German Ship Interred Since Start of War Leaves Boston For New London

The Wilhelm went out under the flag of the German merchant marine, the first time it had been carried out of Boston harbor since the war began. She was without consort. Her crew, a full complement, and command, Captain Jachens, had been augmented by additions from the several other ships of the line here. The Wilhelm departed in the early hours as cheers rang out from the decks of other refugee vessels.

Just Out of Drydock Captain J. J. Hartling, the pilot who took the steamer out of the harbor, said she was bound for New London and would make the passage through the Cape Cod canal. Those aboard had a routine trip and professed to know of no special service to be rendered at her destination. After the pilot left the Wilhelm headed for Plymouth harbor where she was met by a tug which had been waiting there and which accompanied her to the canal entrance at Sagamore. At the rate of progress up to that point, it was estimated the steamer would arrive at New London about 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The Wilhelm, a cargo steamer of 4,761 tons, was the smallest of the refugee ships at this port. She had come out of a drydock only yesterday and had been supplied with coal, ice and provisions. Notwithstanding the two years of inactivity since the vessel sought shelter at this port, her engines were in fine condition and were well drilled, according to Pilot Hartling.

Deutschland Made History Making Trip to U. S.

Berlin, Aug. 24.—The German merchant submarine Deutschland, twenty-eight days out from Baltimore, successfully eluded cordons of warships of the allies seeking to prevent its return trip across the Atlantic, and arrived in Bremen yesterday afternoon at the mouth of the Weser.

According to a statement made last night, Captain Paul Koenig and all of his crew were taken to the United States when it crossed the Atlantic, part of the time under water, the first submarine merchant boat to make such a journey. It left Hecolowen June 23 and arrived in Chesapeake Bay July 9, making the trip in twelve days less than it would have taken.

The undersea boat left Baltimore July 26, clearing for Bremen or any other port in Germany, and apparently was successful in the boat of its commander that it would escape the lines of British and French boats waiting to sink or capture her.

Kaiser Will Decorate Capt. Koenig and Crew

Amsterdam, Aug. 24.—According to a dispatch received here to-day from Berlin, Emperor William has sent the following telegram to the owners of the submarine Deutschland:

"With sincere pleasure I have just received news of the safe return of the submarine liner Deutschland, and heartily congratulate the owners and builders of the vessel and the brave seamen under Koenig's command." The message also expresses the intention of the Emperor to bestow decorations on members of the Deutschland's personnel.

REPORTED SLIGHTLY DAMAGED

London, Aug. 24.—The Deutschland returned home slightly damaged, according to an exchange Telegraph dispatch from The Hague, which says this information is contained in a telegram from Bremen. The members of the crew were unwilling, it adds, to give details of the return voyage. The arrival of the submarine surprised her owners, as she was not expected to dock within a week.

Bulgarians Intrenching in the Struma Valley

London, Aug. 24.—The Bulgarians have advanced along the Struma Valley and intrenched themselves at various points. This is according to the British report issued last night. Berlin also reports further advances for the Bulgarians on the right wing, where they face the Serbians. Apparently, however, no action of first importance has yet developed.

Germans Are Ready to Float Fifth War Loan

London, Aug. 24.—Arrangements have been completed for flotation of the fifth German war loan. An exchange Telegraph dispatch from The Hague says the loan will be issued September 4 and the interest rate is well known in the case of the previous loans.

Detectives Still Seek Clues to 5 Robberies

City detectives to-day continued their investigation of the robberies in the city during the past morning, in efforts to get clues which will lead to the arrest of the burglars. The detectives are working with a big haul of two men saw one of the robbers when he entered their home, but could not give the police a description of even the size of the intruder. No effort was made, according to the dispatch, to identify the man who was evidently the one who had visited with his accomplice, four other houses in the row.

MILLIONAIRE IS FATHER OF TWO ADOPTED GIRLS

Morrison's property, which has been variously estimated at from $3,000,000 to $8,000,000. One of the contentions was that Morrison had adopted the two girls to prevent the city of Chicago from receiving the estate, which, under the will of his father, was to be used for educational purposes if Morrison died childless.

Morrison is alleged to have given away to certain friends more than $2,000,000 of his estate, during the past seven years. One of the transactions concerned was the transfer of James Ward, his attorney of the property on which Hotel Morrison now stands. It is declared to be worth more than $2,000,000. Property valued at $500,000 was given to the lawyer, John Sommers. The transfer was made shortly after judgment had been obtained against Morrison.

It was brought out before Judge Landis that John Sommers, who said he had known Morrison for twenty-five years, had received $200,000 for providing the aged millionaire with an amusement. Judge Landis restrained Attorney Ward from collecting rentals amounting to about $5,000 monthly on property Morrison had presented to him as a trust. The boys of the estate appear as counsel in the hearing which will continue to-morrow.

An Easy Way to Get Fat And Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on "drugging" their stomach or stuffing it with "iron" or "rubbing in" these "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of their going unstocked. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thin men and women know of no reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fatening elements of your food and pass them into the blood where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can win increased weight, the cheeks fill out, the hair about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. G. A. Gorgas and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund you money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee on every package.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results have been obtained in cases of indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Advertisement.

