels to the winning teams decide nothing unless there be a permanent agreement as to the championship honors.
