

SEEKS WORD OF
TWO LOST SONS

Grieving Mother Writes Poor
Clerk Bayles For Some Information

Anybody 'round here see Will Hughes or Bill Dawson, formerly of Uniontown, Pa.? If so, just tip off William J. Bayles, clerk to the Dauphin County Poor Board.

The clerk to-day got a letter from Mrs. Abram Morgan, mother of the two men, asking for information of their whereabouts, as they have been absent for years, and they're wanted very positively at home just now—their sister, Mrs. Maude Tate, is dead.

So if you know of "Bill" Hughes or "Bill" Dawson, formerly of Uniontown, get in touch with Chief Clerk Bayles.

At Atlantic City.—Clarence Webber, clerk to the City Treasurer, has gone to Atlantic City with William Cunningham for a brief vacation.

Water Receipts Greater.—Water receipts during the first nine months of the year were $18,772.30 greater than during a similar period last year. The increase in the receipts is due, it is believed, to the fact that the lower water rates encouraged people to use more water.

Up to September 1, 1916, the receipts amounted to $130,989.28, while during the same period last year they amounted to $112,216.98.

Must Pay Alimony.—The Dauphin County Court granted a rule for counsel fees in the divorce proceeding of Wilson G. vs. Mary A. Stone.

SENATE EXPECTED TO ACCEPT STRIKE BILL

must legislate for all, from the barnstormers to the genius who portrays the human passion.

He pictured Congress legislating while the union stands up with one hand to see that the legislation is passed on time.

Senators McCumber and Brandegee, Republicans, both opposed the pending bill.

To Avert Future Trouble
Senator Huston, of Wisconsin, insisted that Congress should do something to avert the country's being confronted with a serious crisis as soon as the proposed investigating committee has made its report.

Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, opposed the bill, declaring that he would not submit to Congress being "dragged." The pending legislation he characterized as "a piece of perditional peace."

Senator Weeks said the brotherhood men had put Congress in the position of "stand and deliver." He said he believed that a majority of the trainmen do not want a strike and that if they were called it would last but a few days.

"If Congress accedes to this demand," he added, "it is an end temporarily at least, to representative government."

Senator Owen contended the controversy was not the only railroad problem confronting the country and insisted that Congress would have to undertake further legislation. He favored the pending bill because it would avert the strike and afford Congress an opportunity to consider the railroad problems in the future.

Senator Newlands offered an amendment to make it a misdemeanor for any person to interfere with the operation of trains, punishable by a fine not to exceed $100 or imprisonment not to exceed six months, or both.

This, he said, followed existing transportation of interference with transportation of the bill.

"Just as soon as the House bill, unamended, becomes a law," A. B. Garretson, spokesman for the brotherhood, retorted, "the strike order will be recalled."

This was the first official statement showing that the House bill was wholly satisfactory to the brotherhood.

From other sources came persistent reports that an arrangement might be perfected whereby the strike could be called off officially before President Wilson actually affixes his signature to the bill.

Any amendment to the House bill in the Senate would throw all the negotiations in the industrial world, and with that in mind administration leaders used every effort as the debate in the Senate progressed to insure passage of the House bill in its original form.

Heads of the four brotherhoods, anticipating favorable action, had code messages to local union officials ready, revoking the order sent broadcast early this week for a strike starting at 7 a. m. Monday. If the bill was passed, it is believed they will not wait until it is signed by President Wilson, who was at Long Branch, N. J., to receive formal notification of his nomination.

The Senate convened early today after a prolonged session last night, which ended in an agreement to vote at 6 p. m. this evening or before. Debate continued over the amendment to give the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to determine wages of Interstate railway employees.

Its opponents urged that its adoption might render the bill unsatisfactory to the brotherhoods and that consequently the strike order would be allowed to stand. They contended also that it was unnecessary as an emergency measure.

The Adamson bill provides that beginning January 1, 1917, the standard work day for employes on steam railroads more than 100 miles long engaged in interstate commerce, shall be eight hours, and that the presidential commission of three shall investigate conditions under the eight-hour basis for a period of between six and nine months; that daily wages shall not be reduced below the present amount for a longer day during the investigation, and overtime pay shall be pro-rata.

