New Fashion Features Are Presented in This Showing of Smart Serge Dresses For Fall

There are many unique notes in the new styles of serge and combination cloth and silk dresses for Fall; perhaps the most charming touch to be found is the manner in which pockets and waist or skirt are strung with beads; wool embroidery in rich coral, or gold or turkey red goes to make a very effective trimming on some of the styles, which plain, simple frocks depend for their loveliness on knife box plaiting and a broad collar of satin or broadcloth.

The new sleeves are prettier than they have been at any time within recent seasons; here and there you'll find a spiral of serge admirably used in combination with La George Crepe.

The color range of these new frocks is complete.

Prices go from ..... $12.50 to $30.00

UNCLE SAM BUTTS INTO QUARANTINE

Opens Office at Philadelphia and Issues Permits; State to Preserve Rights

According to word received here today the United States Health authorities have opened offices in Philadelphia and have organized an interstate quarantine on infantile paralysis, being chiefly for persons traveling between the States.

The State quarantine is being observed closer than ever under the personal direction of Commissioner Dixon and the Commonwealth will cooperate with the United States authorities. However, the State will insist upon its people and their rights being protected.

E. F. Funk, a farmer of Hamilton township, Franklin county, to-day filed a complaint against the crossing of the Western Maryland railroad at Commerce street, Chambersburg. It is contended that it is without a watchman and that the train movement is sometimes ten a day and that because of obstructions the view of approaching trains is limited.

The monthly meeting of the State Forestry Commission was held to-day and some additional tracts taken under advisement.

Representatives R. J. Baldwin, Delaware, and B. F. Eby, Perry, were Capitol visitors.

Wallace Lowther, of the State Department, had a dual celebration to-day. It was his birthday and also payday.

Word from Ex-Governor Pennypacker's physician to-day was that he was in a very critical condition and might not live out the day.

Chairman James F. Woodward, of the House appropriation committee, was at the Capitol for a short time to-day.

Joseph Connelly, of the Auditor General's Department, had returned from Reading where he attended the Elks' convention.

The machine gun company of the Thirtieth Infantry, which is composed of men from Scranton and Sayre is to be inspected by the United States army officials prior to muster into the federal service. The company is being formed at Mt. Gretna.

The Lebanon Steam Company to-day filed notice of an increase in steam rates to take effect October 1 and the Lancaster and Williamstown Turnpike Road Company, of Lancaster county, has given notice to the Public Service Commission of a change of rates on automobile traffic over its road commencing next month.

Ex-Senator John S. Fisher, of Indiana county, was among Capitol visitors.

The State's revenue to-day was $40,000. The pay roll was over $150,000.

Deputy Attorney General Horace W. Davis, who has been in charge of the State's legal end of Pittsburgh bank liquidations, was here to-day looking after some details. He will return to Pittsburgh to-night.

"Penrose—Boss Supreme" Declares Southern Senator

Special to Telegraph
Washington, Sept. 1.—In the debate in the Senate yesterday on the emergency revenue bill, Senator Penrose, Republican, read an editorial charging Southern Congressmen with forcing through sectional legislation. He drew a sharp reply from Senator Stone, Democrat, who said he had never seen such a motley group of discredited forces and political non-descripts as the Republican side of the Senate presented.

Pointing to the Pennsylvania Senator, Mr. Stone said: "Penrose—the boss supreme." He added that he would "not open the books" on the Senator, although he had them.

"The Senator does not believe anything he reads?" Senator Penrose replied. "I remember reading something in a magazine about the Missouri Senator and the baking powder trust."

The munitions section of the revenue bill was reached and amendments were unanimously adopted striking out the proposed taxes on cotton, lumber, rubber and certain other raw materials used in making war munitions.

S. S. CONVENTION HERE SEPT 14

60,000 Pupils in Dauphin County, Secretary's Figures Show

The 1916 convention of Dauphin County Sunday schools will be held in Reformed Salem Church, Third and Chestnut streets, on Thursday and Friday, September 14 and 15. W. G. Landes, general secretary of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association, Philadelphia, will be one of the principal speakers as will also W. D. Reel and Mrs. Maud Junkin Baldwin of the State field force.

Statistics now being compiled by J. G. Aldinger, secretary of the county association will show a total Sunday school enrollment of more than sixty thousand persons in the Dauphin county.

This year marks the one hundredth anniversary of organization in the county; the first school having been established in August, 1816, in a building which then occupied the site of what is now 13 South Market Square, the residence of Warren A. Zollinger.

Col. H. C. Demming, who has served continuously for more than a half century as a teacher or officer in the Fourth Street Church of God Sunday school, will give a retrospect of the organization and growth of Sunday school work in the county.

The committee on arrangements had planned for a parade of the primary and junior grade children as a feature of this year's convention but this has been abandoned in harmony with the order of the State Health department which prohibits the assembling of children under the age of sixteen years.

DR. FAGER WILL NOT TAKE LONG WALK

a week that he does not go to the mountains or to the country. Many times he averaged 30 and 40 miles a day. When he reached the 58th milestone, the local physician thought it would be a good thing to cover 58 miles on that day. He had little trouble in making the distance.

Every year he added one mile to his hike. One year ago he walked over the city, a distance of five miles and then tramped to Jonestown, Labanon and home, covering 61 miles. Early this year he became ill and was unable to start training for his annual walk, so he decided to give it up. His plan was to begin walking in January and increase the distance at intervals until he found he was able to cover the required mileage. Dr. Fager is now enjoying good health, and hopes to be able to resume his long hikes next year.
