THE GLOBE

STATE FUNDS DOWN TO LOWEST POINT

Less Than a Million Dollars in the General Fund of the Commonwealth Now

Pennsylvania's general fund in the State Treasury went below the $1,000,000 mark last night at the close of July business for the first time in many years, probably not since the early seventies. The statement issued was exactly what was expected and demonstrated the condition of the funds as the result of the appropriation and tax collection systems now in vogue. It is likely that payment of school and other appropriations will be held back for many weeks as it will be thirty or forty days before the Treasury will commence to receive the State taxes upon which the Auditor General's department has been working. The August receipts were $1,817,599.70 with $15,510 transfers and the disbursements and transfers were $2,339,485.01, leaving a balance of $2,123,280.90 in all funds. Of this sum $973,446.86 is in the general fund and about half a million of this is tied up. The demands for cash total $1,500,000 so that the State is straightened for ready cash. The regular semimonthly payroll was met by Treasurer Young who had worked to get the cash together to meet it. Rushing Settlements. — Auditor General Powell has taken up the task of getting settlements on corporation taxes made up as rapidly as possible so as to ease the conditions in the State Treasury. The Auditor General's department plans to work at high speed for the next ten days and to have the settlements worked out before the present month is very far advanced. It is likely that the Pennsylvania, Reading and other big railroad systems will be taken up next week. Meets in Philadelphia. — The State Industrial Board will meet next Tuesday in Philadelphia when it will take up some of the codes. Police Hold Examinations. — An examination of recruits for fourteen vacancies in the State Police force was held to-day at the State Capitol. There were numerous applicants. Home From Tour. — L. R. Palmer, chief of the bureau of factory inspection, is home from a tour of the State during which he held conferences with district inspectors. Attending Convention. — Secretary A. B. Millar, of the Public Service Commission, left to-day for Eaglesmere where he will attend sessions of the State Electric Association. Commissioner James Alcorn is also at Eaglesmere. Senator Here. — Senator W. W. Hindman, of Clarion, was in Harrisburg for a short time to-day. Ex-member Here. — Dr. C. F. Swift, former legislator from Beaver county, was at the State Capitol. Home From Tour. — W. R. Douglas, of the Department of Agriculture, and W. R. D. Hall, of the State Highway department, returned last night from the tour of the second farm region tour. They reported great interest being taken by the farmers in the northeastern section in the proposed tour. Exhibit at Grove. — The State Highway department has received numerous compliments for its highway exhibit at the Grangers picnic. It attracted attention from county officials and township supervisors who have written for further information on the subject.

Cheap Paints Cost Too Much!

When you paint, use good paint. Cheap paints don't cost enough to be good. The materials that make good paint are as standard in value as gold. You can't buy gold dollars at 69c. You can't buy good paint at low prices.

There is so much misrepresentation in paints—so much chance to mix materials of inferior quality into so-called "good paint"—that there is just one safe way to buy paint: See that the name of a responsible manufacturer is on the can.

The Maker and We, Too, Guarantee You Complete Satisfaction in

Lucas Paints

They're made as good as paints can be made. The materials used are proved not only pure, but up to the standard, by most rigid tests. Sixty-four years' experience goes into every Lucas product—made in the largest, best equipped paint factory in the country, under the eyes of men who have been 25 to 40 years in the business. Before being put into cans, each batch of Lucas Paint is proved standard by chemists, practical painters and color experts.

Lucas Paints never vary in quality or color. They always make good—always outlast any other paint you can buy—always are the most economical in the end.

Von Kluck, Recovered, Will Take Command in East

GEN. ALEXANDER VON KLUCK

An interesting report current in Germany and brought over to America by a young American doctor who has been serving in the German Army hospitals, is that Gen. von Kluck is soon to take the field again, this time on the east front, in command of a new army.

According to the story, von Kluck, now entirely recovered from the wounds he received in the early days of the war on the west front, was to be placed between Gen. Count von Bothmer in east Galicia and Gen. von Linsingen in Volhynia.

WORLD MUST ALSO PREPARE FOR COMING OF GREAT PEACE

Return of Master Should Not Be Overlooked by People of Earth in Their Struggles for National Honor and Wealth—Simple Formulas of Love Powerful in Results.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX. Copyright, 1916, Star Company. URING Christmas season the following telegram was received from the daughter of a famous general:

"Is not spiritual and mental preparedness more important to the country than any plan of military preparedness, and is it not the duty of the American press to consider this question?" H. E. M.

That is what is the matter with the world at the present time—its lack of spiritual preparedness. Over in Europe for forty years there has been but one thought in the minds of some of the countries, and that has been preparation for war.

America is now preparing for possible war. From a letter written by a seafaring man, familiar with all the ports of the world, is taken the following:

"I was in Australia when the war broke out. At that time I said that all the world was suffering from a terrible disease, which I called armamentitis, and that war was the only remedy. That the disease was virulent and a medicine would have to be taken in large doses. We are having rather more of the medicine than I bargained for, but if we are not cured, I hope we will, at least, be the better for it.

"But when Kaiserism is dead, we still have another heartless giant to face; I mean Commercialism. Kaiserism says that the highest ideal for a nation should be power, dominion, territorial aggrandizement. The aims of Commercialism are markets; their capture and retention and wealth in the aggregate, never mind about its distribution.

"Where will it end? But still I suppose whatever is, is best." Preparation of Different Kind Made By Faithful Servants of Great Master Meantime from a little Theosophical leaflet there comes this comforting statement: Ages ago there came to the world a group of souls whose main mission in God's great plan was to work wherever workers were most needed. Through incarnation after incarnation they have been pioneers in many great movements by which humanity has benefited. Choosing not always the greatest glory or brilliant achievement where the world's applause might be won, they have instead been willing when needed to take a share in the lesser work which is often the greater in the Master's eyes.

May The Server link more closely together "the Servers" wherever in America some of those souls be born, so that all may again work together in the pioneer movement of preparing for the coming of the Great Teacher. May The Server be worthy to be His servant.

"I tell you with all the strength and conviction I can utter that we do persist after death; that people over there still take an interest in what is going on here; that they still help us, and know far more about things than we do, and are able from time to time to communicate with us."

Annie Besant's Great Formula for Spiritual Preparedness Based on Love

And here is what another great soul, Annie Besant, says of the need of spiritual preparedness; this is her formula to repeat often:

"I am a Link in the Golden Chain of Love that stretches round the world, and must keep my Link bright and strong.

"So I will try to be kind and gentle to every living thing I meet, and to protect and help all who are weaker than myself.

"And I will try to think pure and beautiful thoughts, to speak pure and beautiful words, and to do pure and beautiful actions.

"The 'New Civilization' dream of all the world's idealists, based on peace and co-operation, with Brotherhood the informing spirit, is seen by Mrs. Besant to be already appearing on the horizon. Like a mighty priestess of old, she cries to a bleeding and suffering world, 'Endure, endure, for your salvation draweth nigh; it is even at the doors! Nothing to regret and nothing to fear,' she tells us; for we are only witnessing the passing of the Old in order that the New may arise out of its ashes.