The bill was passed in the House by a vote of 229 to 56, and sent to the Senate where at the night session it was substituted for a similar measure prepared by the Interstate Commerce Committee. In both houses the measure was debated hotly.

Modifications in Embargoes
Relieve New York Situation

New York, Sept. 2.—Abnormal conditions in traffic and commerce due to the fear of a railroad strike stood stationary here to-day pending developments at Washington. Although the railroads promise that their freight embargoes will be lifted as soon as the danger of a strike is definitely ended only slight modifications have been made in the embargo now in force.

A threatened shortage of foodstuffs was materially relieved by the action of the New York Central and lifting its ban against the receipt of meats, fish and all dairy products.

Food prices, after their sensational jump on Thursday and Friday, showed more stability. This was accounted for partly by improvement in the prospects that there would be no strike and partly by the district attorney's threat to indict dealers.

FIRE DAMAGES
GENERAL STORE

Blaze in Chambers Street Early
This Morning Being Investigated

Fire, the origin of which has not been determined, almost destroyed the frame store and dwelling of Danyan Rakas, Chambers street, just above Second, early this morning.

Certain circumstances surrounding the blaze are said to be of such a nature that an investigation into the causes would be advisable and a deputy State fire marshal is now in the borough investigating.

The alarm was turned in from the box at Third and Chambers street shortly after 1:15 o'clock when smoke and flames were discovered shooting through the walls of the building. The Baldwin, Citizen, West Side and Paxtang Hook and Ladder fire companies responded.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in fighting the flames but the firemen succeeded in getting the blaze under control in a short time. While no estimate could be placed on the loss by the owner this morning, firemen say the damage will be over $1,000.

O. E. B. Malehorn, chief of the local fire department, and William Morgan, a State fire marshal, completed their investigation late this afternoon and are of the belief that the blaze was of incendiary origin.

It was discovered that the flames started in two places, in the store and in a room at the opposite end of the building, widely separated places. Rakas, the proprietor was not in town to-day.

"DON'T AT ICE CREAM UNTIL TESTS ARE MADE"

case any ice cream is manufactured and found to be contaminated, the City Health Bureau, in special session last night, gave the health officers authority to confiscate the product at once.

At the meeting of the Health Bureau last night, Dr. Raunick will probably ask to have a plan submitted to Council asking that it pass an ordinance requiring every person handling milk that is used in the city to furnish a health certificate.

That the present epidemic is due largely to infected ice cream which has been sold in the city is the conclusion reached by Dr. Raunick.

Raunick Criticizes Manufacturers
Dr. Raunick, in speaking of newspaper advertisements of some of the manufacturers concerning the purity of their supply, declared that the statements were not official and had not been authorized by the city department.

He declared that in some of the cream tests typhoid germs were found in large numbers and that he is sure that the disease is spreading from this source.

Other ice cream plants are under suspicion and will be inspected. Reports published so far only include tests made until August 29. All other tests will be issued in the September report of ice cream, cream and milk tests. That the city is being made a dumping ground for impure, contaminated cream to be used in the manufacture of ice cream is the opinion of city health officer.

Tests were made of ice cream manufactured by the Hershey Creamery Company, W. O. Cartwright, George Collins and Joe Spagnoli. The cream used was furnished by the Hershey Creamery Company. Cartwright's tests follow: First, 3,250,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter; colon bacilli (disease germs), too numerous to count; second, 4,000,000 bacteria and 30,000 colon per cubic centimeter; third, 132,000 bacteria and 20,000 colon per cubic centimeter.

George Collins—First, 2,500,000 bacteria and colon bacilli too numerous and dense to count; second, 3,000,000 bacteria and colon bacilli per cubic centimeter; third, 200,000 bacteria and 7,000 colon per cubic centimeter.

