THE PLACE TO HAVE YOUR NICKEL PLATING DONE

Have you noticed the beautifully nicked shrapnel shells on display in so many Harrisburg homes and business places? This nickel plating was done by the Nuss Manufacturing Company, Eleventh and Mulberry streets. If you were fortunate enough to get one of these mighty reminders of the gigantic conflict across the sea you'll undoubtedly want to keep it as a relic—as an heirloom. There is but one way to keep it in good condition. That is, have it nickel plated, so that moisture and the rust of years cannot render it merely a huge, unsightly piece of steel. The longer you keep it the more valuable it becomes. Then why not protect it from the deprecating influences of rust and keep it always new and bright and beautiful? The charge is nominal—in fact, it is low for this class of work. Our work is not limited to this class of plating entirely. We are called upon daily to replate old jewelry, silverware, etc., to polish and refinish metal goods of all descriptions. Consult us. Perhaps we can reclaim that metal heirloom that you thought beyond repair.—Adv.

CO-OPERATION IN PRODUCE SALES

Plan Being Worked Out by the State Farm Advisers For Immediate Use

Plans for dividing the State into two districts in charge of pushing the work of organizing farmers' co-operative selling associations are being worked out by E. E. Dorsett, of Tioga, and J. Aldus Herr, of Lancaster, the State's farm advisers placed in charge of this project. Mr. Herr, who was named a week ago, has taken charge of organization in the eastern section and Mr. Dorsett for the other half. Under the plans adopted the State will secure daily price lists of the wholesale produce and other markets in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and possibly from some out of Pennsylvania and also obtain reports on retail prices in interior communities. The information will then be sent to local centers for dissemination among farmers. The State is working out a means of instruction in grading and farmers and produce raisers will be shown how to gain by sorting their products. The railroads of the State have promised co-operation with the local organizations in regard to car service and shipping as fast as they are formed. It is the belief that by farmers grading properly and selling in carload lots that a profitable system can be built up, the farmer getting better prices and the products being better distributed.

State Funds Still Low.—Payment of charitable institutions which receive biennial appropriations from the State is being interfered with almost as much as disbursements to the departments of the State government because of the low state of funds in the treasury. Things have not improved very much in the last fortnight and in spite of some good sized payments the chances are that there will be less than a million dollars in the general fund at the end of the month and that but little headway will be made in reaching the $1,500,000 of unpaid requisitions on file. The State's revenue will begin to come in by the hundreds of thousands in about a month.

Commission Meets.—The Public Service Commission went into executive session this afternoon at 2 o'clock and will likely be here to-morrow. The matters to be considered in the last three weeks will be considered. There will be no session on Monday.

Taking Vacation.—Insurance Commissioner J. Denny O'Neill is on a brief vacation by automobile to New England States.

Gets New Supply.—The city of Coatesville has been granted right to use a new water supply. It is distant from that in recent use and which is believed responsible for some of the typhoid.

Hearings Held.—The State Water Supply Commission gave three hearings yesterday afternoon, including the propositions to establish stream lines and prevent encroachments in Reading, Brownsville and South Brownsville. In the case of Reading railroads and other corporations were asked to vacate lands which it was stated were secured by encroachments. Residents of Punxsutawney objected to establishment of a dam in Mahoning creek in that borough by the Jefferson Electric Company.

Bridges Approved.—The Water Supply Commission last night announced approval of thirty-six county and

Up to 567.—The number of cases of infantile paralysis reported to last night at the State Department of Health ran up to 567, of which 323 have been reported from Philadelphia.

Invitations Out.—Invitations have been sent from the State Capitol to about one thousand friends of Governor Brumbaugh and Secretary of Agriculture Patton to accompany the Governor on his proposed tours of the farming districts of the State next month. They include a number of personal friends of the Governor and men active in business and farming affairs in the State. The invitations request that the persons addressed state upon which of the three tours they will go. The first tour is to start September 12 and the route was laid out this week.

Love Withdraws.—The name of A. W. Love, candidate for the House of Representatives from the First and Second districts, Westmoreland county, on the Washington party ticket, was withdrawn to-day.

Check Up Payroll.—The adjutant general's department is busy checking up the payrolls of about 2,500 men rejected at Mount Gretna at the time of mustering in.

May Prosecute Match Carriers.—Inquiry was received by the Department of Labor and Industry to-day from a Mount Union powder concern asking whether the department recommended proceeding against two men who were discovered carrying matches into the plant contrary to the late ruling of the State Industrial Board, which makes such action a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment.

Appointments Made.—Governor Brumbaugh to-day made the following appointments: Asher Mutchler, to be alderman of the Twelfth ward in the city of Easton; Howard S. Klem, of Blossburg, to be trustee of Cottage State Hospital at Blossburg; and the following as justices of the peace: J. A. Thomas, Markleysburg borough; Charles S. S. Dorchester, Conneaut township; M. E. Ealy, Graysville township; Heber I. Schafer, Moore township; Milton P. Cashner, South Bethlehem, and Milton P. Shafter, Stovestown borough.

Many a Fish Story.—The return of the men on Capitol Hill from their vacations is the signal for an outburst of "fish" stories that in the telling make the man-eating sharks of the Atlantic coast dwindle to sunfish in comparison. Jacob Lightner, known as "Jake" to his friends in the Department of Labor and Industry, where he is director of the bureau of appointments, spent some time angling on Conneaut Lake, near Pittsburgh, and is home with a story of a sample of the well-known species of "garfish," four and one-half feet in length and weighing fifteen pounds, which he claims he landed. Lightner says he was fishing for "lunge and struck this garfish, which is supposed to be ordinarily lazy. But this one gobbled up the hook and fought for half an hour, Next!

STOP TRAIN FOR BABY; LAUDED
Cotter, Ark., Aug. 24.—J. F. O'Donnell, a conductor on the White River division of the Iron Mountain Railroad, was somewhat worried when he learned that a report had been made to division headquarters of his recent action in holding a passenger train here for 20 minutes, so that milk could be procured for a sick baby on the train.

To-day he received a letter from B. F. Bush of St. Louis, receiver of the road, saying: "Your act proved that railroad officials and employees place the interests of humanity above even railroad discipline. General commendation followed."