TRAPS BURGLAR, COP LOSES HIM

lockup by Officer Harrod. Meekly enough he went along until the lockup was reached. Here, while the officer awaited the return of a messenger whom he had sent for a key to the jail door, a crowd of boys gathered.

Escapes From Officer As the crowd pushed nearer the unmanacled burglar, twisted loose from the officer, sprang through the group of children and dashed down Walnut street. Close upon his heels the startled officer followed.

As the fleeing negro dashed down Second street the constable drew his revolver and fired a shot. The negro dodged and began to run a zigzag course, turning right and left. While the pursuit lasted the officer fired six shots. When the negro had rounded a few more corners he lost his pursuers and made good his escape. During the chase the burglar was seen to have received many bruises, his fellow-clerks say, which necessitated his going home for the remainder of the morning.

Theoretical Spy Scare Is Thrown Into Navy During War Maneuvers in Ocean

Washington, Aug. 24.—The Navy Department had a spy scare to-day. It was entirely theoretical, however, and was based on the fear that information concerning the location of Rear Admiral Helm's "blue" fleet defending the Atlantic coast against a tactical assault by Admiral Meyer's "red" fleet, which might reach the invaders by wireless from foreign merchant ships clearing from American ports.

This information it was pointed out might be gathered by "foreign agents" from incoming ships, which had sighted the "blue" fleet, and given tactical assistance to Admiral Meyer's "red" fleet. It was considered entirely probable that officers of the invading fleet before the war game actually started did not overlook the opportunity to establish an espionage system similar to that with which American authorities might have to cope in time of war.

For this reason details of the "blue" fleet's tactics were guarded at the Navy Department as carefully as if the nation's safety actually were involved. Even the names of the characters within the department were admitted as theoretically possible, although officers expressed confidence in all persons who are in position to know Admiral Helm's whereabouts.

STRIKE SITUATION GROWS BRIGHTER

hour day in a manner satisfactory to the employees' committee and then bring about a deep investigation of all the collateral issues. Officials Optimistic Administration officials expected a final answer from the railroad executives to-day or to-morrow. President Wilson made no engagements in anticipation of receiving the executives. While no definite information was forthcoming, administration officials expressed optimism over the outlook.

The executives had a meeting to hear the subcommittee's report of the conference last night with the President. The men also had a meeting. Walker D. Hines, chairman of the executive committee of the Santa Fe, issued a statement to-day attacking President Wilson's plan and characterizing it as preposterous. He declared the President apparently had made up his own mind without a hearing "as to the concessions he will force the employers to give to buy off labor from its illegal course."

Considering Eight-Hour Day Railway heads probably had for their guidance information on the administration's attitude toward legislation or other governmental action looking toward recompensing them for a possible concession of the eight-hour basis day. A definite statement of this attitude, it is believed, was the object sought by a committee of three railway presidents who called on Mr. Wilson at the White House again last evening following a conference during the day between the President and Senator Newlands and Representative Adamson, chairman of the congressional committee having in charge interstate commerce legislation. Many Possible Courses Courses which might be taken by Congress affecting directly the present railway situation, it was pointed out, are these: Direct the Interstate Commerce Commission by resolution to investigate the entire subject of the relations between railroads and their employees. Pass the pending bill to increase the commission's membership from seven to nine in anticipation of additional duties to be imposed. Enact a measure compelling arbitration of future disputes similar to that pending. Establish the eight-hour day principle by legislation. Pass measures clearing the way for government ownership of railroads. The first two proposals were receiving most serious consideration, it was said.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Friendship and Co-operation Club of Railroad Men will be held to-night at Eagle's Hall, Sixth and Cumberland streets. Important business will be transacted. The president, William K. Drake, requests that every member who has the time will attend.

BULGARS DRIVE ALLIES BACK

Russians are pushing their new offensive and report the defeat of four Turkish divisions in an engagement in the Mosul region during which two Turkish regiments were surrounded and taken prisoners. The entente center has been subjected to attacks by the French since they announce that these have been easily repulsed. No forward movement is reported by the entente forces in this region, which includes the Vardar valley, up which it has been thought probable the main offensive movement would be pressed, but the entente artillery is notably active, particularly in the Lake Doiran region.

Rumania Wavering Berlin dispatches indicate that Rumania's attitude is still considered uncertain, while news from other sources gives no clue as to whether her entry into the war on the side of the entente is imminent. Activity on the Somme front in northern France seems to have slackened momentarily, although the artillery is still being vigorously employed. The Germans made a grand attack on the French in the Suez canal wood south of the river last night after a vigorous bombardment but according to to-day's bulletin met with no success.

Zeppelins Make Raid Another Zeppelin visited the English east coast last night. London asserts that the bombs dropped fell in open fields and that neither damage nor casualties have been reported.

McCORMICK COMING EAST

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, left for New York to-day. He said he was pleased with the progress of the national campaign in the Central and Western States.