Hershey Creamery Company—First, 3,600,000 bacteria; second, 2,750,000; third, 4,600,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter; colon bacilli in each test too dense and numerous to count.

Joe Spagnoli—First, 10,500,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter; second, 1,600,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter; colon too dense and numerous to count.

The bacteria found in the samples of ice cream which were tested show the presence of typhoid germs. Many of the unsanitary methods of handling the supply. The colon bacilli are the dangerous germs.

In taking samples of raw cream before it is frozen similar results were obtained, showing that the contamination existed in many instances before the supply reached the city. Tests made of cream from Heberling Creamery, near Newville, and the supply from the Farmers Creamery Company, near Newville, the Bridgewater Creamery, near Newville, and of supplies from the Philadelphia Creamery, all showed the presence of large numbers of bacteria and colon bacilli.

Later tests made by Dr. George R. Moffitt, city bacteriologist, showed that typhoid germs existed in many of the samples.

Three new cases of typhoid fever were reported to-day, with several other suspected victims. At the Harrisburg Hospital eighteen cases probably treated and this number is expected to increase. During the next week daily cream and ice cream tests of the entire city supply will be made and tabulated and the sources of infected cream shut off to check the epidemic. After the plants that are now shown that the supply was pure and obtained from clean sources they may obtain a pure supply of cream they may reopen, according to Dr. Raunick, who said that he did not want to drive any manufacturer out of business, but was determined to protect the health of the public.

Many milk tests were made in August and some of the samples taken showed that the supply was pure and passed the requirements. Following is a list of dealers whose milk contained colon bacilli which were found in tests, together with the amount in each cubic centimeter.

E. F. Arney, 800; G. W. Attick, 800; C. F. Chapman, 200; C. E. Cooper, 1,000; C. H. Erford, 2,000; C. N. Fisher, 2,300; Tom Hoak, 500; first, 1,900 second, 200 third; R. D. Holler, 1,400; J. J. Keister, 1,400; J. S. Kramer, 500 first and second; C. D. LeVan, 500; Pennsylvania Milk Products Company, 1,400; A. V. Reese, 2,000; H. A. Ritter & Son, 13,000; C. W. Smith, 2,800.

Supplies from all other dealers, although in some instances the butter fat percentage requirement, contained no colon bacilli.

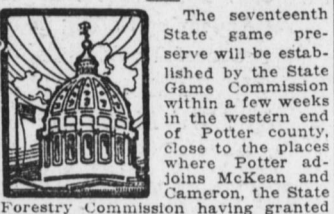

A close watch of the whole city supply from all sources will be kept at least a week by city food inspectors and health officials, and last night the Health Bureau, in special session, acted together with Dr. Raunick, with authority to use every means to check the spread of typhoid.

Dr. C. R. Phillips, county medical inspector, said this morning that manufacturers who advertised that their ice cream passed the requirements despite the fact that some tests were far below standard could probably be prosecuted for misrepresenting facts.

He declared that tests made of a supply of cream furnished by the Hershey Creamery Company were found to be infected and were not satisfactory, and that no manufacturer has the right to misrepresent facts to the public when the health of the people is at stake.

NEW PRESERVE IS THE SEVENTEENTH

Game Commission Gets the Use of 3,000 Acres of Land in Potter County

The seventeenth State game preserve will be established by the State Game Commission within a few weeks in the western end of Potter county, north of the places where Potter adjoins McKean and Cameron, the State Forestry Commission having granted the Game authority the use of the land. There are now sixteen game preserves in operation, four having been established this Spring and summer and stock raising game. The reports indicate that there will be plenty of game in their districts. The new preserve will contain approximately 3,000 acres and is land which has been used as State forest reserve. It will be surrounded with a wire and notices posted that it is closed to hunting at all times, it being the idea to allow game to propagate.

Judging from reports which have come here the officials of the State Game Commission say that deer and other game are abundant in most of the districts of the State, where they were to be found last year.

Smaller Loss This Year.—Pennsylvania farmers suffered smaller loss than for years from hog cholera according to the records of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board. There were fewer outbreaks and with exception of some cases in the Cumberland valley none of the districts affected reported many deaths. The State authorities made an effort to check sales or shipments of hogs without certificates showing conditions of the property, were the hogs were bought or assembled.

Board to Meet.—The State Workmen's Compensation Board will resume meetings for the Fall in this city on September 11. A number of hearings scheduled in the last few weeks will be held. The Board has been in vacation for the last fortnight.

Should Boil Water.—Commissioner of Health Dixon has advised the city authorities of Altoona that because of the increasing number of typhoid fever cases they should boil all water needed for drinking purposes. This is in line with the plan of the Department of Health when such outbreaks occur.

Gettysburg Man Enlists.—Paul R. Fox of Gettysburg, was among the nineteen men enlisted for the State Police yesterday. Most of the men enlisted were from northeastern counties. Ten go to Greensburg troop and seven to Butler troop.

850 Cases.—The reports on infantile paralysis to the end of September 1 showed 850 cases listed by the Department of Health. The number includes 499 from Philadelphia although some of them were a month old when reported.

Dr. Foster Here.—Dr. M. P. Foster, of the Federal health office, spent part of yesterday here in consultation with Commissioner of Health Dixon regarding the Federal quarantine at Philadelphia because of infantile paralysis. No plans are determined upon. The State authorities will keep right on as they have been doing.

No Decision Reached.—After having concluded the hearing on the application of the State Insurance Fund, and Samuel W. McCulloch, deputy Insurance Commissioner, the executive committee of the State Grange adjourned last night. The executive committee members before launching an insurance company along mutual lines for insurance of farmers and employes are about to open a hearing.

Sanders Coming East.—Prof. J. G. Sanders, the new State Zoologist, is on his way East by automobile from Wisconsin. It is expected that he will be here about September 10.

Hearings on Tuesday.—The charter applications for the Halifax, Halifax Township and Upper Paxton Township Light, Heat and Power Companies will be heard by the Public Service Commission on Tuesday. There will be no session on Monday.

Capitol Closed.—The State Capitol will be closed to-day until Tuesday, Monday being a legal holiday. Many of the officials and clerks left yesterday to spend the week-end at their homes or to take vacations.

Ordinance on Way.—The ordinance for the Third Field Artillery, consisting of three-inch guns, is on its way to Mt. Gretna, according to what has been learned here. The recruitment of the organization is going ahead, some of the batteries being a few men short.

Officials at Fair.—The State Department of Agriculture was represented at the Philadelphia agricultural fair at Byberry. The farmers of the State's most populous county made some fine exhibits of produce raised in sight of the fair.

Agent Arrested.—The State Insurance Department yesterday caused the arrest in Philadelphia of Lawrence J. Ellenberger on a charge of representing the latter formerly prefect of Lancaster as an insurance agent without authority.

Contract Approved.—The contract for the street lighting of the city of Lancaster has been approved by the Public Service Commission.

Enthusiasm of Factory
Workers Means Added
Quality For Car

Enthusiasm and co-operation of factory employes is a great measure responsible for the popularity of the new Paige Fairfield according to E. L. Cowden, 108 Market street, local distributor for the Paige.

"Among the many compliments extolled by the new Paige Fairfield," says Mr. Cowden, "none has been warmer or more emphatic than the comment on the beauty of the car, its general appearance, its grace of line and its excellence of finish and detail—particularly the Albert L. Allen, assistant manager of the State Insurance Fund, and Samuel W. McCulloch, deputy Insurance Commissioner, the executive committee of the State Grange adjourned last night. The executive committee members before launching an insurance company along mutual lines for insurance of farmers and employes are about to open a hearing."

"In this connection, a very interesting and significant discovery has been made. The fact that never before has a car of the new Paige Fairfield been made by the men in the factory—the boys who build and finish and put on the final touches to the car. It is to the enthusiasm of these men that we attribute much of the success in turning out a car of such an exceptionally beautiful and well made."

"When the factory workers believe in and are enthusiastic over the product you are pretty sure to secure several degrees of additional value in the product."

"This is especially true in such factories as the Paige where the production is not a huge lot that each car is in a sense a handmade product. When the product is stamped out by machinery, machine like system and the time clock, no such expression of care and appreciation on the part of the individual workman is possible."

POST OFFICE CLOSED
On Labor Day the main Post Office and Hill and Maclay stations will be closed from 10 a. m. to 12 p. m. Clerks will make their 7:35 a. m. delivery and collection, and the 5:40, 7:30 and 10:30 p. m. collections.

RUMANIAN DRIVE

Vienna announces the abandonment of Hermannstadt, one of the most important towns of Transylvania, fifteen miles from the border, and of a town north of Hermannstadt.

The Austrian communication indicates that the new offensive of the Russians in Bukowina and eastern Galicia was inaugurated over a wide front. In one sector alone north of the Dniester river the Russians advanced along a line of fifteen miles. Most of their assaults failed, Vienna announces. It was in this fighting that the newly formed Greek Committee of National Defense would join the entente powers while awaiting events. The Petrograd communication, "look more than 15,000 prisoners."

The Bulgarians renewed their attacks last night along the western end of the Macedonian front. The French war office asserts they were repulsed by the Serbians.

MAXWELL SHOPS
BREAK RECORD

Automobile Company Turns
Out 532 Cars For Shipment on Banner Day

B. F. Barker, of the Miller Auto Co., local distributors for Maxwell cars, received word that the Maxwell Motor Company, Inc., broke all its records for production, when 532 cars were turned out of its big Detroit plant on Saturday, August 26th. While this is the biggest day the company ever experienced in its history, it exceeded the day previous by only a slight margin. On Friday last and for the last month a year ago the average was only 200 cars a day.

A great increase in the demand for Maxwell cars followed the generous reduction in prices on the touring car and roadster that became effective July 1st last and that the factories are able to meet the demand is due to the fact that increased manufacturing facilities have recently been installed.

All Maxwell cars are assembled in the plant at Detroit, while most of the parts are manufactured in the company's factories at Dayton, Ohio, and Newcastile, Indiana. The factories at Dayton and Newcastile are now supplying the Detroit plant with 400 complete units every day.

The recent addition of a new progressive assembly track and a new body assembly track has enabled the Detroit factory to turn out cars at an increased speed. There are now two progressive assembly tracks and two body tracks where before there was only one of each.

About 120,000 cars will be turned out of the Maxwell factories this year. Approximately 60,000 cars were manufactured last year and the increased production is ample evidence of the growing popularity of the Maxwell product.

Most of the cars turned out in the two banner production days were touring cars and roadsters, although a number of the enclosed types put out by the Maxwell was included in the allotment.

MAKES APPEAL TO DRIVE
OPPRESSOR FROM GREECE

[By Associated Press]

Paris, Sept. 2.—The Committee of National Defense organized in Macedonia is composed of Lieutenant Colonel Zimbarkakis, Lieutenant Colonel Mexarakas and M. Argyropoulos, the latter formerly prefect of Saloniki, says a Havas dispatch from Saloniki dated yesterday. The appeal issued by this committee to the people and the army urges them to "drive the oppressor from Greek soil."

The recruiting of volunteers was urged and large meetings are being organized.

Popular sentiment in Greece has been profoundly stirred by the abandonment without combat of the Greek forts in eastern Macedonia and has been raised to the highest pitch by Rumania's entry into the war, says the dispatch.

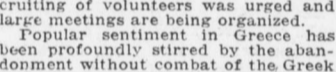

FIGHTERS ARE FIT
AFTER THEIR WORKOUTS TO-DAY

Freddie and Charley White will rest until they meet next Monday afternoon in their twenty-round battle for the lightweight championship of the world. On Monday morning, at 9 o'clock, they will weigh in and neither expects to move the beam which will be set at 135 pounds. The principals, their managers and trainers and the critics are a unit as to the perfect condition of the rival fighters. The local betting has been even or short odds in favor of the champion.
